TRADITION LIVES ON

Before every Rutgers home game, the players and coaches take the SCARLET WALK on their way to the locker room.
Fans line the walkway just to catch a glimpse of the Scarlet Knights as they touch the base of the statue commemorating the first college football game and honoring Rutgers as the BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL.

Another tradition reborn during the Greg Schiano era has been the playing of the Rutgers Alma Mater following all football contests.

"The Scarlet Walk and the playing of the alma mater
give fans the opportunity to support the Rutgers Football program - sharing in the success of the present, while remembering and honoring our history.

This is where college football began. Right here.
It's important to keep that tradition alive."

- Head Coach Greg Schiano

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

RUTGERS TODAY

Since arriving at Rutgers in December, 2000, head coach Greg Schiano has rebuilt the Rutgers program from the ground up.

The tireless efforts of the Rutgers coaching staff have made Rutgers one of the top-ranked teams in the nation, and one of the great destinations for the best players in the country.

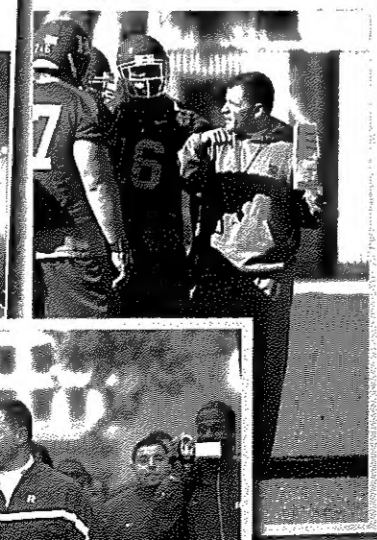

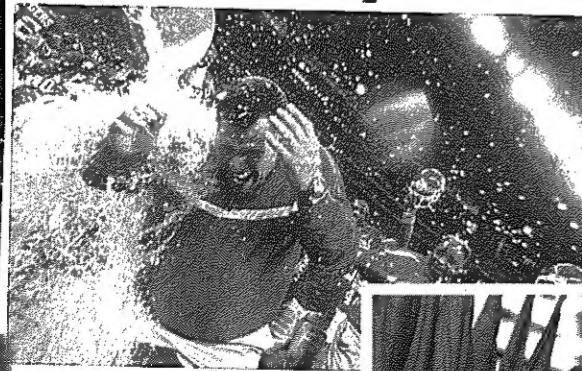

"Ten-win seasons, bowl wins: this is what Rutgers is supposed to be."
(Schiano's motto)

Scarlet pride

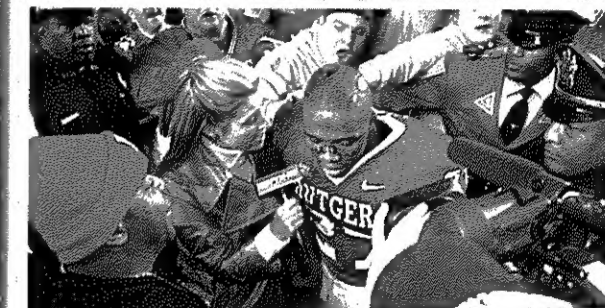

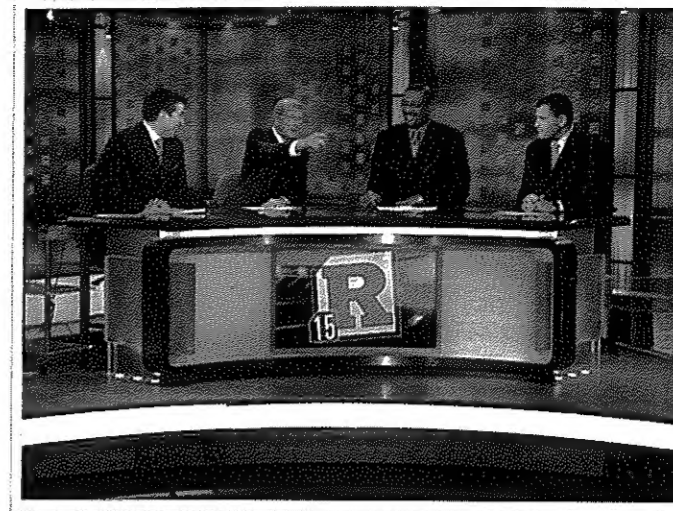

Fans force street closure

At 11:30 p.m. New Brunswick police closed one-lane westbound on Easton Avenue at the train station all the way out of the city to make way for foot traffic. A worker at Paulie's Pizza, who didn't want to give her name, said it was a party on Easton Avenue where her shop is. "The road is shut down. Everybody is out, there's parties. It's very crowded," she said. "It's fun. It's great."

NATIONAL BOWLS

As a member of the BIG EAST Football Conference, Rutgers has direct access to the Bowl Championship Series and the National Championship game.

The BIG EAST is one of six major conferences whose champion is guaranteed a spot in the BCS with a chance to play for the National Championship every year.

The BCS consists of the Rose Bowl, Allstate Sugar Bowl, FedEx Orange Bowl, Tostitos Fiesta Bowl and the BCS National Championship game.

In addition to the BCS bowl bid, Rutgers has an opportunity each season to play in top-level bowls in some of the best locations in North America!

THE BIG EAST ON THE AIRWAVES

Rutgers has helped lead the resurgence of BIG EAST Football, and combined with the best basketball league in the nation, the BIG EAST reaches the entire east coast and over twenty percent of the nation's television households every week.

Rutgers' victory over Louisville on Nov. 9 was a huge ratings success for ESPN. The Scarlet Knights' last-second win averaged an 8.1 rating in New York, according to Nielsen. It marked the highest-rated college sporting event in the New York market since ESPN began rating college sporting events in 2000.

The 28-25 Rutgers victory was the fifth-highest-rated sporting event on basic cable in New York, last year. The Rutgers-Louisville game drew ESPN's second biggest audience ever for a Thursday night game.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

TEXAS BOWL

Rutgers' most memorable season ended with another milestone victory.

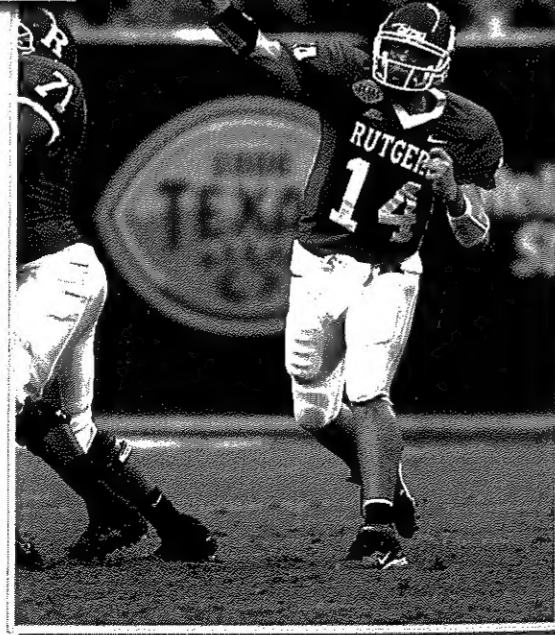

Ray Rice rushed for 170 yards and a touchdown and Tim Brown caught two TD passes, and the 16th-ranked Scarlet Knights won a bowl game for the first time, beating Kansas State 37-10 in the Texas Bowl.

Linebacker Quintero Frierson returned an interception 27 yards for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage of the second half and Rutgers (11-2) cruised from there, earning an 11th victory for the second time in the school's 137 seasons.

Rice was named the game's Most Valuable Player after topping 100 yards for the 10th time in 2006 and the 15th time in 25 career games. The 5-foot-9, 195-pound sophomore went over 150 yards for the fifth time in 2006.

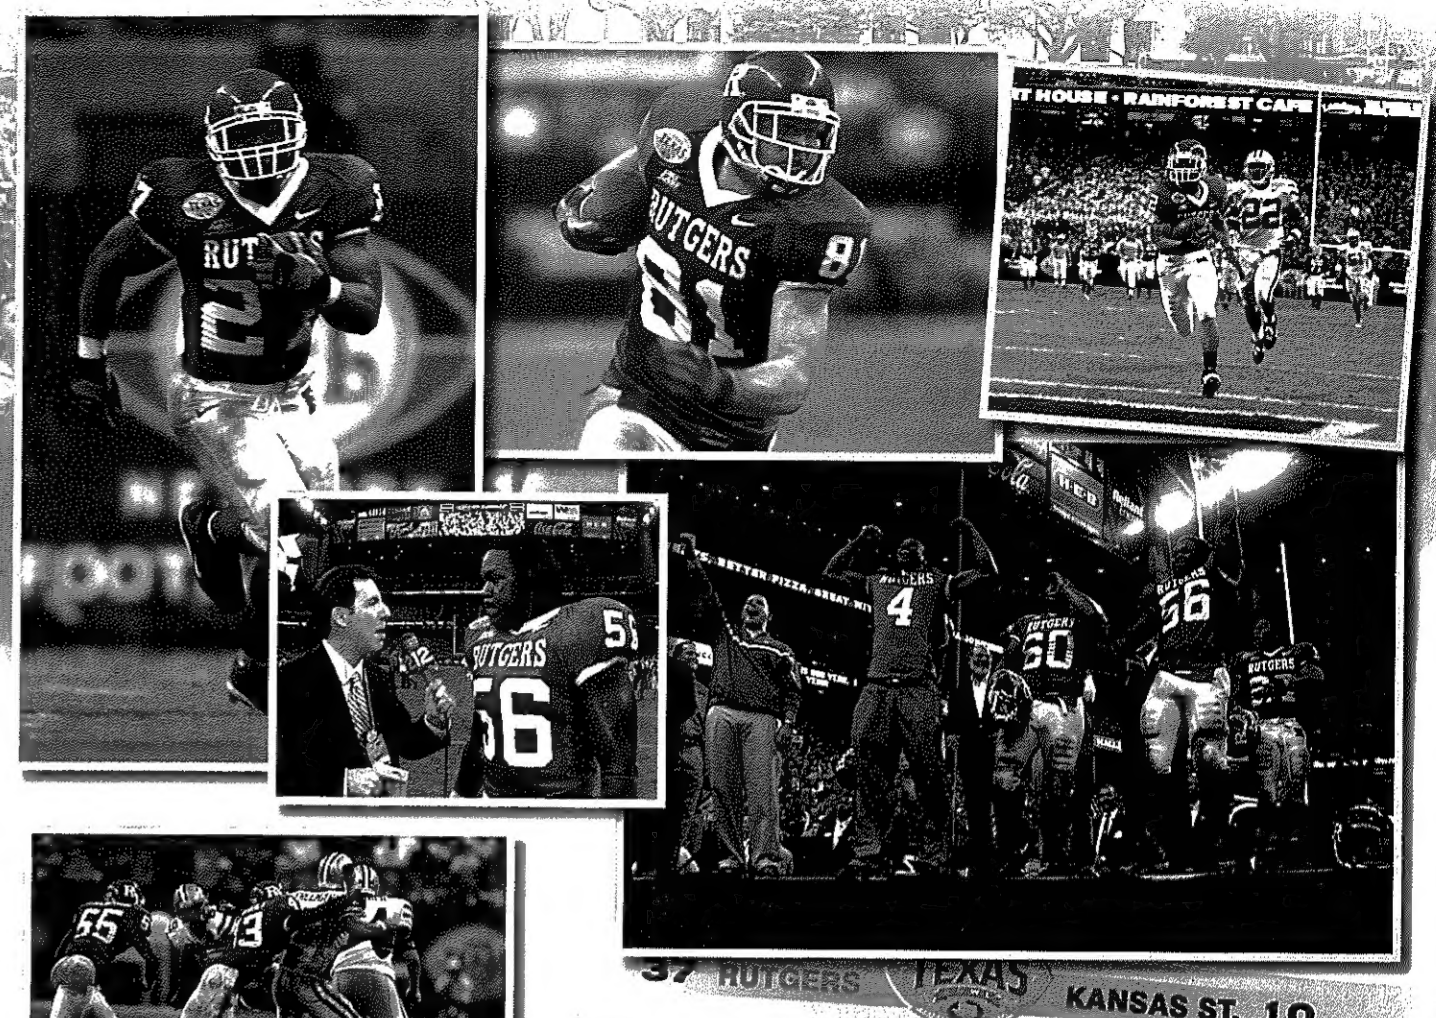

The Scarlet Knights' seventh-ranked defense manhandled Kansas State's offense, holding the Wildcats to 160 total yards and six first downs. Freshman quarterback Josh Freeman finished 10-for-21 for 124 yards with two interceptions.

Mike Teel finished 16-for-28 for 268 yards without an interception. Brown had four catches for 101 yards and Clark Harris recorded seven catches for 120 yards.

TEAM TRAVEL

THE RUTGERS FOOTBALL TEAM TRAVELS IN A FIRST-CLASS MANNER DURING ITS SEASON.

The road trips start with an escort by the New Jersey State Police to Newark-Liberty International Airport, where the team boards a Continental Airlines charter plane and flies to its destination. Once there, the team is again escorted to its hotel by the state police and then to the visiting stadium on game day. Following the game, the team is escorted to the airport and flies via charter back to Newark, where it is again greeted by the New Jersey State Police for a safe return to campus.

For home games, the Rutgers football team spends Friday night at its "home away from home," the beautiful Hyatt Regency New Brunswick hotel, located right off the Rutgers campus. Players can focus on the game more easily away from the campus setting, while also enjoying first-class hotel accommodations.

Each year Rutgers Football hosts Pro Day on the FieldTurf inside the Bubble, showcasing the Scarlet Knights' senior class to professional scouts and representatives from every NFL team. Rutgers opens its doors to the National Football League in an effort to give each Scarlet Knight a chance to increase his value on the field for the upcoming NFL season. This season's pro day helped seven Scarlet Knights earn contracts with NFL franchises.

The structured day includes numerous drills to test speed, agility, quickness, strength and ball control. The day is designed to facilitate the evaluation processes of the professional scouts, while providing a familiar environment for the Scarlet Knights during rigorous testing.

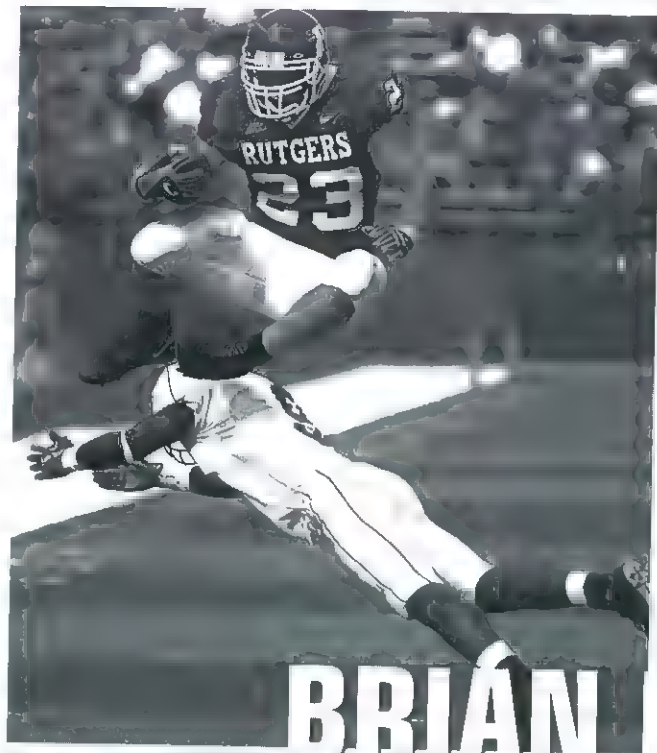

This season, three Scarlet Knights - Brian Leonard, Cameron Stephenson and Clark Harris - were invited to the NFL Combine in Indianapolis. All three players were drafted in the 2007 NFL Draft.

In addition to Rutgers Pro Day, many players have represented Rutgers in post-season All-Star Bowl Games and played in front of professional scouts around the nation.

2007 SEASON PREVIEW

With consecutive bowl appearances under its belt, the Rutgers football team looks to build on the success of the past two seasons as the Scarlet Knights head into 2007 as one of the nation's most exciting teams.

The start of a new season begins to take shape August 2 when the team reports for the opening of fall camp. The Scarlet Knights, fresh off an 11-2 season in 2006 in which they finished 12th in the final collegiate rankings, return to the gridiron with a unique blend of talent, ranging from the stellar rising senior class to a host of gifted underclassmen.

Gone from last season's team are several key figures - All-American fullback Brian Leonard, All-BIG EAST tight end Clark Harris and All-BIG EAST Second Team defensive tackle Ramel Meekins to name just a few.

In all, Rutgers must replace 10 starters and 21 letterwinners from last season's squad that was ranked for the final 12 weeks of the season. The Scarlet Knights tied a single-season school record with 11 wins, including a 5-2 mark in the ultra-competitive BIG EAST, a conference that finished with three teams in the top 12 in the final rankings.

"We must replace proven leaders on our team and through spring ball and summer training, we hopefully will develop strong leadership for our 2007 football team," head coach Greg Schiano said.

Schiano, the 2006 National Coach of the Year by six different outlets and the BIG EAST Coach of the Year, welcomes the challenge of heightened expectations to a program that features the return of three All-Americans; including the nation's second-leading rusher in junior tailback Ray Rice and First-Team All-American defensive tackle senior Eric Foster. Rutgers returns 14 starters and 36 letterwinners from last season's record-setting squad.

A productive spring season allowed several underclassmen to get extended reps with several starters held out due to off-season surgery. With a full compliment of the roster intact and the welcomed addition of perhaps the best recruiting class in school history, optimism is running high throughout a program that has continued to reach new heights under Schiano.

OFFENSE

The spring showed what could be in store for the Scarlet Knights in 2007 - an explosive offense with a power run game and a much-improved passing offense with the steady play of junior quarterback Mike Teel and the emergence of several big-play wide receivers, including the spring's top offensive player as voted on by the coaching staff in sophomore game breaker Kenny Britt.

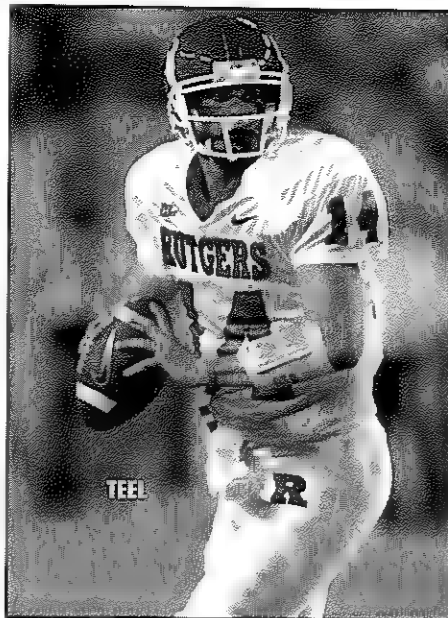

RETURNING QUARTERBACKS

|----|--------------------|-----|-----|------|
| 4 | Chris Paul-Etienne | 6-3 | 200 | Fr.* |
| 11 | Domenic Natale | 6-2 | 210 | So.* |
| 14 | Mike Teel | 6-4 | 220 | Jr.* |
| 15 | Jabu Lovelace | 6-2 | 205 | So.* |
| 16 | Andrew DePaola | 6-2 | 200 | So.* |

Teel remains the only Scarlet Knight signal caller with significant game experience as he returns for his third season "On the Banks" and second as a starter. In 2006, Teel started all 13 games, averaging 164.2 yards a game - fourth in the conference - and totaling 2,135 yards for the season. He threw for 12 touchdowns and 164 completions on 296 attempts last year as a sophomore. The Jersey native ended the season on a strong note - going 45-of-69 for 692 yards with five touchdowns and no interceptions over the team's final three games. Teel averaged 230.7 yards per game, while registering a 173.37 pass efficiency rating and completing 65.2 percent of his passes. For his career in the prep ranks and at Rutgers, Teel is 35-3 as a starting quarterback.

Sophomore quarterback Jabu Lovelace appeared in three games in a reserve role as a redshirt freshman in 2006. Lovelace, along with redshirt freshman Chris Paul-Etienne and sophomore Andrew DePaola will compete with Teel at the quarterback position for playing time. Michigan State transfer Domenic Natale will miss some time due to off-season elbow surgery.

"I think we have a very good group of quarterbacks," stated Schiano. "It's always nice to have your starter returning, but there will be intense competition at the position."

RETURNING RUNNING BACKS

| | | | | |
|----|-----------------|------|-----|------|
| 8 | Kordell Young | 5-9 | 185 | So. |
| 19 | Jack Corcoran | 6-1 | 230 | So. |

| 40 | John Nicole | 5-10 | 200 | Jr.* |
| 48 | Jonathan Castro | 5-11 | 225 | Fr.* |

Bursting onto the scene in his sophomore season, Rice moved into third place in Rutgers history with 2,914 career rushing yards, and finished second in the nation with a BIG EAST and Rutgers single-season record of 1,794 yards in 2006. He now needs just 200 yards to tie Terrell Willis as the Scarlet Knights' all-time rushing leader.

Rice finished seventh in the voting for the 2006 Heisman Trophy. The New York native was named MVP of the Texas Bowl after running for 170 yards on 24 carries, scoring one touchdown. In 25 career games, Rice has amassed 25 touchdowns to his name and will look to continue the success into the 2007 season as a junior.

Sophomore tailback Kordell Young returns as Rice's backup and is a game-changing player in his own right. An exceptionally quick player with great speed, Young proved to be a threat both in the backfield and in the passing game in 2006 and provides Rutgers with a great change of pace.

True freshman Mason Robinson, New Jersey's fastest player in the 100-meter dash in the spring, adds to the mix to give RU one of the top group of tailbacks in the nation.

Sophomore Jack Corcoran looks to have the inside track at fullback. A bruising blocker and capable runner, Corcoran showed promise as a true freshman behind Leonard. In addition, senior Jean Beljour and true freshman Jourdan Brooks provide excellent depth at the position.

"With our group of backs, we have some pretty good depth at the position heading into the fall," Schiano added. "Running back is one of those positions that does take a physical toll on the players."

2007 SEASON PREVIEW

In addition, Chris Rudanovic and Jeff Minemyer should be in contention for playing time at tight end. Rudanovic sat out last season after transferring from Indiana, while Minemyer redshirted last season.

"The tight end position will be one to watch this fall," said Schiano. "We will let the play unfold and whoever is playing the best come opening game will be starting and we will just work back from there."

RETURNING OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

| | | | | |
|----|-----------------|-----|-----|------|
| 61 | Ryan Blaszczyk | 6-4 | 285 | So.* |
| 62 | Marlon Romulus | 6-3 | 285 | Fr.* |
| 64 | Dan Mazan | 6-3 | 290 | Sr.* |
| 67 | Corey Hymen | 6-4 | 290 | Jr.* |
| 70 | Mike Gilmartin | 6-5 | 290 | Jr.* |
| 71 | Jeremy Zuttah | 6-4 | 295 | Sr. |
| 72 | Mike Fladell | 6-8 | 320 | Sr.* |
| 74 | Howard Barbieri | 6-5 | 290 | Fr.* |
| 76 | Mo Lange | 6-7 | 315 | Fr.* |
| 77 | Pedro Sosa | 6-5 | 290 | Sr.* |
| 78 | Kevin Haslam | 6-7 | 280 | So.* |

Rutgers had arguably the best offensive line in the nation in 2006 after the unit combined to allow just eight sacks the entire season, the fewest in the nation. In addition, the Scarlet Knights averaged over 180 yards rushing per game, 15th in the nation, led by Rice's 1,794 rushing yards.

The Scarlet Knights return three starters; including two All-BIG EAST performers in senior left tackle Pedro Sosa and senior right tackle Jeremy Zuttah. Senior Mike Fladell returns at left guard after a successful first season as a starter in 2006. The starting five offensive line remained the same in all 13 games last season, but the Scarlet Knights must look to replace center Darnell Stapleton and right guard Cameron Stephenson, both of whom are with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Sophomore Ryan Blaszczyk worked with the first-team offense in the spring at center and showed the coaching staff he has the ability to man the position. Redshirt freshman Marlon Romulus enters preseason camp as the backup at center.

Right guard is one position that could be up in the air entering fall camp, with several players competing for the starting assignment. Sophomore Kevin Haslam begins fall camp atop the depth chart with redshirt freshman Howard Barbieri listed second at the position. One player to keep an eye on is true freshman Anthony Davis. The Parade All-American is one of the most coveted offensive line recruits in the nation and should be in heated competition at the position.

"I don't anticipate naming the starters at center and right guard until well into fall preseason camp with the intense competition at the positions."

RETURNING WIDE RECEIVERS

| | | | | |
|----|------------------|------|-----|------|
| 2 | Tim Brown | 5-8 | 160 | So. |
| 5 | Dennis Campbell | 5-9 | 180 | So.* |
| 7 | Tiquan Underwood | 6-2 | 180 | Jr. |
| 9 | Marcus Daniels | 6-2 | 200 | Sr.* |
| 18 | Julian Hayes | 6-1 | 205 | Fr.* |
| 80 | Keith Taylor | 6-4 | 190 | Jr.* |
| 81 | Ryan Glueckert | 5-10 | 175 | Fr.* |
| 83 | James Townsend | 6-1 | 190 | Sr.* |
| 88 | Kenny Britt | 6-4 | 205 | So. |

The wide receiving corps provide an exciting mix of veterans and underclassmen, including the return of the two starting wide outs from the Texas Bowl in sophomores Kenny Britt and Tim Brown. Britt showed flashes of brilliance in 2006 in the second half of the season and became the No. 1 target of Teel at wide receiver. Britt ended his true freshman campaign with 29 receptions for 440 yards and two touchdowns.

Brown, perhaps the fastest player on the team and to ever wear a Rutgers uniform, burst onto the scene in the final two games of 2006 with seven receptions and three touchdowns against West Virginia and Kansas State.

Junior Tiquan Underwood missed the Texas Bowl with a leg injury after a strong sophomore season. After Shawn Tucker went down with a broken ankle for the season in September, Underwood assumed the No. 1 spot at wide receiver for the remainder of the year and caught 23 passes for 290 yards and a team-best four touchdowns.

One of the deepest positions on the team, junior Dennis Campbell and senior James Townsend provide excellent depth while senior Marcus Daniels and Keith Taylor return to the field after missing 2006 due to injury and redshirt freshman Julian Hayes showed tremendous promise on the scout team last fall.

"We have some good depth at wide receiver," added Schiano. "There will be great competition, which is key."

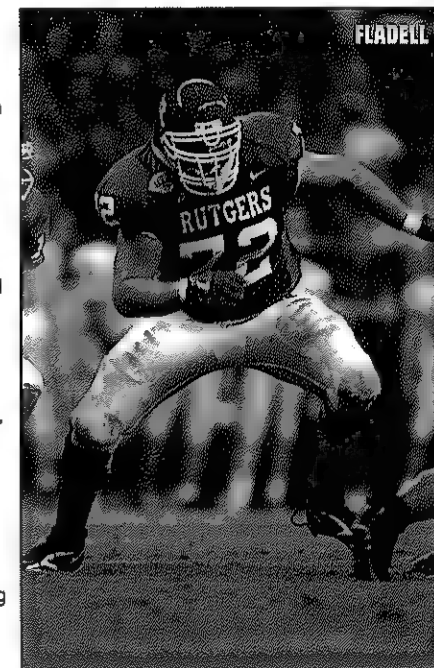

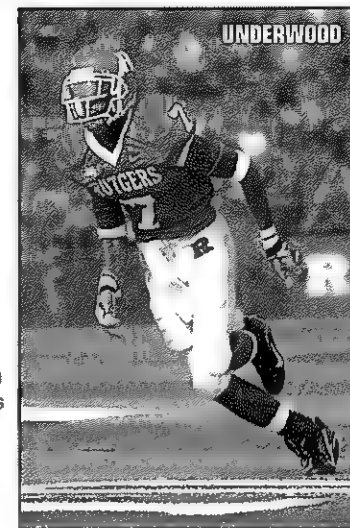

RETURNING TIGHT ENDS

| | | | | |
|----|-----------------|-----|-----|------|
| 3 | Shamar Graves | 6-3 | 230 | Fr.* |
| 46 | Tom Lang | 6-3 | 215 | Fr.* |
| 82 | Jeff Minemyer | 6-7 | 260 | Fr.* |
| 85 | Chris Rudanovic | 6-5 | 260 | Sr.* |
| 86 | Craig McGovern | 6-3 | 250 | Jr.* |
| 89 | Kevin Brock | 6-5 | 250 | Jr.* |

Tight end is one position left with openings this fall after the loss of three-time All-BIG EAST performer Clark Harris and Sam Johnson to graduation. The lone player on the roster with game experience at tight end is junior Kevin Brock. Last year as the No. 3 tight end, Brock played in all 13 games but did not record a reception.

Shamar Graves made the move from wide receiver to tight end in the spring and showed plenty of promise at the position.

Michigan State transfer Craig McGovern returns to the field after sitting out last season due to NCAA transfer regulations.

Finishing atop the BIG EAST in three categories in 2006, the Scarlet Knights emerged as the conference's most stingy defensive unit as they held teams to the fewest passing yards (151) and total yards (252) per game last season. Rutgers returns six starters from last season's dominant defense in 2007.

Returning for his senior season "On the Banks." First Team All-American defensive tackle Eric Foster will look to follow up a year in which he played in all 13 games and picked up 51 tackles to go along with his six sacks.

The emotional leader of the team and the lone captain returning to the squad, Foster should spearhead the defensive attack this fall.

Junior defensive end Jamaal Westerman made the most of his first year as a starter in 2006, leading the team in sacks (8.0) and tackles-for-loss (13.5) en route to Second Team BIG EAST honors.

Sophomore defensive end George Johnson earned increased playing time as the season progressed last year and should be one of several players to watch this fall. The rangy defensive end has all the physical attributes to become a force for the Scarlet Knights.

The loss of Meekins and Joe Giacobbe at defensive tackle will be a tall task to replace for RU.

One player who took the advantage of increased playing time in the spring was defensive tackle Pete Tverdov, who earned the team's most improved defensive player award by the coaching staff at the conclusion of spring drills.

"We have to get some young guys ready to play," stated Schiano. "Pete Tverdov is now ready and poised to become a full-time player. We have a lot of young guys who we will work into the mix, while Cherry Lewis and Gary Watts really need to come on now. I think we have a good mix of younger guys and older guys who will get the chance to play."

RETURNING LINEBACKERS

| | | | | |
|----|-----------------|------|-----|------|
| 17 | Damaso Munoz | 6-0 | 210 | So.* |
| 30 | Edmond Laryea | 6-1 | 215 | So. |
| 33 | Chris Quaye | 6-0 | 225 | Jr. |
| 34 | Kevin Malast | 6-2 | 230 | Jr. |
| 41 | Patrick Nemorin | 6-3 | 210 | Fr.* |
| 44 | Ryan D'Imperio | 6-3 | 235 | So. |

| 54 | Brian Tracey | 5-10 | 215 | Jr. |
| 58 | Nate Harris | 6-2 | 225 | Jr.* |
| 59 | Gaudin DeSedas | 6-2 | 220 | Sr.* |

At linebacker, Rutgers must replace two starters in Second Team BIG EAST selection Devraun Thompson at middle linebacker and Quintero Frierson at outside linebacker.

Former walk-on Brandon Renkart returns as the leader of the linebackers after a tremendous first-year as a starter at the position in 2006. Renkart totaled 54 tackles, 11.5 for loss and recovered three fumbles from his outside linebacker position last season.

The Scarlet Knights have a group of young talented linebackers ready to compete for two of the vacant spots.

Sophomores Ryan D'Imperio, Blair Bines and Edmond Laryea all played as true freshmen in 2006 and will have the opportunity for increased playing time. Juniors Kevin Malast and Chris Quaye along with sophomore Damaso Munoz are three others to watch at the position, along with mid-semester addition Antonio Lowery.

D'Imperio showed tremendous promise in the spring before a broken leg forced a premature end to spring drills for the South Jersey native. RU signed just one linebacker in its 2007 Recruiting Class, but Manny Abreu has the credentials to become a force for the Scarlet Knights. One of the nation's most sought after recruits, Abreu has all of the physical tools to become a big-time linebacker for Schiano's defense.

"Other than Renkart, we don't have very many experienced players. Kevin Malast has played some, which I think will give him a one-up on the rest of the field, but it will just be open competition, just like the tight end position."

RETURNING DEFENSIVE BACKS

| 36 | Courtney Greene | 6-2 | 210 | Jr. |
| 42 | Marc Orosz | 5-10 | 185 | Jr.* |
| 43 | Ron Girault | 5-11 | 200 | Sr. |

The best safety tandem in the BIG EAST and one of the top units in the nation returns in ALL-BIG EAST selections Courtney Greene and Ron Girault. Greene, a junior free safety from New Rochelle, N.Y., has started since arriving on campus and is a candidate for the Jim Thorpe Award in 2007. Last season, Greene was second on the squad in tackles (82) and led the team with four interceptions.

Girault, a senior starter at strong safety, was fourth on the squad with 69 tackles last year and second on the club with three interceptions. The two players enter their third year as the starting safeties in 2007 and should provide the backbone of the Scarlet Knight defense.

Junior Jason McCourty returns as one of the team's starting cornerbacks. The New York native played well in his first season as a starter, recording 45 tackles. His twin brother Devin proved to be a valuable member of the secondary in 2006 as a reserve cornerback/safety with 38 tackles and a pair of interceptions.

Sophomore Leslie Jackman and junior Dimitri Linton should also be in the mix at the vacant cornerback spot due to the loss of Derrick Roberson, Manny Collins and Joe Porter to graduation for the Scarlet Knights. Linton made a smooth transition from running back to cornerback in the spring and showed the coaching staff he has the potential to become a solid cornerback.

At safety, junior Glen Lee and sophomore Zaire Kitchen are two promising players who add tremendous depth to the position. Kitchen showed why he is one of the team's best hitters on special teams as a true freshman with several big hits.

"I think the secondary was a much-improved group last year and we have a large portion of it back. We will miss Manny, Derrick and Joe, so we will need to build some depth at the cornerback position."

SPECIAL TEAMS

Though Rutgers will miss the services of All-BIG EAST punter Joe Radigan, the Scarlet Knights welcome back one of the nation's elite place-kickers in senior Jeremy Ito.

RETURNING SPECIALISTS

| | | | | |
|----|---------------|------|-----|------|
| 1 | Jeremy Ito | 5-11 | 190 | Sr. |
| 11 | Matt Voliva | 5-11 | 190 | So.* |
| 13 | Kyle Cinzio | 6-3 | 200 | Fr.* |
| 58 | Jeremy Branch | 6-0 | 220 | Jr.* |

Ito converted on 22-of-29 field goals in 2006, his longest a 53-yarder that proved to be the game-winner at USF. He scored 107 points last season to move into first place in school history in career scoring with 280 points. Ito proved to be a reliable kicker, especially from long distance, after going 2-for-3 on attempts longer than 50 yards.

True freshman San San Te joins the team in the fall as one of the most decorated prep kickers in the nation. He provides excellent depth to the position.

The Scarlet Knights lose solid return man Willie Foster to graduation - after a season in which he returned 14 punts for 127 yards and 18 kicks for 370 yards. RU will look to several players to fill the void as James Townsend, Kordell Young and Tim Brown all have game-changing abilities to return kicks.

At punter, Matt Voliva and Kyle Cinzio will compete for the job along with junior college transfer Teddy Dellaganna.

"We have Matt and Kyle who competed at punter in the spring and we signed Teddy who will join the team in preseason camp and add to the competition at punter," said Schiano. "Obviously with Jeremy returning, we have one of the top kickers in the nation, which is a great asset."

One unknown heading into fall camp will be the ability of the 2007 Recruiting Class to make its way onto the field. Rutgers played 10 true freshmen in 2006 and Schiano has always played the best players - regardless of experience - when the season begins. With the exciting mix of talented and experienced upperclassmen and the tantalizing ability of the newcomers, the 2007 Rutgers football team has all of the ingredients in place for a banner 2007 campaign. With eight home games, including the first five at Rutgers Stadium, excitement and anticipation for the season are at an all-time high "On the Banks."

WELCOME BACK

The Scarlet Knights welcome the return of 14 starters and 36 letterwinners this fall. There were key losses in the departure of All-American fullback Brian Leonard, All-BIG EAST tight end Clark Harris, Rimington Award finalist Darnell Stapleton at center and Second Team BIG EAST selections on defense in linebacker Devraun Thompson and defensive tackle Ramel Meekins, but the majority of the squad's playmakers return in 2007.

Rutgers returns seven starters on offense, highlighted by 2006 Second Team All-American running back Ray Rice. The junior from New Rochelle, N.Y. established a BIG EAST record with 1,794 rushing yards last season. In addition, three starters return on the offensive line, both starting wide receivers and junior quarterback Mike Teel.

Defensively, senior defensive tackle Eric Foster - one of the top players in the nation - returns as the team's emotional leader. The Homestead, Fla., product is one of six returning starters from a Scarlet Knight defense that finished ranked in the top 10 nationally in six categories a year ago.

Despite the loss of All-BIG EAST punter Joe Radigan and return specialist Willie Foster, the special teams unit returns senior All-America candidate Jeremy Ito. The Loma Linda, Calif., native tied for second in the nation last season with 1.69 field goals per game and was a semifinalist for the Lou Groza Award.

GREG SCHIANO

HEAD COACH

Entering his seventh season as head coach of the Rutgers football program, Greg Schiano has created what he started out to accomplish - build one of the top programs in the nation on a rock solid foundation - both on the field and in the classroom.

Still, the ultimate goal remains the same for Schiano since the day he accepted the position on Dec. 1, 2000 - to win the National Championship.

The Scarlet Knights continue to work towards their ultimate goal after a sensational 2006 campaign. Rutgers ended the season with a ranking of #12 in the national polls. After an 11-2 campaign last season, the success Rutgers achieved on the field was something Schiano envisioned from the first day he became the leader of the Scarlet Knights. At his introductory press conference, Schiano stated "We're going to win at Rutgers and we're going to do it the right way."

His message was heard loud and clear by the college football world last season as the Scarlet Knights finished the season 11-2 overall and 5-2 in the BIG EAST, tied for second in the league standings.

The season was complete with a convincing 37-10 victory over Kansas State in the Texas Bowl, the first bowl championship in school history.

Schiano, the 2006 National Coach of the Year and BIG EAST Coach of the Year, has been the architect of transforming the Rutgers program into one of the nation's best. The Scarlet Knights earned their first national top-10 ranking in 2006, won 11 games for the second time in school history (137 seasons) and earned a bowl invitation for the second consecutive season (another first in school history).

"All along we have said the same thing," said Schiano. "What we're doing here, we're just scratching the surface. The sky is the limit here at Rutgers and we're going to do great things. We've won 11 games and that's great, but the seniors have laid the foundation for really, really big things. We've recruited really great young guys in this program and this is home. The same things I said at this podium the first time in this room that were true then are still true now. This state and the New York and Philadelphia metropolitan areas have all started to come together here and that's only going to get better. It's something that's never been tapped, so to me, this is a great, great situation."

The on-field success led to a single-season attendance record at Rutgers Stadium as the program averaged over 40,000 fans per game for the first time. Temporary seating was installed in the end zone at Rutgers Stadium for the final two games of the season, including a school-record crowd of 44,111 fans at the thrilling 28-25 victory over then third-ranked Louisville.

A record group of 14 Scarlet Knights captured All-BIG EAST honors, including five first-team selections. Senior fullback Brian Leonard captured the "Academic" Heisman by winning the Draddy Trophy, while sophomore tailback Ray Rice was one of three finalists for the Maxwell Award, given annually to the nation's top player. Rice was also named a Second-Team All-American by the Associated Press, Walter Camp Football Foundation and Rivals.com and finished seventh in the voting for the Heisman Trophy. In addition, junior defensive tackle Eric Foster garnered First Team All-America accolades from the Football Writers Association of America.

A New Jersey native who returned to his roots to take over the reins of the Rutgers football program, Schiano has led the Scarlet Knights throughout his tenure with the energy, passion and boundless enthusiasm that have been the hallmarks of his career.

Schiano's impact as head coach is evidenced in all aspects of the Rutgers football program. Schiano and his staff have continued to upgrade the level of talent by recruiting student-athletes with outstanding athleticism and great character, all part of the building process that continues to result in on-field success.

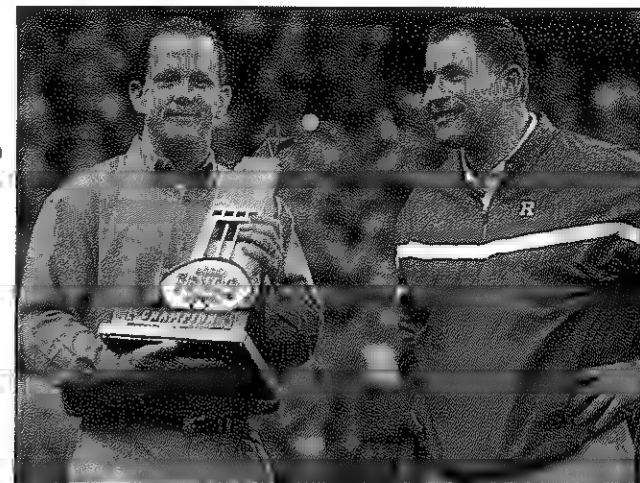

Rutgers now boasts one of the nation's finest football complexes, highlighted by an expansive strength and conditioning facility, a state-of-the-art training room and academic support facilities which include classrooms, study rooms and computer labs.

With a state-of-the-art scoreboard and field turf playing surface in place, Rutgers Stadium continues to be one of the most scenic settings for college football in the country.

Schiano's arrival signaled a new era at Rutgers, and he continues to guide the program at New Jersey's State University to the elite of Division I-A college football. His tireless work ethic, winning attitude and commitment to the university are pillars which generate excitement throughout the "State of Rutgers."

Schiano, who grew up in Wyckoff and graduated from Ramapo High School, took over as the 27th head coach of the nation's oldest college football program on Dec. 1, 2000. On that day, Schiano proclaimed his vision of excellence for Rutgers football. "This program will be built on a rock foundation," he said. "It will take longer than building it on stilts, but when it's built, it will be built forever. This is where I started; this is where I was striving to get back to. I'm thrilled to be here. It's time."

Under Schiano's guidance, several former Scarlet Knights have advanced to the NFL. Tight end L.J. Smith was the starting tight end for the Philadelphia Eagles in Super Bowl XXXVIII and caught a TD pass. Gary Brackett was a captain of the XLI Super Bowl Champion Indianapolis Colts, leading the defense to victory over the Chicago Bears.

In April's NFL Draft, a school-record number of Scarlet Knights were drafted, including Brian Leonard in the second round to the St. Louis Rams. In all, seven players: Cameron Stephenson (5th Round, Pittsburgh Steelers), Clark Harris (7th Round, Green Bay Packers), Darnell Stapleton (Free Agent, Pittsburgh Steelers), Derrick Roberson (Free Agent, Houston Texans), Ramel Meekins (Free Agent, Indianapolis Colts), and Joe Porter (Free Agent, New Orleans Saints) from the 2006 squad signed NFL contracts entering the 2007 NFL season.

SCHIANO AGREES TO CONTRACT EXTENSION

PISCATAWAY, N.J. – Rutgers University and head football coach Greg Schiano have agreed to a four-year contract extension that will run through the 2016 season, it was announced by Director of Athletics Robert E. Mulcahy III. Under the new contract, Schiano's compensation will increase to $1.5 million per year.

Increased financial resources generated by the football program, including corporate sponsorships and record ticket sales, will fund the contract increase.

The four-year extension also includes three elements that reward longevity and show a mutual commitment by Rutgers and Schiano including a house loan funded by private donations and annual longevity bonus for Schiano. The contract also includes a buyout, which begins at $1 million.

"What Greg has accomplished in his six years at Rutgers is truly one of the outstanding coaching efforts in college football history. In every area of the program, on and off the field, the program has excelled under his watch, and the nation had the opportunity to see that during the 2006 season," said Mulcahy.

I am very proud of what Greg Schiano is accomplishing with the Rutgers football program," said Richard L. McCormick, president of Rutgers. "In addition to the team's impressive performance on the field, Rutgers football continues to be ranked by the NCAA as one of the most academically successful programs in the nation. We look forward to many more years of athletic and academic success under Coach Schiano's leadership."

"I consider it a privilege and honor to be the head coach at Rutgers and look forward to leading this program for a long time," stated Schiano. "I am grateful for the outstanding vision, leadership and commitment of President McCormick and Bob Mulcahy. Our goal remains to develop Rutgers into a national championship program."

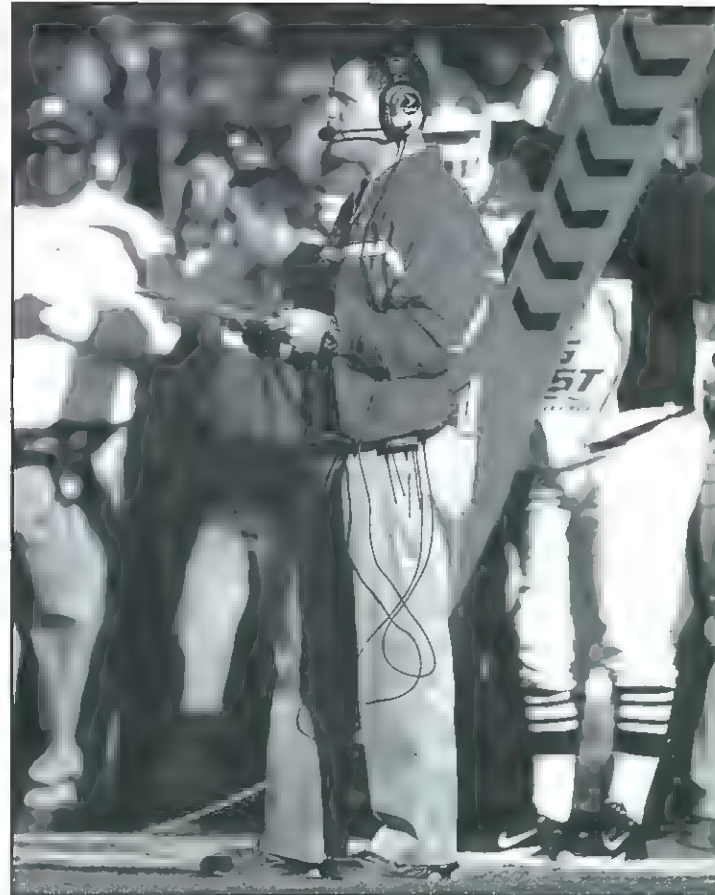

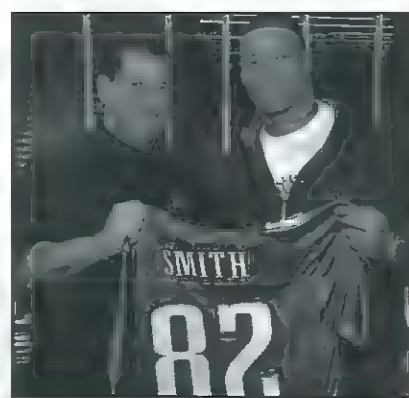

Following the 2005 campaign, five Scarlet Knights who played for Schiano signed with NFL teams, including All-American Ryan Neill (Buffalo Bills), All-BIG EAST standout Tres Moses (Baltimore Ravens), Val Barnaby (Detroit Lions), Chris Baker (San Francisco 49ers) and Sameeh McDonald (Detroit Lions).

Other NFL Knights from Schiano's reign include OL Trohn Carswell (Carolina Panthers), DT Gary Gibson (Baltimore Ravens), DB Brandon Haw (Miami Dolphins), DB Jarvis Johnson (Baltimore Ravens), WR Aaron Martin (Dallas Cowboys), DE Raheem Orr (New York Giants), DT J'Vonne Parker (Cleveland Browns) and RB Dennis Thomas (Kansas City Chiefs).

Another former standout, defensive back Nate Jones of the Dallas Cowboys, was a remarkable talent on the field and in the classroom while at Rutgers. Jones became Rutgers football's first two-time Academic All-America selection, and was a member of the prestigious National Football Foundation/ College Football Hall of Fame National Scholar Class of 2003, one of just eight Division I-A players honored. Jones was also the recipient of the BIG EAST/Aéropostale 2003 Football Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award, and was the BIG EAST's Co-Special Teams Player of the Year in 2002.

"Coach Schiano and his staff helped prepare me both mentally and physically for the next level. They're more than just coaches – they're really great people and they took an active role in my life at Rutgers. Whenever I return to Rutgers and to the football complex, I always feel like I'm back home."

- L.J. Smith, former Rutgers tight end second-round draft pick of the Philadelphia Eagles

The academic success is not just limited to individual players under Schiano, but the entire team. In the NCAA's most recent report, released in May, the Rutgers football team finished seventh in the nation with an APR score of 971 – the highest mark of any state university. The Scarlet Knights also led the BIG EAST among football programs with their mark of 971.

Schiano, who served as defensive coordinator of the Scarlet Knights in 2005 and 2006, guided a unit that was ranked in the nation's top 10 the entire season in total defense and scoring defense. In all, the defensive unit was ranked in the nation's top 10 in six of the seven defensive categories.

Achievement and success are nothing new to Schiano.

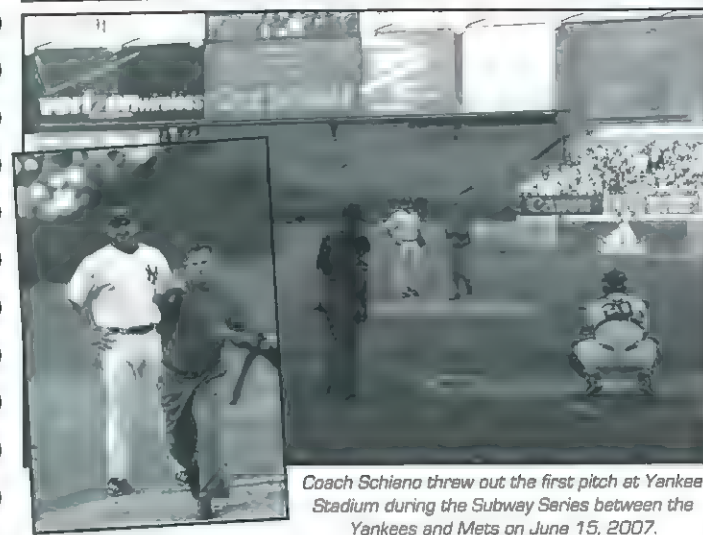

Wherever he has been in his coaching career, success has followed.

During Schiano's two-year stint as defensive coordinator at Miami (1999-2000), the Hurricanes posted a 20-5 record, including an 11-1 mark, the No. 2 national ranking and the Sugar Bowl championship in 2000. The Hurricanes boasted one of the top scoring defenses in the nation in 2000, and were the stingiest defensive squad in the BIG EAST Conference.

Under Schiano, the Miami defense showed rapid and marked improvement in his two seasons as defensive coordinator. The 'Canes defense closed out the 1999 season by not allowing a passing touchdown in 27 quarters, and was 12th nationally in scoring defense (allowing 17.2 points per game). In 2000, Miami surrendered just 15.5 points per game, the fewest allowed by any team in the BIG EAST and No. 5 nationally.

Prior to his assignment at Miami, Schiano spent three seasons in the NFL with the Chicago Bears (1996-98). Schiano was a defensive assistant in 1996-97, and was the defensive backfield coach in 1998. The 1997 Chicago Bears' third-down defense showed measurable improvement under Schiano's leadership, finishing first in the NFC and fourth in the NFL as opponents converted just 31.7% of their third-down attempts. In 1996, the Bears' pass defense climbed from 27th to 11th in fewest yards allowed.

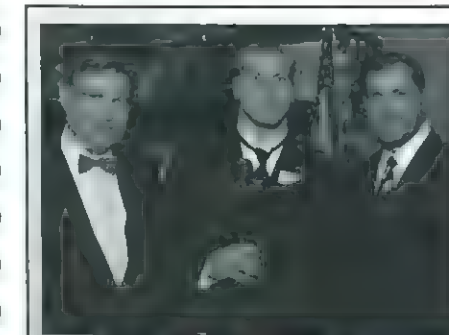

Schiano was defensive backfield coach at Penn State University from 1991-95. While at Penn State, the Nittany Lions had 58 wins and made six bowl appearances in his tenure. Overall, in nine seasons as an assistant on the collegiate level, Schiano's teams advanced to eight bowl games.

Coach Schiano threw out the first pitch at Yankee Stadium during the Subway Series between the Yankees and Mets on June 15, 2007.

Schiano's first assignment as a coach in the college ranks came during the 1989 season, when he served as a graduate assistant coach at Rutgers, following a one-year stint as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Ramapo High School. Schiano was a standout linebacker at Ramapo, playing for Coach Mike Miello, who is now head coach at William Paterson University after four seasons on the Rutgers Football staff. After his initial stint at Rutgers in 1989, he moved on to Penn State as a graduate assistant coach in 1990.

Schiano's influence reaches beyond the college playing fields, as his stable of NFL players continues to grow each season. In addition to former Scarlet Knights like Smith, Brackett and Jones, Schiano has helped guide such NFL standouts as Ed Reed (safety, Baltimore Ravens), Dan Morgan (linebacker, Carolina Panthers), Kim Herring (defensive back, Cincinnati Bengals) and Mike Rumph (cornerback, San Francisco 49ers).

"When I came to Rutgers, I was a boy. Now I'm a man. What Coach Schiano has done for me; I can't thank him enough."
- Brian Leonard, former Rutgers running back and second-round draft pick of the Saint Louis Rams

"Coach Schiano is a proven leader who inspires and motivates his players. He's a great coach with great vision – I knew it wouldn't take long for all the pieces to fall into place at Rutgers. Rutgers is a great place to play football."

- Gary Brackett, former Scarlet Knight and captain of the Super Bowl Champion Indianapolis Colts

Schiano is a 1988 graduate of Bucknell University where he was a three-year letterman at linebacker. He was named to The Sporting News All-America Preseason Team in 1987. He served as team captain his senior year and, as a junior, he topped the team with 114 tackles and was named all-conference.

Schiano and his wife, Christy, are the proud parents of four children, Joey, John, Matt and Katie.

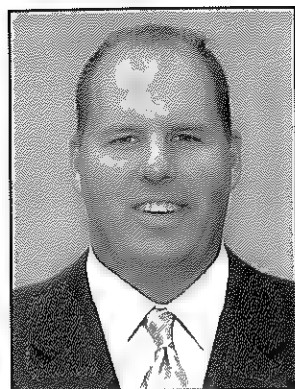

"The difference is confidence. Rutgers comes in with the belief that they can play with any team in the nation. The big reason for that starts with their head coach, what he brings to the table and the confidence he instills in his team."

- Kirk Herbstreit, ESPN College Football Analyst

JAY BUTLER

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR FOR STRENGTH & CONDITIONING HEAD FOOTBALL STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

During his six-year tenure, Jay Butler has helped the Scarlet Knights make remarkable strides in strength and conditioning. Recognized in the March issue of American Football Monthly as Samson's Division I-A Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year, Butler begins his seventh season at Rutgers as Head Football Strength and Conditioning Coach. In 2005, he was promoted to Assistant Director of Athletics for Strength and Conditioning.

Prior to joining the Scarlet Knights' staff, Butler served as the Director of Speed, Strength and Conditioning at Dartmouth College for five years (1996-2000). Before his stint at Dartmouth, Butler worked four years at East Carolina University in the strength and conditioning program. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for three years at ECU while earning his master's degree and was soon promoted to Assistant Director of Strength and Conditioning in 1995.

Butler, who earned a Mechanical Engineering degree from Bucknell University in 1991, designed the state-of-the-art, 15,500 square foot strength and conditioning facility in the expanded Hale Center. He incorporated the latest technologies, including digital video analysis, a 60-yard FieldTurf track and other amenities for developing the complete football player.

He has helped mold numerous players into professional athletes, several of which are currently enjoying successful careers in the National Football League, including former standout Gary Brackett of the Super Bowl XLI Champion Indianapolis Colts. The latest crop of players to benefit from Butler's highly-regarded strength and conditioning program includes Brian Leonard, Cameron Stephenson and Clark Harris, who were each selected in the 2007 NFL Draft.

Butler is a 1987 graduate of nearby Hillsborough High School, where he excelled in both football and baseball. He went on to be a three-year starter and two-time All-American offensive tackle at Bucknell University, before playing two seasons on the professional level.

Butler and his wife, Jo Ann, are the proud parents of three daughters, Kylie, Casey and Sydney.

CHRIS DEMAREST

SECONDARY/ASSISTANT HEAD COACH

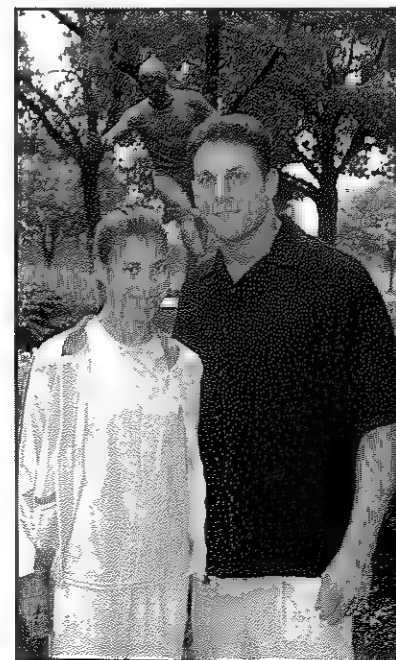

Chris Demarest, a New Jersey native who began his career in coaching as a graduate assistant at Rutgers in 1989, is in his fourth season as secondary coach of the Scarlet Knights. In addition to his current responsibilities, Demarest was elevated to Assistant Head Coach in the Spring 2007.

During his tenure overseeing the Scarlet Knights' secondary, RU has shown steady improvement. Rutgers' current defensive backfield boast the best safety tandem in the BIG EAST and one of the top units in the nation with All-BIG EAST selections Ron Girault and Courtney Greene. Greene, who was named a Freshman All-American at his free safety spot in 2005, enters his junior year as a Jim Thorpe Award candidate. In 2006, the Scarlet Knight secondary was part of a defense that led the BIG EAST and was nationally ranked in both pass defense (sixth) and passing efficiency defense (eighth). The defensive backfield also combined to hold opponents below 200 yards passing in nine games and under 100 yards in four contests.

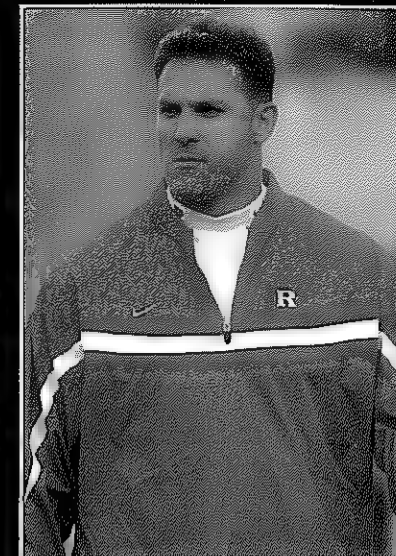

Demarest came to Rutgers after serving as defensive backs coach at North Carolina State for four seasons (2000-03). In that time, he helped the Wolfpack to four consecutive bowl appearances, three wins in post-season play, and a 34-17 overall record. Demarest tutored Terrence Holt, who earned All-America honors and went on to a career in the National Football League. Demarest also coached NFL players Brian Williams, Adrian Wilson, Andre Maddox, Lamont Reid and Marcus Hudson while at North Carolina State. In 2004, Demarest mentored strong safety Jarvis Johnson, who signed a free agent contract with the Baltimore Ravens following his senior season. Following the 2006 season, both Derrick Roberson (Houston) and Joe Porter (New Orleans) signed NFL contracts.

Prior to his tenure at North Carolina State, Demarest was a graduate assistant at Florida State for two seasons (1998-99). Demarest was responsible for coaching the cornerbacks and helped the Seminoles to a combined 23-2 record, including a 12-0 record in 1999 and a victory over Virginia Tech in the Sugar Bowl for the National Championship. The year before, the Seminoles led the nation in pass defense en route to an 11-2 record and a berth in the Fiesta Bowl. Demarest helped tutor a number of Seminoles who went on to the NFL, including Derrick Gibson, Dexter Jackson and Mario Edwards.

This is Demarest's second stint as a member of the Scarlet Knights' coaching staff. His first coaching assignment was as a graduate assistant for the Scarlet Knights in 1989, following a successful collegiate career as a player at Northeastern. In his first tenure at Rutgers, Demarest was on a staff that also included Rutgers head coach Greg Schiano as a graduate assistant coach.

A native of Keyport, N.J., Demarest was a standout defensive back at Northeastern, earning All-New England honors and All-America recognition after grabbing 11 interceptions in 1987. He was a free agent signee by the Washington Redskins in 1988, before beginning his coaching career with the Scarlet Knights in 1989 as a graduate assistant. Demarest also served on the staffs of East Carolina (1990), Northeastern (1991-92), East Stroudsburg (1993), Millersville (1994), and Lehigh (1994-97) before moving on to Florida State. Demarest, who has a daughter, Junelle, and son, Dante, resides in Piscataway.

KYLE FLOOD

OFFENSIVE LINE/RUN GAME COORDINATOR

Kyle Flood, who enters his third season as offensive line coach, will also add run game coordinator to his list of duties for the 2007 season.

In 2006, Flood coached an offensive line that helped Rutgers to one of its most productive seasons offensively as the group relinquished the fewest sacks in the nation with just eight. His unit was regarded as one of the best in the nation last season and featured 2007 fifth-round draft selection Cameron Stephenson and Rimington Award finalist and free agent signee Darnell Stapleton. Also among that stout group of offensive linemen were All-BIG EAST tackles Pedro Sosa and Jeremy Zuttah. Flood's corps of hard-nosed blockers helped guide All-American running back Ray Rice to a standout season, as he finished second in the nation with a BIG EAST and Rutgers single-season record of 1,794 yards.

Flood came to Rutgers after three seasons at the University of Delaware, where he helped the Blue Hens to a National Championship in 2003, and a pair of Atlantic 10 Conference titles. In addition to serving as offensive line coach at Delaware, he was also assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator.

Flood joined the Delaware coaching staff in 2002 and during his time at Delaware, the Blue Hens posted a 30-11 record, including a 15-1 mark and the Division I-AA National Championship in 2003. In 2004, the Blue Hens were 9-4 and shared the Atlantic 10 title with a 7-1 conference record.

Flood's offensive line helped Delaware rank ninth nationally in scoring (34.7), 20th in rushing (207.6 yards) and 33rd in total offense, while allowing just 25 sacks in 16 games in its National Championship season. In 2004, the Blue Hens were third in the Atlantic 10 in rushing, gaining 167 yards per game, and allowed just 19 sacks in 13 games. In his first season at Delaware, the Blue Hens' offensive line allowed 15 sacks in 12 games, the lowest total allowed by a Blue Hen team since 1991.

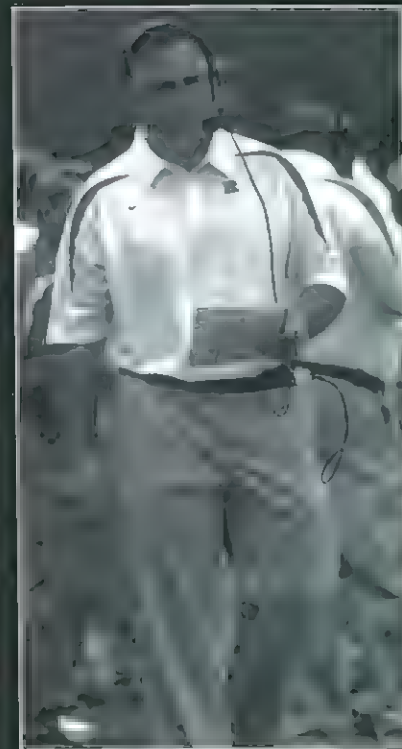

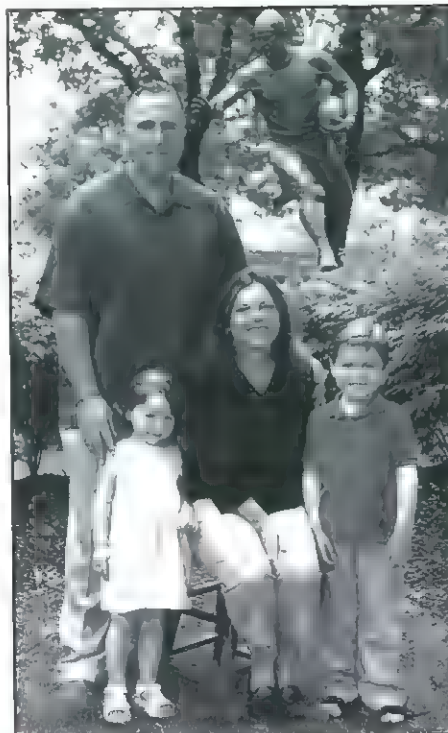

Prior to his three seasons at Delaware, Flood was offensive line coach at Hofstra University from 1997-2001. While at Hofstra, he helped the Pride earn berths in the NCAA Division I-AA Football Championships in 1997, 1999, 2000, and 2001. The Pride ranked among the top offensive teams in NCAA I-AA football during his tenure, ranking second in total offense (491.6), fourth in passing offense (301.0), and fifth in scoring offense (37.9) nationally in 2001. They captured the 1999 Lambert Cup as the top I-AA team in the East and took the 2001 Atlantic 10 Championship in their first year in the conference.

Flood, a 1993 graduate of Iona College, was a four-year letterwinner for the Gaels. A high school teammate of former Rutgers All-American tight end Marco Battaglia at St. Francis Prep High School in Queens, N.Y., Flood earned first team All-Liberty Conference honors in 1991 and served as team captain of the Gaels in 1992.

Flood's first college coaching position came in 1995-96 as offensive line coach at Long Island University-C.W. Post. While coaching at C.W. Post, he helped the team to the ECAC Division II Eastern title in 1996.

Flood began his coaching career at St. Francis Prep in 1993, as both offensive line and defensive line coach in 1993-94. He also taught mathematics at St. Francis for four years.

Flood and his wife, Amy, are the proud parents of a son, Kyle, and a daughter, Isabella.

BOB FRASER

LINEBACKERS

Bob Fraser begins his first season as linebackers coach after joining the Rutgers staff in July 2006 as Assistant to the Head Coach. He brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the program after serving the previous nine seasons as linebackers coach at Colgate University.

During his tenure at Colgate, he coached three Patriot League Defensive Player of the Year honorees and nine All-Patriot League selections. Under Fraser's tutelage, two players earned All-America honors, highlighted by Jared Nepa, who was named the Linebacker of the Year in the Northeast in 2005.

Prior to his nine-year stint at Colgate, Fraser served as the inside and outside linebackers coach at Allegheny College during the 1997 season.

Fraser began his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Allegheny College for the 1985-86 seasons. He served in the same role at Rutgers for the 1987 and 1988 seasons, where he worked with then graduate assistant coach Greg Schiano for five months leading up to the 1989 season.

He returned to Allegheny for the 1989 season in his first full-time position, serving three seasons as linebackers coach. The Gators were undefeated for two seasons and in 1990 won the NCAA Division III National Championship.

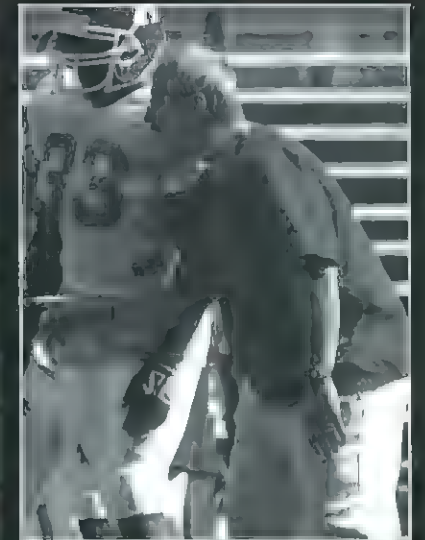

Fraser began a four-year stint at the College of the Holy Cross in 1992 where he coached the defensive line, before one year as offensive tackles and tight ends coach at Northeastern University.

Fraser was a four-year letterwinner at Allegheny where he earned All-America honors on the defensive line as a sophomore and served as team captain in his junior and senior seasons. He was inducted into both the Allegheny College and East Allegheny High School Hall of Fames.

Fraser, 43, graduated from Allegheny in 1985 with a degree in computer science.

CARY GODETTE

DEFENSIVE LINE

Cary Godette is in his third season as the defensive line coach at Rutgers. Godette joined the staff in 2005 and in his first season, the defensive line posted 47 sacks, which led the country at the end of the regular season, and finished fifth in the nation in tackles for loss with 107.

Last season, the defensive line continued to bolster an overall defense that ranked fourth nationally in total defense, fifth in sacks and tackles for loss and eighth in scoring defense. The 2006 season also saw the re-emergence of Eric Foster, who earned First Team All-American honors. He also developed former walk-on Ramel Meekins into an All-BIG EAST tackle. Meekins went on to sign with the NFL's Indianapolis Colts as a free agent.

Godette came to Rutgers with six years of experience as an NFL assistant coach, most recently serving as assistant defensive line coach with the Arizona Cardinals in 2003-04. Godette's first NFL assignment was with the Carolina Panthers as defensive line coach in 1995-96. He was also with the Miami Dolphins from 1998-2000 and participated in the NFL's Minority Internship Program with the Dallas Cowboys during their 1992 training camp.

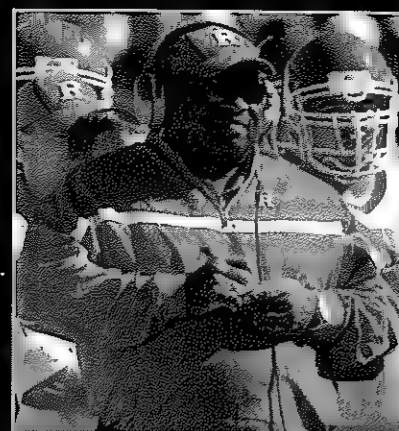

Godette has also coached in the collegiate ranks for 22 years. He coached in seven college bowl games, most recently in the Inaugural Texas Bowl with the Scarlet Knights. Godette has coached in the Insight Bowl (2005) with Rutgers, the Tangerine Bowl (2002), the Micronpc.com Bowl (2000), and the Peach Bowl (1994) with N.C. State, and the Peach Bowl (1991) and Independence Bowl (1987) with East Carolina.

A standout on the defensive line at East Carolina, Godette earned All-Southern Conference and All-America recognition in 1976 and appeared in the American Bowl All-Star game. He was the Pirates' Defensive Player of the Year in 1975 (when he earned honorable-mention All-America status) and in 1976. He still holds the school record for tackles for loss by a junior with 18 (set in 1975).

Godette began his coaching career at his alma mater the following year as defensive line coach. He then went to Wyoming, first as defensive line coach (1980) and then as linebackers coach (1981-82). In 1983, Godette began a six-year stint at the University of Cincinnati where he coached the Bearcats' defensive ends (1983), outside linebackers (1984), tight ends (1985-86), and defensive line (1987-88) in addition to recruiting and game operations responsibilities. After one season as an assistant at Terry Sanford High School in Fayetteville, N.C. in 1989, Godette returned to the college coaching ranks, beginning with two seasons at East Carolina (1990-91) and Georgia Tech (1992-93), and another at North Carolina State (1994), before moving on to the NFL.

After five years in the NFL with the Panthers and Dolphins, Godette returned to the college ranks for two seasons at North Carolina State before spending the 2002 campaign at Western Carolina as assistant head coach and defensive line coach.

Godette and his wife, Ruby, reside in Piscataway.

TODD GREINER

ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH

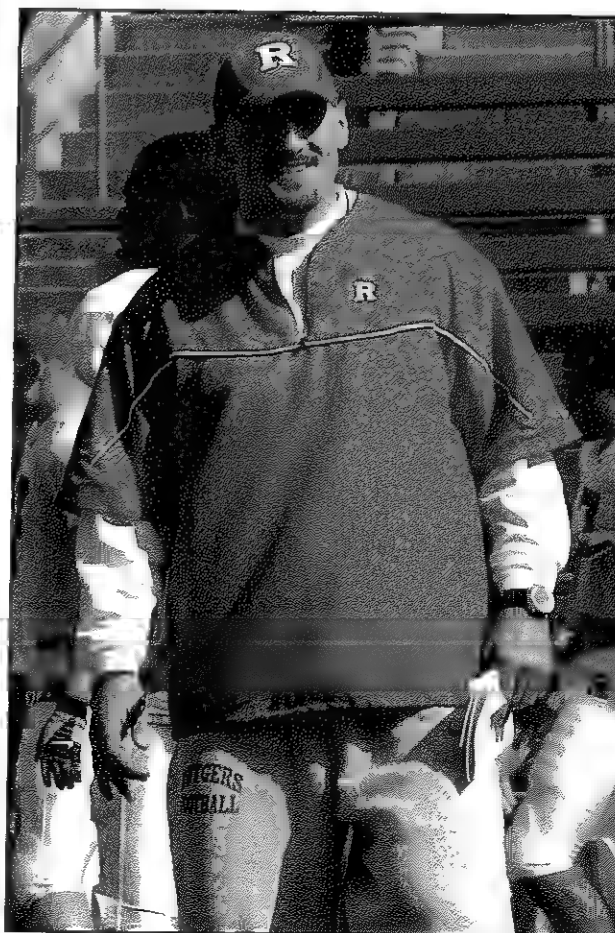

Todd Greiner is in his first season as Assistant to the Head Coach.

After serving as defensive graduate assistant from 2005-06 and coaching the safeties, Greiner was promoted to Assistant to the Head Coach, assisting Greg Schiano with all aspects of the football program. Greiner, who worked in the area of player development in 2004, is in his fourth year on the Scarlet Knights' staff.

In 2006, Greiner was instrumental in tutoring All-BIG EAST Second Team safeties Courtney Greene and Ron Girault. The Scarlet Knights ranked sixth in the nation in pass defense and eighth in pass efficiency defense in 2006.

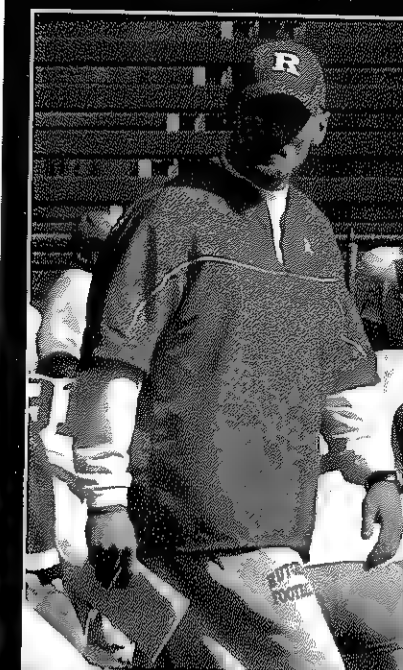

Greiner graduated from William and Mary in 2001, and was a four-year starter at linebacker. He concluded his outstanding career with the Tribe with 380 tackles, including 141 stops in his senior season, ranking seventh in the nation in Division I-AA. Greiner was a team captain, All Atlantic-10 selection as a senior, and was also named to the NSCA All-American team.

A graduate of Lancaster (Pa.) Catholic High School where he excelled in football and track & field, Greiner was named to his alma mater's Hall of Fame in 2004. He was a two-time defensive MVP of the team and holds school records for most tackles in a season and career and most touchdowns scored in a game with five.

Before his arrival to Rutgers, Greiner was co-owner of Complete Athletic Training (CAT) in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and a Certified Strength & Conditioning Specialist. He trained professional football players and prepped college athletes for the combine and professional play. Greiner first began coaching football under the legendary George F. Smith at St. Thomas Aquinas High School in Fort Lauderdale as linebackers coach before joining the Rutgers staff.

Greiner is single and resides in New Brunswick.

CHRIS HEWITT

DIRECTOR OF SPEED AND SKILL DEVELOPMENT

Former NFL player Chris Hewitt is in his third season as Director of Speed and Skill Development at Rutgers, after serving as a defensive graduate assistant on the Scarlet Knights staff in 2004.

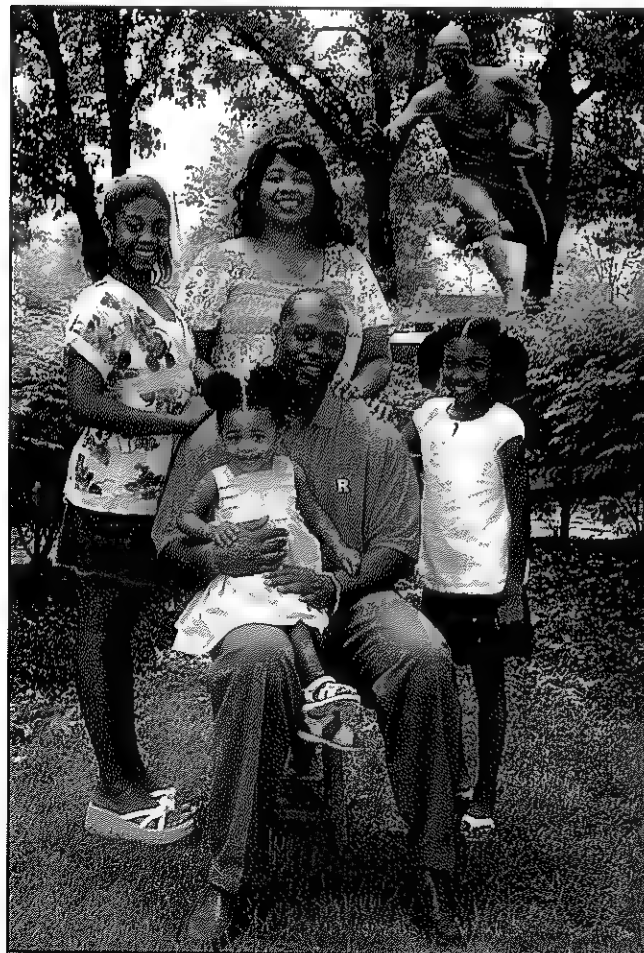

Hewitt, a graduate of Dwight Morrow High School in Englewood, enjoyed a successful collegiate career at the University of Cincinnati (1992-96), before going on to the NFL's New Orleans Saints. At Cincinnati, Hewitt was a three-year starter in the secondary, and a two-time All-Conference USA selection (1995-96). He was also named to the All-Liberty Bowl Alliance team in 1995 and the All-Independent Football Alliance team in 1993.

As a redshirt freshman for the Bearcats in 1993, Hewitt was named the team's Newcomer of the Year after averaging 31.5 yards per kick return, the second best single-season return average in school history.

Hewitt joined the Saints as a free agent in 1997, and played four seasons in the secondary and on special teams for New Orleans.

Following his playing career, he joined the Cleveland Browns coaching staff as a participant in the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship Program, and worked primarily with special teams and defensive backs. In 2003, Hewitt was an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Notre Dame. Hewitt also worked with the Baltimore Ravens in 2005 and the Philadelphia Eagles in 2006 as part of the NFL Minority Fellowship Program.

A standout in football and track at Dwight Morrow, Hewitt was a two-year starter for the Maroon Raiders and earned All-County and All-State recognition.

ROBERT JACKSON

WIDE RECEIVERS COACH

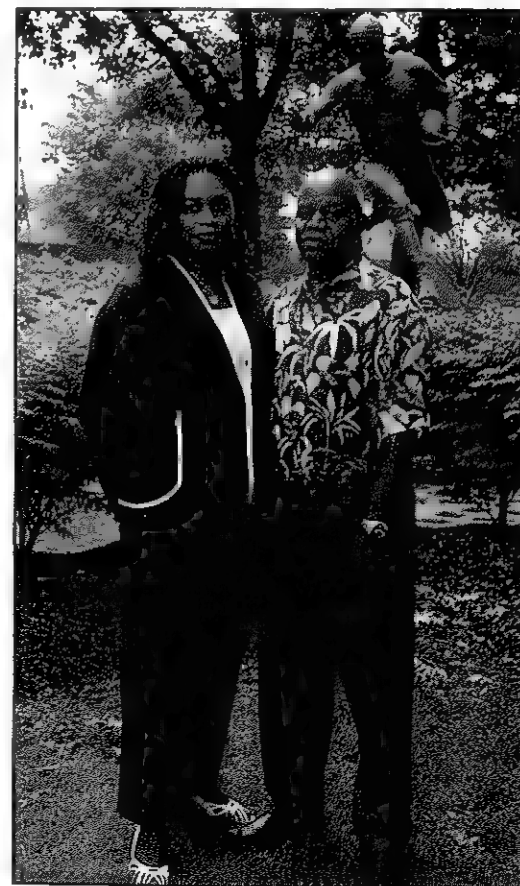

Robert Jackson is in his first year as wide receivers coach after spending the previous two seasons as running backs coach for the Scarlet Knights.

In Jackson's two seasons as running backs coach, the Scarlet Knights' produced their first 1,000-yard rusher since 1994 as Ray Rice gained 1,120 yards in his rookie campaign. The All-American eclipsed his successful freshman season with an even more impressive sophomore year, setting a BIG EAST and school single-season record with 1,794 yards (second in the nation) on the ground. Jackson also played a major role in tutoring All-American Brian Leonard, a second-round draft pick of the St. Louis Rams. Leonard ended his career as the school's all-time leader in receptions (207) and touchdowns (45), and he established a BIG EAST record with at least one reception in all 47 games of his career.

Jackson came to Rutgers after six seasons at the University of Illinois. He joined the Illinois staff in 1999 as wide receivers coach, and served in that capacity for two years before adding responsibilities as recruiting coordinator for his final four seasons. Four of Jackson's standout receivers, Brandon Lloyd, Walter Young, Aaron Moorehead and Greg Lewis enjoyed stints in the National Football League. Under Jackson's tutelage, that quartet helped account for 57 TDs and 7,714 yards through the air and became the most productive quartet in Illinois Football history.

In Jackson's six years, Illini wide receivers gained over 2,000 receiving yards five times and Lloyd and Young each earned All-Big Ten honors. Jackson helped Illinois win an out-right Big Ten title and a Sugar Bowl berth in 2001.

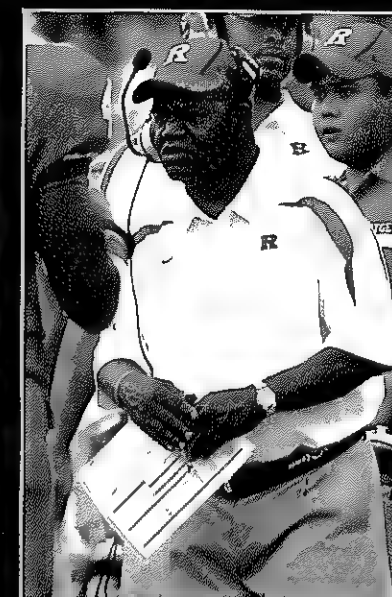

Prior to his term at Illinois, Jackson was a member of the Oregon State staff for eight years, serving as wide receivers coach (1992-97) and adding responsibilities as Assistant Head Coach in 1996-97. Jackson served as academic coordinator for the football program and helped deliver a team that led the nation in graduation rates in 1994 (94.6 percent) with 25 Academic All-Pac 10 selections.

The Harvey, Ill., native was a highly successful prep coach at Thornwood High School. Jackson served as an assistant coach for many years before becoming head coach of the football and baseball teams (1974-86).

Jackson's first assignment in the collegiate ranks was at his alma mater, Northern Illinois in 1986. In six seasons with the Huskies, they ranked among the nation's top offensive squads and posted a 9-2 record in 1989.

Jackson and his wife Jo Ann are the proud parents of two children, Bobby and Marc, who both played football at Illinois as defensive backs.

JOHN McNULTY

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS

John McNulty enters his fourth season on the Scarlet Knights' sideline. In addition to coaching the quarterbacks, McNulty was also named offensive coordinator in the Spring 2007. He joined the staff in 2004 and served as the wide receivers coach for two seasons before taking on duties as the assistant offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach in 2006.

Prior to joining the staff at Rutgers, McNulty spent six seasons as an assistant coach in the National Football League with the Jacksonville Jaguars from 1998-2002, and the Dallas Cowboys in 2003. During his six-year career as an assistant in the NFL, his teams advanced to the playoffs three times. McNulty also had seven years of collegiate coaching experience with the University of Michigan (1991-94) and the University of Connecticut (1995-97), before beginning his tenure at Rutgers.

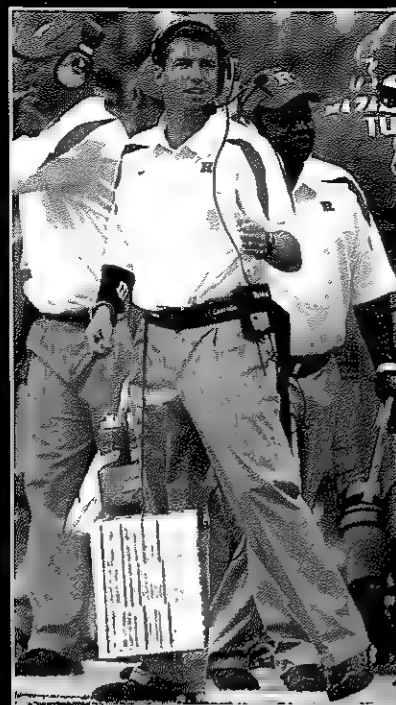

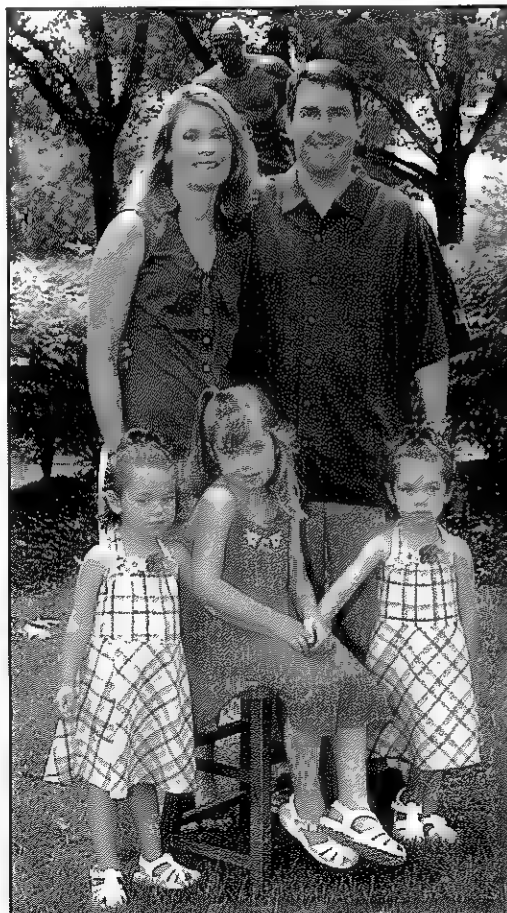

McNulty served as the Jaguars' quality control coach in 1998 and 1999, before being named wide receivers coach in 2000. While in Jacksonville, McNulty worked with one of the NFL's top receiving duos in Jimmy Smith and Keenan McCardell. During the 2000 and 2001 seasons, the pair combined for 390 receptions, and 4,903 yards, while Smith earned All-Pro honors both seasons. In 2002, Smith notched 80 receptions for 1,027 yards, the seventh consecutive season that he surpassed the 1,000-yard mark.

McNulty helped Jacksonville to NFL playoff appearances in 1998, with an 11-5 regular-season record, and again in 1999, with a 14-2 regular-season mark. McNulty added to that with Dallas in 2003, as he helped the Cowboys to a 10-6 record and a berth in the playoffs.

A safety as a collegian at Penn State from 1988-90, McNulty was a member of two Nittany Lion bowl teams. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Michigan in 1991. Michigan won two Big Ten titles and appeared in four bowl games, including two Rose Bowl appearances, in McNulty's tenure with the Wolverines. In 1994, McNulty worked with standout wide receivers Amani Toomer (now with the New York Giants) and Mercury Hayes (one-time Atlanta Falcon).

McNulty then moved to Connecticut in 1995, working with wide receivers and special teams. There, he coached wide receivers that surpassed the 1,000-yard mark in receptions in both 1996 and 1997. He helped UConn WR Carl Bond earn All-America notice in 1997.

McNulty, and his wife Kim, are the proud parents of daughters, Abigail, Allison and Megan.

DARREN RIZZI

OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS/SPECIAL TEAMS/ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Darren Rizzi is in his sixth season on the Rutgers coaching staff. He spent the past three seasons as Assistant Head Coach before being promoted to Associate Head Coach in Spring 2007. In addition to his new role, Rizzi will continue to coach the Scarlet Knights' special teams and outside linebackers.

In the last five years under the direction of Rizzi, special teams have become a hallmark of the Rutgers football program, as exemplified in the team's numerous All-BIG EAST selections and national accolades. In 2006, former punter Joe Radigan and placekicker Jeremy Ito were both named to the all conference team, while wide receiver/return specialist Willie Foster was tabbed BIG EAST Special Teams Player of the Year in 2005. With Rizzi at the reins, the Scarlet Knights ranked eighth nationally in kickoff returns in 2005. Individually, Ito was 12th nationally in field goals per game.

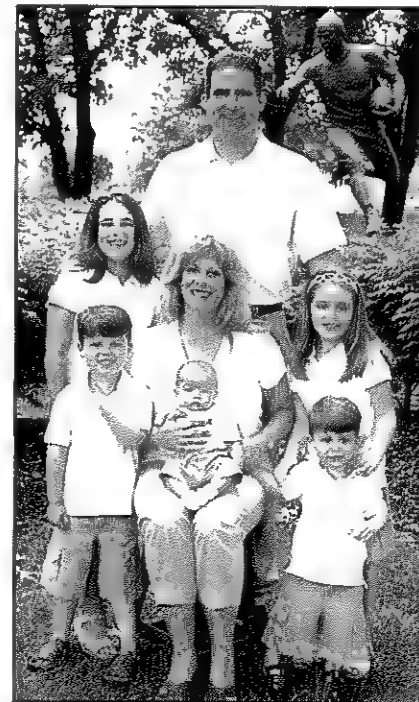

As one of the top place kickers in the country, Ito was a semifinalist for the Lou Groza Award and an honorable mention All-American by Sports Illustrated.com last season. Rutgers' all-time leader in scoring and field goals, Ito connected on the second longest field goal in school history with a 53-yarder against USF (9/29/2006). He is currently second among active players in the NCAA in both field goals made and field goals attempted.

Under Rizzi's tutelage, former Rutgers standout, and NFL defensive back, Nate Jones developed into one of the nation's most feared kickoff return weapons. Jones earned All-BIG EAST honors twice, being named the Conference's "Co-Special Teams Player of the Year" in 2002. Jones also led the BIG EAST and was sixth in the country in kickoff returns, averaging 28.3 yards per return in 2002.

Rizzi has also helped build a strong corps of linebackers while "On the Banks". In 2006, his group played a vital role in a staunch Rutgers defense that finished fourth nationally in total defense, fifth in sacks and tackles for loss and eight in scoring defense. Former standout and All-BIG EAST selection Devraun Thompson finished his career fourth on the school's all-time list in assisted tackles.

Before taking over the linebackers in 2005, Rizzi served as the Scarlet Knights' running backs coach in his first three seasons on the staff, and developed a deep corps, led by fullback Brian Leonard. Leonard was a First Team All-BIG EAST selection and was named to Pro Football Weekly's All-America team following an outstanding 2004 campaign. Leonard was named BIG EAST Freshman of the Year in 2003 by College Football News after leading the team in rushing with 880 yards.

As head coach at New Haven, Rizzi compiled a 15-14 record, despite playing notoriously challenging schedules. In his final season at New Haven, Rizzi guided the Chargers to a 5-4 record in 2001, facing one of the toughest schedules in the nation among Division II teams. One of the biggest wins in New Haven history came when Rizzi's Chargers notched a 17-14 upset victory over Villanova, which was ranked No. 12 among Division I-AA teams at the time.

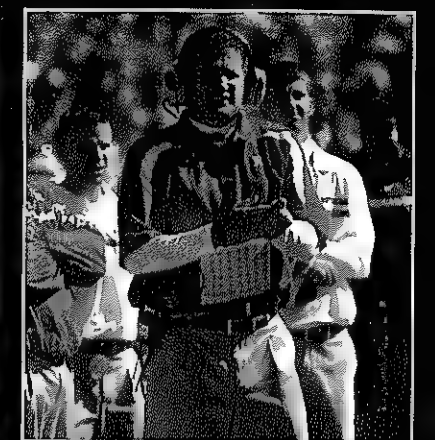

A native of Hillsdale, N.J. and a graduate of Bergen Catholic High School, Rizzi went on to earn All-America honors as a tight end at Rhode Island. Following his senior season, Rizzi was named the Rhode Island College Player of the Year, and was honored by the New Jersey Sports Writers Association at its annual banquet. He graduated from Rhode Island in 1992 with a degree in speech communications.

Rizzi began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Rhode Island in 1992 before moving to Colgate, where he served as tight ends coach/special teams assistant in 1993. He was an assistant at New Haven from 1994-97, serving as special teams coordinator/defensive line from 1994-96 before being elevated to defensive coordinator in 1997, where he helped lead the Chargers to a 12-2 record and an appearance in the Division II National Championship game.

Rizzi was on the Northeastern staff in 1998, serving as special teams coordinator/linebackers coach before returning to New Haven as head coach in 1999.

Rizzi and his wife, Tracey, are the proud parents of five children.

JOE SUSAN

TIGHT ENDS/RECRUITING COORDINATOR

Joe Susan enters his seventh season as a member of the Scarlet Knights' coaching staff. He was named Recruiting Coordinator in February, 2004, and has served as tight ends coach since the 2003 season.

Susan has over 27 years of experience in the collegiate ranks, with stints as a head coach, offensive coordinator, offensive line coach, and tight ends coach. As recruiting coordinator, he has been integral in assembling the current members of the Rutgers football program – a program which finish 11-2 overall, 12th in the final rankings and produced the first bowl victory in Rutgers history.

Susan has directed a deep corps of tight ends that included former three-time All-BIG EAST selection Clark Harris, a seventh-round draft choice of the Green Bay Packers. Harris was a three-time John Mackey Award candidate as the nation's top tight end from 2004-06 and holds the third-longest streak for consecutive games with a reception in BIG EAST history (38-straight games).

A native of South River, N.J., Susan returned to his New Jersey roots to join the Rutgers staff in 2001 after a memorable 2000 campaign, when he served as head coach at Davidson and led the Wildcats to a 10-0 record, the only unbeaten team in school history and a single-season record for wins. That year, the Division I-AA Independents Sports Information Directors Association named him Coach of the Year. In 2000, Susan received a Presidential Citation from the University of Delaware for outstanding achievement.

Prior to the undefeated season at Davidson, Susan spent nine years as offensive coordinator at Princeton (1991-99). He also served briefly as offensive line coach at Memphis, before accepting the challenge to become the head coach at Davidson.

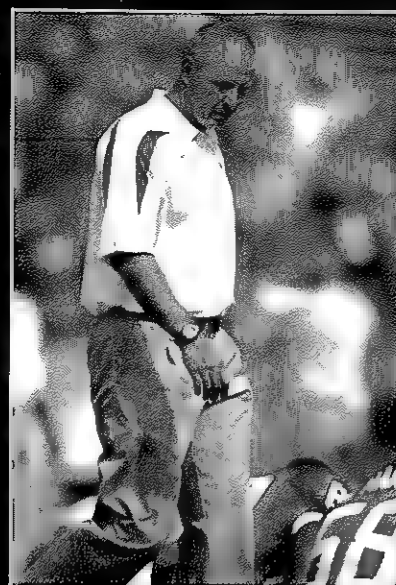

Susan was offensive line coach at Bucknell from 1981-88, when he took on the added responsibility as associate head coach for two seasons with the Bison. During his tenure at Bucknell, he recruited Rutgers head coach Greg Schiano to play for the Bison. Susan also recruited offensive lineman Jay Butler, who is presently the Scarlet Knights' Assistant Director for Strength and Conditioning.

Susan enjoyed an outstanding playing career at Delaware (1973-76), as his teams compiled a 36-12-1 record in his tenure there. During his sophomore season, the Blue Hens were the NCAA Division II national runner-up.

Susan began his career in coaching in 1978 at Delaware, as a graduate assistant. After a year as an assistant at Gettysburg, he returned to his alma mater for one season.

Susan and his wife, Cynthia, are the parents of one son, Matthew, and daughters Jessica and Julia.

CRAIG VER STEEG

RUNNING BACKS

Craig Ver Steeg (pronounced ver steg) begins his fifth season on the Rutgers coaching staff and his first as coach of the running backs. Ver Steeg had previously spent the past four seasons as offensive coordinator.

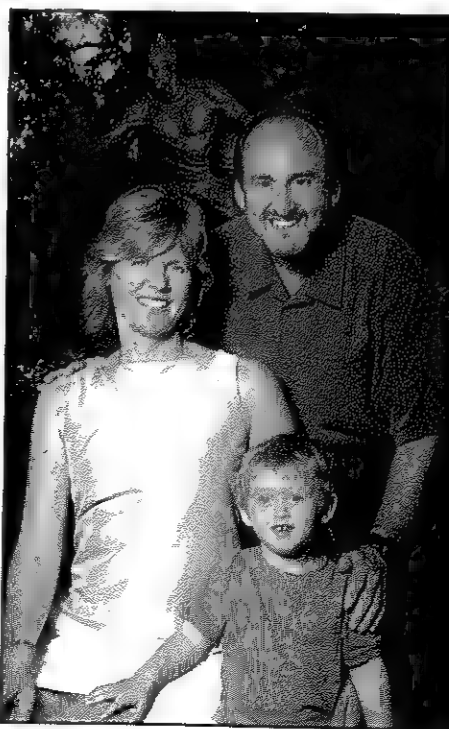

In his first season directing the offense in 2003, Ver Steeg oversaw a unit that tallied 329 points, the fifth-highest point total in school history, and had 4,423 yards total offense, also fifth-best all-time at Rutgers. In 2004, the Scarlet Knights boasted the top-ranked passing offense in the BIG EAST, and the third-best in the conference in total offense. In 2005, the Scarlet Knights were second in the BIG EAST in total offense and second in passing offense. In addition, Ver Steeg spent three seasons (2003-05) as quarterbacks coach and tutored Ryan Hart, who established nearly every Rutgers passing mark in his three-plus seasons as the starting quarterback.

Ver Steeg came to Rutgers with a successful background as an offensive coach at four Division I institutions, as well as with the NFL's Chicago Bears. Prior to joining the Scarlet Knights' staff, he served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for two seasons (2001-2002) at the University of Utah.

In his first season at Utah in 2001, Ver Steeg's offensive system helped the Utes improve 50-plus places nationally in most offensive categories. The 2001 Utes finished 24th in total offense, including 12th in rushing offense and 40th in scoring.

Prior to his stint at Utah, Ver Steeg was quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator at Illinois for four seasons (1997-00). Ver Steeg also served as quarterbacks coach, wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at Cincinnati (1990-93), and passing game coordinator, quarterbacks and wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at Harvard (1994-95). Head coach Greg Schiano and Ver Steeg were both members of the NFL's Chicago Bears coaching staff during the 1996 and 1997 seasons.

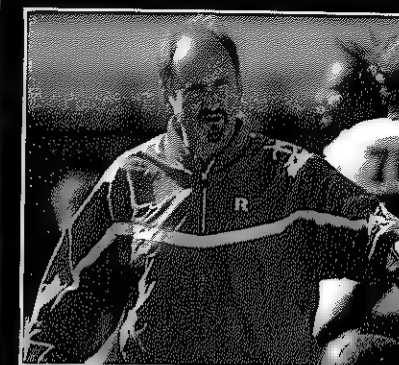

In 1984, Ver Steeg was a graduate assistant at Southern California. He held the same post at Utah in 1986-87 and 1989, and served as Utah's recruiting coordinator in 1988.

Ver Steeg's first full-time coaching position was at Cincinnati in 1990, where he coached the Bearcats' wide receivers for two seasons, followed by two years as quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator. In 1993, Cincinnati notched an 8-3 record, was ranked No. 27 in the nation, and was the Independent Football Alliance champion.

Among his pupils through the years, Ver Steeg has worked with record-setting Utah quarterback Scott Mitchell, who went on to play 12 seasons in the NFL. At Illinois, Ver Steeg worked with Kurt Kittner, who as a sophomore broke Jeff George's single-season record for TD passes with 24. Kittner was Illinois' MVP in 1999, and was also MVP of the Micronpc.com Bowl that year. Kittner led the Amsterdam Admirals to the NFL Europe Championship in June, 2005.

Ver Steeg graduated from Southern California in 1983 and received his master's degree from Southern California in 1986. He and his wife, Lisa, are the proud parents of son Ian.

EDDIE ALLEN

GRADUATE ASSISTANT

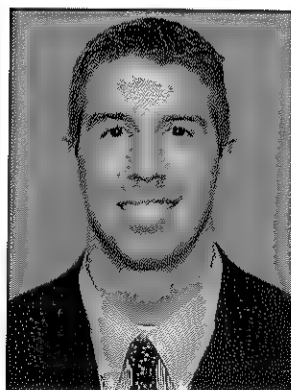

Eddie Allen begins his first season as a Graduate Assistant and works primarily with the Scarlet Knight special teams unit. Allen is in his third year on the Rutgers football staff after joining the program in 2005 as a member of player development.

Allen began his career in collegiate coaching as the Offensive Graduate Assistant and Video Coordinator at Hofstra University in 2003. He then served as the Wide Receiver Coach at Fort Scott Community College in Fort Scott, Kan., during the 2004 season.

A native of Somerville, N.J., Allen graduated from the University of New Haven in 2003, earning a Bachelor's Degree in Biology. He was a four-year letterwinner at quarterback for the Chargers and played under current Rutgers Associate Head Coach Darren Rizzi.

MIKE O'CONNOR

GRADUATE ASSISTANT

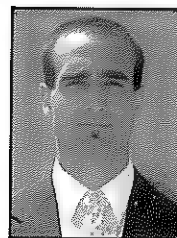

Mike O'Connor enters his first season as a Graduate Assistant and works primarily with the Scarlet Knight defense. O'Connor, who joined the Rutgers football program in 2005, is in his third year on the Scarlet Knight staff after serving the previous two seasons as a member of player development.

O'Connor graduated from Lafayette College in 2004, where he earned two varsity letters as a quarterback. An Economics and Business major, he was named a 2002 Verizon District II Academic All-American.

A native of Lewisburg, Pa., O'Connor began his professional career in collegiate athletics at Columbia University, as a Video Coordinator in 2004.

Shawn Kennish is in his second season as the Director of Internal Operations. He assumed the post in July 2006 after serving as the Coordinator of Football Operations the previous season. In his fifth year with the Rutgers football program, Kennish graduated from Rutgers in 2004 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Exercise Science and Sports Studies with a focus in Sports Management. He had initially joined the program as an undergraduate, working three years as a strength and conditioning assistant.

Upon graduation, Kennish was appointed to the position of Football Operations Assistant.

Kennish graduated from Toms River High School East in 1999, where he played football and competed in indoor and outdoor track. He also worked as the Strength and Conditioning Coach at Central Regional High School in Bayville, N.J., prior to becoming an Operations Assistant in the Rutgers football program. Kennish resides in New Brunswick, N.J.

JASON MITCHELL

DIRECTOR OF EXTERNAL OPERATIONS

Entering his seventh season with the Rutgers program, Jason Mitchell was named Director of External Operations in July, 2006.

Mitchell previously served as the Rutgers Assistant Recruiting Coordinator, overseeing a staff of 15 recruiting assistants and organizing mailings to prospective recruits, while managing the program's recruiting database and video library.

From 2003-04, Mitchell was a recruiting assistant with the Scarlet Knights, helping the staff with the day-to-day recruiting responsibilities and tasks, including hosting on-campus recruits and planning official recruiting visits.

Mitchell joined the Rutgers program in 2001 as a student assistant. He began his career as an administrative assistant to the head coach at Ramapo High School in 1999 under then head coach Mike Miello, managing equipment and scheduling activities. He spent two seasons at Ramapo before making the move with Miello to Rutgers in the summer of 2001 when Greg Schiano was hired as the Scarlet Knights' head coach.

The 27-year-old Mitchell earned his Bachelor of Science in Exercise Science and Sports Studies from Rutgers in 2005. He resides in New Brunswick, N.J.

SCOTT WALKER

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Scott Walker is in his fourth season as part of the Rutgers Academic Support department, having been named Director of Football Academic Support this year. Since his arrival, Walker has overseen the entire academic program for the Rutgers football team.

In the most recent NCAA Academic Progress Report (APR), the Rutgers football squad ranked seventh nationally with a mark of 971. In addition, Rutgers achieved the top APR of any Division I-A state university in the nation and also led the BIG EAST in an APR rate for a football program.

Prior to his tenure at Rutgers, Walker spent three seasons as an assistant football coach at Cornell. Walker was named the running backs coach at Cornell in the spring of 2001.

Prior to joining the Big Red staff, Walker spent five seasons at Georgia Tech, including three as the director of academics for the football team. In 1997, he was the assistant director of football operations. Before joining the staff at Tech, Walker was a coach at the University of Maine for six years, including the final two as the running game coordinator.

Previous to his time at Maine, Walker also spent time coaching at Purdue, Iowa and Texas.

Walker graduated from Princeton in 1984 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in geology. During his time at Princeton, he worked as the freshman defensive ends coach from 1982-84. In addition to attending college in New Jersey, Walker spent 15 years recruiting the New Jersey metropolitan area for various universities during his coaching career.

Walker and his wife, Michelle, have a son, Kyle.

Academic achievement has been a hallmark of Coach Schiano's tenure at Rutgers. The Academic Performance Rate (APR) released by the NCAA showed that the Scarlet Knights are perennially-ranked program at the top among all Division I-A programs.

With a rate of 971, Rutgers Football ranked seventh in the nation and first among state universities and BIG EAST institutions.

JENNA BEVERLY

ATHLETIC ACADEMIC ADVISOR/ ACADEMIC SERVICES COORDINATOR

Jenna Beverly arrived at Rutgers in September of 2004 bringing experience in academics and compliance from the University of Oregon and the University of Connecticut.

While at Oregon, Beverly served as a graduate assistant in compliance and then as an academic advisor, spending two years in each role.

In between the two positions at Oregon, Beverly came back east for a brief stint at the University of Connecticut as a compliance assistant handling various compliance duties, including initial eligibility.

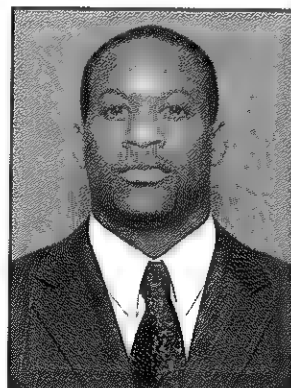

During her time at the University of Oregon, Beverly received her Masters Degree in Higher Education Administration.

Beverly's responsibilities at Rutgers include serving as an academic advisor for the football program, while overseeing the Academic Support Services programs, including supplemental instruction, learning assistance, and tutoring. She is responsible for hiring, scheduling and monitoring Academic Services staff in accordance with NCAA regulations of these programs.

Beverly, a native of Northbridge, Mass., graduated from the University of Kansas in 2000 with a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology. While at Kansas, she lettered her freshman year in softball and then worked with the women's basketball program during her final three years.

DARRICK BROWN

ATHLETIC ACADEMIC ADVISOR

Darrick Brown enters his first full season as an Athletic Academic Advisor for the Rutgers football team after arriving "On the Banks" in November of 2006. In addition to his advising duties, Brown also oversees book purchasing for all scholarship student-athletes.

Prior to Rutgers, he served as a Student Services Advisor for the Adult Learning Center at Essex County College where he coordinated the daily operations, including college enrollment, financial aid, tutoring, learning strategies, testing and job readiness.

He was also a Career Development Specialist with the Covenant House in charge of mapping out and tracking the educational and vocational goals of homeless youth.

Brown, a native of Atlantic City, N.J., graduated from the University of Maine with a degree in Psychology in 2000. As a member of the Maine football team, Darrick was a four-year varsity letterwinner as a defensive back and return specialist. He was a two-time all-conference return man and still holds several return records for the program.

DAVID McCUNE

HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER - FOOTBALL

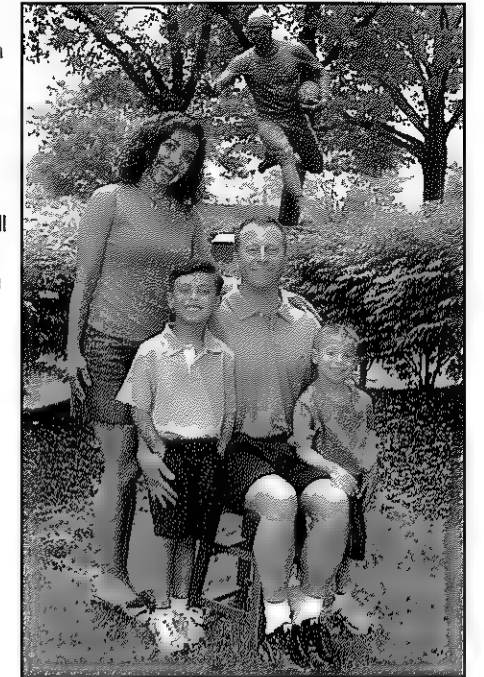

David McCune is in his seventh season as Head Football Athletic Trainer at Rutgers. He oversees all aspects of athletic training from injury prevention to rehabilitation within the program. McCune also assists with the coordination of the entire athletic department's athletic training staff.

He has worked with head coach Greg Schiano for more than a decade, also serving as Coordinator of Athletic Training and Football Athletic Trainer at the University of Miami for four seasons (1997-2000), before accompanying Schiano to the Scarlet Knights for the 2001 season.

McCune, a Virginia native, graduated from James Madison in 1986, and earned his Master's Degree from Southwest Missouri State in 1988. He began his career as an Assistant Athletic Trainer at Southwest Missouri in 1989, where he worked for one year before being named Head Athletic Trainer at the University of Miami's HealthSouth Sports Medicine Clinic (1989-93).

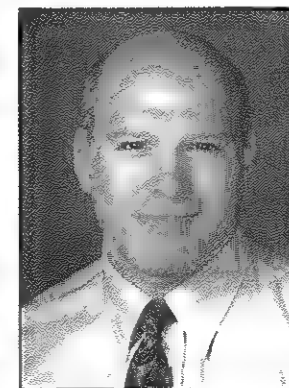

From 1993-95, he was Director of Sports Medicine for the HealthSouth Sports Medicine Clinic. He then returned to his alma mater, James Madison, as Athletic Trainer, where he served from 1995-97 before re-joining the Miami program.

David and his wife, Cindy Lou, are the proud parents of two sons.

DR. ROBERT MONACO

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS/SPORTS MEDICINE

Dr. Robert Monaco is in his 11th year as the Associate Director of Athletics/Sports Medicine and has served as Team Physician for the football program since his arrival in 1996. In addition to working with the football team, Monaco oversees the medical treatment for the University's remaining Division I sports. His responsibilities also include supervising a group of 10 full-time certified athletic trainers.

In addition to his work with the Scarlet Knights, Dr. Monaco is a clinical professor in the Department of Family Medicine at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and directs the school's Sports Medicine Fellowship Program.

Dr. Monaco earned his Bachelor's Degree from Columbia University, where he was an All-Ivy League wrestler and team captain in 1986 and 1987. He went on to receive his Medical Degree from the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, where he was a member of the Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Honor Society. He completed his residency at UMDNJ Robert Wood Johnson Medical School and St. Peter's Hospital in New Brunswick, working with the Department of Family Medicine.

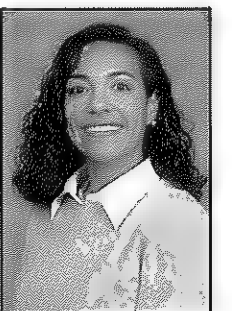

Dr. Monaco has also done postgraduate study and completed a fellowship in Sports Medicine at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, which included work at Princeton University and the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City. In addition, Dr. Monaco holds a Master's in Public Health from Rutgers and UMDNJ Robert Wood Johnson Medical School.

A native of Nutley, N.J., Dr. Monaco comes from a family of physical educators, coaches, and athletes.

Dr. Monaco and his wife, Carolyn, are the proud parents of two children.

CHRIS HAYES

VIDEO COORDINATOR

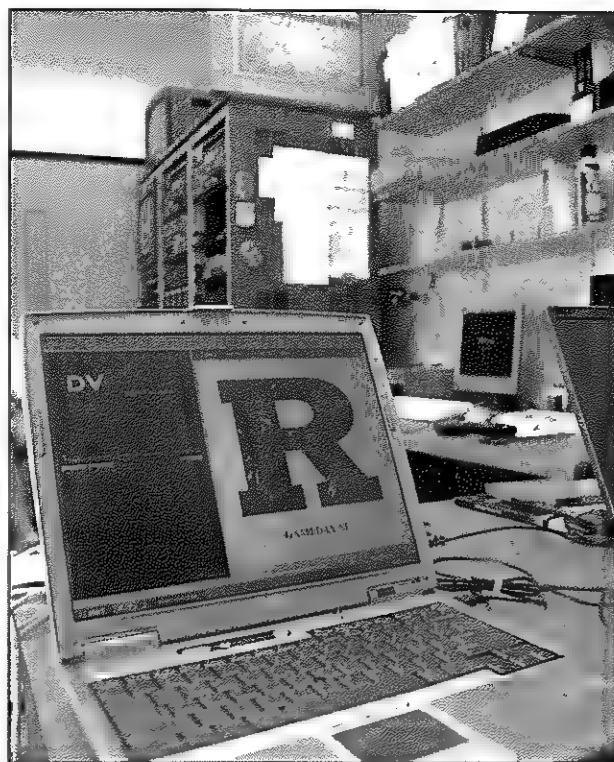

Chris Hayes enters his second season as Video Coordinator for the Rutgers football program. He joined the staff in July, 2006 and brings with him a wealth of video filming and editing knowledge after serving the previous two years in the program's video department.

Hayes' daily responsibilities include the fulfilling of all internal visual needs of the program. He is primarily in charge of filming and editing video for instant analysis by the coaching staff using the latest video technology available in DVSport Software. He oversees the Assistant Video Coordinator and a staff of eight student assistants.

In 2005, Hayes worked as an intern in the Rutgers video department where he gained experience in editing video and organization of film sessions. During games, he filmed from field level and edited highlights on a weekly basis. Hayes also assisted with the NFL's New York Jets and DVSport in 2005.

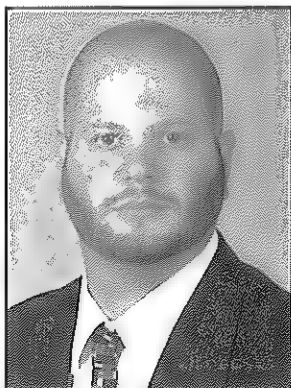

A 2006 graduate with honors from Rutgers University with a B.A. in Communications and Criminal Justice, Hayes began his work in the program's video department in January 2004 as a student assistant. He filmed practices on a daily basis, along with each of the Scarlet Knights' home and away games.

Hayes resides in Old Bridge, N.J.

STEPHEN PRATTI

ASSISTANT VIDEO COORDINATOR

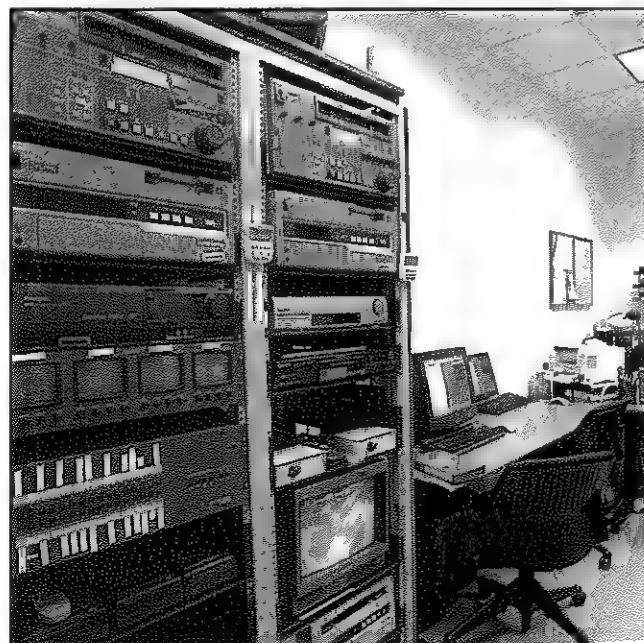

Stephen Pratti is in his third season as Assistant Video Coordinator. He joined the staff in the summer prior to the 2005 season. Pratti assists with the day-to-day video operations for football, where his primary responsibilities include producing and editing team highlight films and directing cameras for team practices.

Pratti came to Rutgers after serving four seasons with the NFL's Washington Redskins from 2001-04, where he assisted with the video operations for the organization.

He spent one season working with the University of Maryland staff, working all aspects of video production for the athletic department.

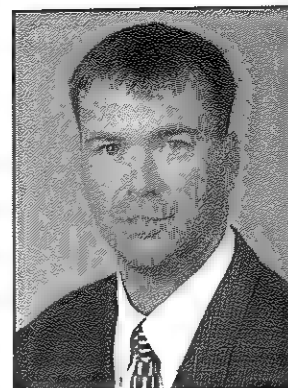

Pratti got his start as an intern with the NFL's New York Giants in 1998-99, before graduating from William Paterson University in 1999, with a communications degree.

Pratti resides in Eatontown, N.J.

A 1989 graduate of the UMass-Amherst, Gilmartin earned a bachelor's degree in management. He is a NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist and a USAW Level 1 Club Coach.

Gilmartin, a Massachusetts native, graduated from Millis (Mass.) High School where he played football and basketball.

He resides in Somerset, N.J.

ARNO RHEINBERGER

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

Arno Rheinberger is in his fifth year as an athletic trainer at Rutgers University. He works primarily with the football and men's lacrosse teams.

Prior to working at Rutgers, Rheinberger was an Assistant Athletic Trainer with the Frankfurt Galaxy of NFL Europe. He also was a seasonal athletic trainer with the New York Giants over the course of three seasons.

Rheinberger completed his graduate studies in Kinesiology at the University of Wyoming ('02) and received his Bachelor of Science at Rutgers University ('00).

Rheinberger currently resides in New Brunswick.

MIKE TUFO

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING ASSISTANT

Mike Tufo is in his third year as an Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach with the Rutgers football program.

He joined the Rutgers staff in 2005 after completing his Master's Degree in Kinesiology at the University of Connecticut. In addition to assisting with the football and men's and women's basketball programs at Rutgers, Tufo is the Head Strength and Conditioning Coach for the men's soccer and women's swimming programs.

At UConn, Tufo was a Graduate Assistant in the Department of Kinesiology as well as an assistant to the strength and conditioning department. He worked with 22 of the 24 teams trained by the Strength and Conditioning Department including the football and basketball programs. Tufo began working in the Strength and Conditioning field in 2002 at Princeton University.

The 27-year-old Tufo earned a B.S. in Exercise Science from the College of New Jersey. He resides in New Brunswick, N.J.

PAT MANNING

HEAD EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Pat Manning serves as the head equipment manager for the Scarlet Knight football program.

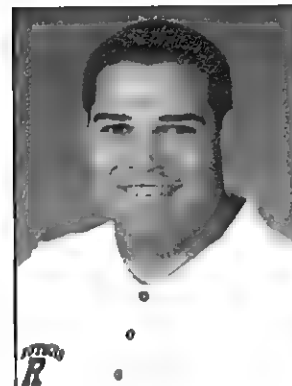

A 1972 Rutgers graduate with a degree in physical education, Manning has traveled worldwide with the United States lacrosse team, while also serving as an equipment manager at Purdue University and at Metuchen High School as a certified athletic trainer.

Pat and his wife, Carla, reside in Highland Park, N.J.

ULY MOLINA

ASSISTANT EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Uly Molina, a 1989 Rutgers College graduate, is heavily involved in the day-to-day operation of the football equipment staff.

THE BIG EAST CONFERENCE

an 11-7 record against BCS Conference opponents. The league's best sports stories. Each week seemed to bring with it memorable matchups and record-breaking feats. But it was the brilliant ending - a perfect 5-0 record in bowl games - that put the finishing touches on this BIG EAST best season.

The league ended the 2006 regular season with a winning percentage of .800 in non-conference games (32-8 record) - the highest in the 16-year history of the conference. This mark included percentage of all BIG EAST football teams in '06 (64%) was the best of any Division I-A conference in the country.

Five of the eight BIG EAST teams went to bowl games and all five emerged victorious. The league captured wins in the FedEx Orange Bowl (Louisville), the Gator Bowl (West Virginia), the Texas Bowl (Rutgers), the PapaJohn's.com Bowl (LSU) and the International Bowl (Cincinnati). The BIG EAST's 5-0 bowl mark was the best bowl record of any Division I-A conference in '06, earning the league ESPN's Bow, Challenge Cup. It was only the second time since the inception of the BCS that an automatic qualifying conference has gone undefeated in any one bowl season.

Three BIG EAST teams wound down the '06 campaign in the top 12 of the final Associated Press and USA Today Polls (No. 6/7), West Virginia (No. 10/10) and Rutgers (No. 12/12).

In 2005, three new schools - the University of Cincinnati, University of Louisville and University of South Florida - joined Connecticut, Pittsburgh, Rutgers, Syracuse and West Virginia in the BIG EAST. The additions increased the football membership to eight schools and gave the BIG EAST a presence that ranged as far south as Tampa, Fla., and as far west as Louisville, Ky.

In the first season as the "newlook" BIG EAST in 2005, four conference schools earned trips to bowl games. West Virginia (11-1, 7-0 BIG EAST) finished the regular season unbeaten in league play for the first time since 1993 to win the conference title. Earning the BIG EAST's automatic Bowl Championship Series bid, West Virginia represented the conference in the 2006 Nokia Sugar Bowl in Atlanta. The Mountaineers defeated Georgia, 38-35, to finish the year fifth in the final Associated Press Top 25 Poll and sixth in the final USA Today Poll. Louisville was ranked 19th and 20th, respectively, in the final AP and USA Today polls.

Over the last six seasons, the BIG EAST has compiled one of the best winning percentages of any BCS conference in bowl games. BIG EAST Conference teams are 21-13 in postseason play since 2000.

The BIG EAST has been a frequent contender for the national championship. Eight times in the league's 16 seasons a BIG EAST squad has been in a bowl game, playing for a claim to the national crown.

The BIG EAST has always been proud of its football student-athletes for their academic achievements. In 2006, West Virginia senior linebacker Jay Henry was named the BIG EAST/AeropaState Football Scholar-Athlete of the Year. Henry, along with Louisville junior quarterback Brian Brohm, also received ESPN The Magazine/CosIDA Academic All-America First Team accolades. WVU senior center Dan Mozes earned second team recognition. In addition, Rutgers' senior fullback Brian Leonard was the recipient of the Draddy Trophy. Known in many circles as the "Academic" Heisman, the Draddy Trophy continues to be one of college football's most sought after and competitive awards, recognizing an individual as the absolute best in the country for his combined academic success, football performance and exemplary community leadership.

Since its birth, the BIG EAST has been a national power both on and off the field. Commissioner Michael Tranghese served as coordinator of the BCS for two years from 2002-03. He has spearheaded the development of BIG EAST football since its beginning.

The BIG EAST Conference's entrance into football was announced on February 5, 1991. The league gained instant notice and credibility with its level of excellence on the field and with its television and bowl relationships. The BIG EAST has been a charter member of each of the major bowl agreements with the major conferences, beginning with The Bowl Coalition in 1992 followed by The Bowl Alliance in '95. The Bowl Championship Series began in '98.

Extensive television exposure and the BIG EAST have been synonymous terms. For football, the league established its own regional television package in 1991 before it had played a game. The BIG EAST Television Network immediately was the largest regional college football network in the country. The BIG EAST has television agreements with ABC and ESPN that run through the 2007 season. Both agreements ensure that ABC or ESPN telecasts a BIG EAST game virtually every week of the year. The BIG EAST and ESPN have already agreed on a new six-year contract that will further enhance the league's exposure. The new agreement will begin with the 2008 regular season and run through 2013.

Of the 73 games played this past season involving BIG EAST teams, 29 of them were seen on ABC, ESPN or ESPN2. In addition, 37 others were seen on either ESPN Regional, ESPNJ, ESPN350, FSN, CSTV or the NFL Network.

ESPN Regional Television owns broadcasting rights for all telecasts not assigned to ABC or ESPN. ERT, which took over for the BIG EAST Network in 1996, produces and distributes additional games, including a BIG EAST Game of the Week, through syndication, local markets and pay-per-view. The BIG EAST has always aligned itself with prestigious bowl games. The league is one of the original founders of the Bowl Championship Series and continues to be one of only six conferences that receive an automatic annual bid.

The BIG EAST Conference champion earns the league's automatic BCS bid. The BCS - which enters its 10th season in 2007-08 - is a five-game arrangement for postseason college football that is designed to match the two top-rated teams in a national championship game and to create exciting and competitive matchups between eight other highly regarded teams in four other BCS games. If the BIG EAST champion finishes No. 1 or No. 2 in the final BCS standings, then that team will earn a spot in the BCS National Championship Game. Otherwise, the league champion will compete in one of the four remaining BCS bowl games - the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl, FedEx Orange Bowl, Allstate Sugar Bowl or the Rose Bowl. Each bowl hosts two games once every four years - its traditional game plus a National Championship contest approximately one week later.

In a first-of-its-kind collaboration among Division I conferences and football bowl partners, the BIG EAST and Big 12 Conferences - along with Notre Dame - forged a bowl partnership beginning in '06. This agreement assures both BCS Conferences' and Notre Dame's participation in the Gator Bowl and Brut Sun Bowl over a four-year period. The Gator Bowl or Brut Sun Bowl will pick a BIG EAST team after the league's representative to the Bowl Championship Series has been determined. The Atlantic Coast Conference will provide the opposition in the Gator Bowl (CBS) and the Pac-10 Conference will participate in the Brut Sun Bowl (CBS).

The Gator Bowl has the first selection at the conclusion of each season. During the four years of the deal, the BIG EAST (or Notre Dame) will send a team to both the Gator Bowl and the Sun Bowl twice.

The Meineke Car Care Bowl is now in its sixth year with the BIG EAST Conference. The Meineke Car Care Bowl, which is played in Bank of America Stadium in Charlotte, N.C., picks after the Gator Bowl or Brut Sun Bowl.

In 2005, the BIG EAST entered into a four-year agreement to participate in the Texas Bowl versus an opponent from the Big 12 Conference. During the four-year agreement, the BIG EAST is guaranteed to play in the bowl game twice (2006 and 2008). The Texas Bowl is played at the state-of-the-art Reliant Stadium in Houston, Texas.

The BIG EAST Conference also aligned itself with two new bowls beginning last season - the International Bowl in Toronto, Ontario, and the PapaJohn's.com Bowl in Birmingham, Ala. The agreements give the BIG EAST a total of six bowl deals. In the International Bowl, the BIG EAST faces a team from the Mid-American Conference. In the PapaJohn's.com Bowl, the BIG EAST plays a team from Conference USA.

2006 SEASON REVIEW

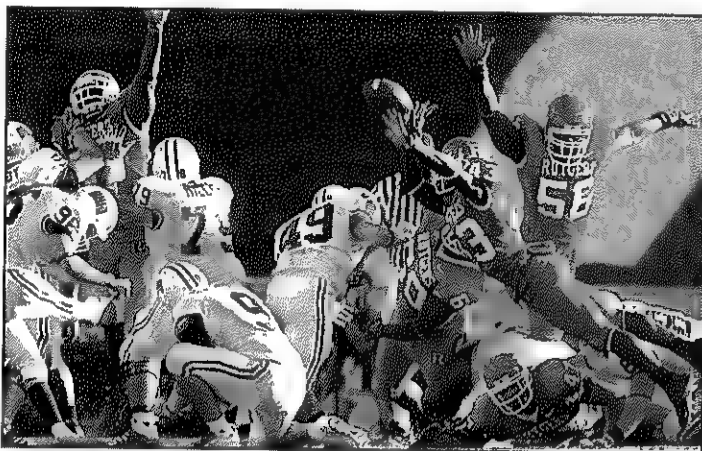

RUTGERS' REMARKABLE RUN CULMINATES WITH BOWL WIN

Looking back at the remarkable run for Rutgers in 2006, the Scarlet Knights captured the nation's attention with one of the most dramatic stories in college football history. For just the second time in 137 seasons of football, the Scarlet Knights won 11 games in a season (one of only 14 teams in the nation in 2006 to record 11 victories) going 11-2 after the program's first bowl championship with a 37-10 victory over Kansas State in the Texas Bowl.

RUTGERS ENDS THE SEASON NO. 12

In the final Associated Press Top 25 and USA Today/Coaches Top 25, Rutgers finished the season ranked No. 12, its highest season-ending ranking in school history. The Scarlet Knights ended the season ranked in 12 consecutive polls, the longest stretch in school history.

The highest ranking for the Scarlet Knights during the season was No. 7 in the Associated Press and No. 8 in the USA Today/Coaches poll.

HOME FIELD ADVANTAGE

With its 38-7 win over Syracuse last year, Rutgers finished the season undefeated at home for the 13th time in school history (137 seasons) and for the first time since 1984.

The victory over the Orange also secured the best single-season record in school history at the "new" Rutgers Stadium at 6-0.

AMONG THE NATION'S ELITE

Rutgers ranked in the nation's top 20 in nine different team statistical categories in 2006, including six top-10 rankings for the defense. Below is a breakdown of Rutgers' top-25 statistical units in the final 2006 NCAA Rankings:

| Category | Rank | Total |
|-------------------------|------|-------|
| Rushing Offense | 15 | 180.2 |
| Scoring Offense | 22 | 29.8 |
| Rushing Defense | 17 | 101.0 |
| Pass Efficiency Defense | 8 | 103.7 |
| Total Defense | 4 | 252.2 |
| Scoring Defense | 8 | 14.3 |
| Turnover Margin | 10 | 0.85 |
| Pass Defense | 6 | 151.3 |
| Sacks | 5 | 3.2 |
| Tackles for Loss | 5 | 7.9 |
| Sacks Allowed | 1 | 0.6 |

RICHARD L. McCORMICK

PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

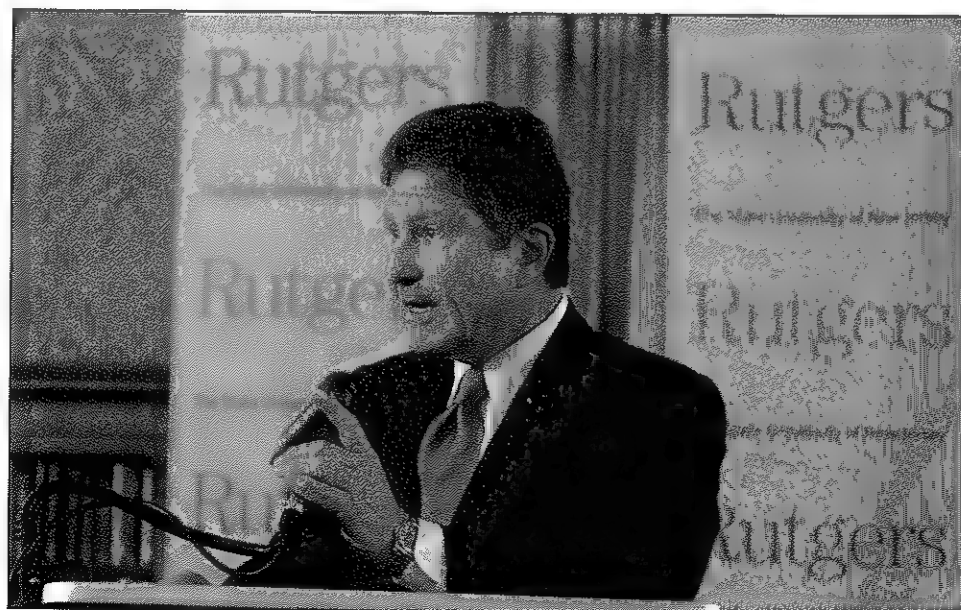

Richard L. McCormick became the 19th President of Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, on December 1, 2002. Dr. McCormick's top priorities are maintaining and enhancing Rutgers' academic quality and connecting the university more deeply to the people of New Jersey.

Prior to becoming president of Rutgers, Dr. McCormick enjoyed a distinguished career as a faculty member, scholar, and university administrator. After earning his B.A. in American studies from Amherst College in 1969 and his Ph.D. in history from Yale University in 1976, Dr. McCormick began his career as an assistant professor of history at Rutgers-New Brunswick. He rose through the ranks to become professor of history [1985], chair of the Department of History (1987-1989), and dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences (1989-1992). From Rutgers, Dr. McCormick moved in 1992 to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he served as executive vice chancellor, provost, and vice chancellor for academic affairs. In 1995 he became president of the University of Washington where he served until returning to Rutgers in 2002.

The author of three books and numerous articles, Dr. McCormick is a recognized scholar of American political history. In 1985, he held a John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation Fellowship as well as a Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars Fellowship. Dr. McCormick is actively involved in the work of a number of national and international education organizations including the Association of American Universities.

Dr. McCormick is married to Joan Barry McCormick. He has two children, Betsy and Michael.

RUTGERS

THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW JERSEY

A BRIEF HISTORY

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, is one of the leading universities in the nation. The university is made up of 26 degree-granting divisions: nine undergraduate colleges, 11 graduate schools, and six schools offering both undergraduate and graduate degrees. Five are located in Camden, seven in Newark, and 14 in New Brunswick/Piscataway.

Rutgers has a unique history as a colonial college, a land-grant institution, and a state university. Chartered in 1766 as Queen's College, the eighth institution of higher learning to be founded in the colonies, the school opened its doors in New Brunswick in 1771 with a lone instructor, a single sophomore, and a handful of first-year students. During its early years, the college developed as a classic liberal arts institution. In 1825, the name of the college was changed to honor a former trustee and Revolutionary War veteran, Colonel Henry Rutgers.

Rutgers College became the land-grant college of New Jersey in 1864, resulting in the establishment of the Rutgers Scientific School, featuring departments of agriculture, engineering, and chemistry. Further expansion in the sciences came with the founding of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station in 1880, the College of Engineering (now the School of Engineering) in 1914, and the College of Agriculture (now the School of Environmental and Biological Sciences) in 1921. The precursors to several other Rutgers divisions were also established during this period: the College of Pharmacy (now the Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy) in 1892, the New Jersey College for Women (now part of the School of Arts and Sciences) in 1918, and the School of Education in 1924.

Rutgers College assumed university status in 1924, and legislative acts in 1945 and 1956 designated all its divisions as The State University of New Jersey. During these years the university expanded significantly with the founding of an evening division - University College - in 1934 and the addition of the University of Newark (now Rutgers-Newark) in 1946 and the College of South Jersey at Camden (now Rutgers-Camden) in 1950.

Since the 1950's, Rutgers has continued to expand, especially in the area of graduate education. The Graduate School-New Brunswick, Graduate School-Newark, and Graduate School-Camden each serve their respective campuses. In addition, professional schools have been established in such areas as public affairs and administration, social work, criminal justice, applied and professional psychology, the fine arts, and communication, information and library studies. [A number of these schools offer undergraduate programs as well.] Also at the undergraduate level, Livingston College was founded in 1969, emphasizing the urban environment.

The first Summer Session began in 1913 with one six-week session. That summer program offered 47 courses and had an enrollment of 314 students. Currently, Summer Session offers over 1,000 courses to more than 15,000 students on the Camden, Newark, and New Brunswick/Piscataway campuses, off-campus, and abroad.

Today, Rutgers continues to grow, both in its facilities and in the variety and depth of its educational and research programs. The university's goals for the future include the continued provision of the highest quality education, along with the increased support of research and commitment to public service to meet the needs of society.

RUTGERS AT A GLANCE

- Chartered in 1766 as Queen's College, Rutgers is the eighth oldest college in the nation.
- Rutgers was designated the State University of New Jersey by legislative acts in 1945 and 1956.
- Rutgers is New Jersey's largest public research university and is located on three regional campuses in Camden, Newark, and New Brunswick/Piscataway.
- Rutgers was named New Jersey's land-grant university in 1864 and has a special responsibility for serving the needs of the state.
- Rutgers is a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a highly selective organization composed of the 62 leading research universities in North America.
- There are 26 degree-granting schools and colleges, offering more than 100 distinct bachelor's, 100 masters, and 80 doctoral and professional degree programs.
- Rutgers is one of New Jersey's major employers with some 4,766 faculty and 6,350 staff.
- For every dollar New Jersey invests in Rutgers, the university channels $5 into the state's economy. In 2003, the amount of state support was $524 million, while the combined effect of university direct and indirect spending was estimated at $2.8 billion.
- With holdings of more than 6.4 million volumes, the Rutgers library system ranks among the nation's largest.
- Rutgers enrolls more than 50,000 students, including over 37,000 undergraduates and 13,000 graduate students.
- More than 10,000 students each year earn a degree from Rutgers.
- The university has more than 347,000 living alumni; nearly 200,000 alumni reside in New Jersey.

TEACHING AND LEARNING

- Rutgers faculty include MacArthur "genius" Fellows, National Medal of Science and National Medal of Technology recipients, Fulbright Scholars, Guggenheim Fellows, members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and winners of many other prestigious awards and grants.
- The graduate philosophy department is ranked second in the English-speaking world by the Philosophical Gourmet Report.
- Rutgers Business School-Newark and New Brunswick is ranked among the top five schools in the country for technology management according to a Journal of Product Innovation Management study. It is tenth out of 51 for international business according to a Journal of International Business Studies report. BusinessWeek ranks the school's Executive MBA program fifth in the world in the area of strategy and sixth in the area of finance.

RESEARCH

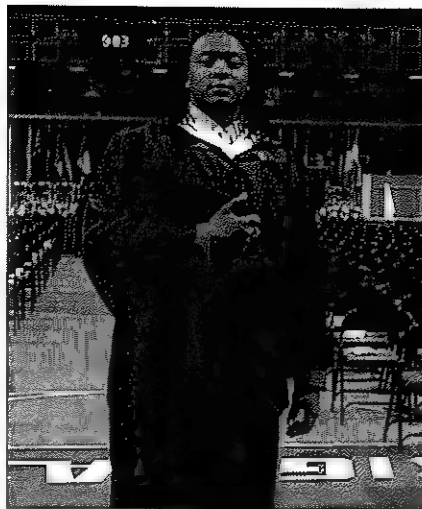

- Streptomycin, the first effective cure for tuberculosis, and other potent antibiotics were discovered at Rutgers by Professor Selman Waksman and his students in the 1940s. Waksman received the Nobel Prize for his important contributions to medicine.
- The New Brunswick/Piscataway campus is home to the New Jersey Stem Cell Institute, a joint endeavor with the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. The institute is devoted to finding new and effective approaches to treating seemingly incurable diseases such as Parkinson's, Alzheimer's, diabetes, and spinal cord injury.
- The Rutgers Cell and DNA Repository is a valuable resource for researchers around the world studying the role heredity plays in complex genetic diseases such as schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, autism, Alzheimer's, alcoholism, diabetes, and Tourette's syndrome. The repository, which holds samples donated by more than 100,000 people, is supported by more than $60 million in federal grants.
- The Protein Data Bank, based at Rutgers, is the international repository of three-dimensional protein structures. With $30 million in federal funding, the data bank provides vital information on more than 35,000 proteins and other macromolecules for scientists working to design more effective treatments for disease.
- Rutgers' Institute of Marine and Coastal Sciences ranks among America's top 15 marine research organizations based on peer competition for National Science Foundation research funding.
- The Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy, the only pharmacy school in New Jersey, ranks in the top 10 percent among pharmacy schools nationwide in research dollars awarded by the National Institutes of Health.
- Rutgers holds approximately 411 patents and, since 1989, has licensed 49 start-up or early-stage companies.
- Rutgers is a partner in the Southern African Large Telescope, one of the world's largest optical telescopes and the southern hemisphere's newest eye-on-the-sky.
- Rutgers University is leading the Northeast Structural Genomics Consortium, a $52.7 million research program to reveal the roles that proteins play in life's most fundamental processes.

SERVICE TO NEW JERSEY

- Rutgers' Center for Government Services trains New Jersey's municipal employees to better serve their constituents and certifies approximately 17,000 annually.
- The Rutgers Business School operates the New Jersey Small Business Development Centers in all 21 counties, serving more than 7,000 clients annually and offering classes to some 15,000 individuals.
- In 2005, Continuous Education and Outreach offered over 3,700 course sections to more than 50,000 individuals. Courses are offered in almost every county in New Jersey.
- The Office of the New Jersey State Climatologist at Rutgers is the state's official weather resource.
- Each year, Rutgers holds the New Jersey Folk Festival and Ag Field Day on a single Saturday in April, bringing together some 15,000 people to celebrate the state's diverse populations and agricultural heritage.

SERVICE TO THE NATION

- Rutgers research on life deep beneath the ocean's surface is prominently featured in "Volcanoes of the Deep," an IMAX film shown at museums around the country.
- Rutgers' agricultural research has led to durable turfgrass, juicy tomatoes, disease-resistant dogwoods, and improved varieties of asparagus. Rutgers turfgrass varieties are used at Yankee Stadium, Central Park, and other venues nationwide.
- Nationally respected institutes at Rutgers such as the National Transit Institute and the National Institute for Early Education Research are helping to shape United States and state policy in critical areas.
- Rutgers is the nation's primary source for antiterror security training for public transit workers.
- Most meals ready to eat (MREs) manufactured for our nation's troops are produced using Rutgers-developed technology.
- The Douglass Developmental Disabilities Center is a pioneer in developing effective methods to help autistic children.

ROBERT E. MULCAHY III DIRECTOR OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Innovation, achievement and excellence have been the hallmarks of Robert Mulcahy's tenure as Director of Athletics at Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey. Since coming to Rutgers in 1998, Mulcahy has been the guiding force in the continued development of the university's Division of Intercollegiate Athletics program. He is committed to the ideal that Rutgers

Athletics will ensure the best possible experience for its student-athletes by providing the resources necessary to attain success in the classroom and in athletic competition.

In his nine years at the helm, Mulcahy has authored a period that has evolved into one of the most memorable eras in the history of Rutgers Athletics. Through his leadership and vision, Mulcahy has guided the division to unprecedented accomplishment during his tenure. In the 2006-07 academic year, Rutgers Athletics was rated among the nation's elite for academic and athletic achievement, with five Scarlet Knight teams ranking in the final Top 25 of their respective sports' polls, and two more teams narrowly missing. Highlighting the year was the football team's ascension through the Top 25 on its way to its second straight bowl appearance and the Texas Bowl championship, and the women's basketball team's second Final Four appearance since 2000, with an appearance in the NCAA Championship Game.

Wide-ranging improvements in facilities have afforded Rutgers student-athletes the opportunity for greater success in both the classroom and on the playing field. The most recent Academic Progress Report (APR) released by the NCAA, shows that six Rutgers athletics teams scored in the top 20 percent among all Division I programs in their respective sports. The Rutgers football team's APR was the highest of any state university nationally and the best in the BIG EAST Conference. Senior fullback Brian Leonard was the recipient of one of the sport's most prestigious awards, the Draddy Trophy, which is often referred to as the "academic Heisman" and recognizes an individual as the absolute best in the country for his combined academic success, football performance and exemplary community leadership.

Mulcahy has been responsible for raising the division's endowment by $4 million and was instrumental in developing and securing outside revenue totaling $24 million, resulting in the construction and renovation of a number of facilities.

Capital projects from this funding included the expansion and enhancement of the Hale Center, making it one of the finest of its kind nationally, with an expansive strength and conditioning facility, a state-of-the-art training room and academic support facilities which include classrooms, study rooms and computer labs. Rutgers Stadium has enjoyed significant enhancements and will continue to do so under Mulcahy's watch. The state-of-the-art scoreboard, with video capabilities, and Field Turf playing surface, help to ensure the best possible experience for student-athletes and fans.

Other projects have resulted in a modern, state-of-the-art academic support facility in the Louis Brown Athletic Center (the "RAC"), as well as an expanded weight training complex, and a modern media headquarters/interview area. Office space for coaches and administrators was a priority that has come to fruition during Mulcahy's tenure, allowing the senior athletic administration to be centrally located in the RAC for the first time, and future plans call for the continued upgrading of the RAC. The Rutgers baseball program has benefited from the installation of Field Turf at its facility, Bainton Field at the Class of 1953 Baseball Complex.

Mulcahy has made significant upgrades in many areas of the academic support program, including computer labs and tutorial services, and enhancements that have been reflected by gains in the classroom by student-athletes. The division remains committed to its goal of exceeding the grade point average of the general student population. In the latest APR released by the NCAA, two programs (men's cross country and women's tennis) scored a multi-year APR of 1000, while four other teams (women's cross country, gymnastics, women's crew and volleyball) scored 990 or higher. Programs such as the comprehensive RU Strong/LifeSkills have been bolstered to help ensure a positive and meaningful experience for the Rutgers student-athlete.

Under Mulcahy's leadership, Rutgers student-athletes are committed to community involvement. Among the many projects they organize and participate in are the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee annual Holiday Toy Drive, Student-Athlete Blood Drives, the Read Across America program, and area hospital visits.

The Annual Report, which chronicles the division's achievements and goals and was produced for the first time ever following the 1998-99 academic year under Mulcahy's direction, includes the cumulative grade point averages of each varsity team.

Mulcahy has also overseen the institution of a comprehensive marketing and promotional plan to further increase corporate revenue and enhance the overall image of the athletic program. Corporate sponsorship has risen each year during Mulcahy's administration, and will continue to expand as Rutgers Athletics maintains its sponsorship with one of the nation's leading firms, Nelligan Sports Marketing.

All the while, the Rutgers athletic program continues to grow and improve on the field of play.

In the 2006-07 academic year, the Scarlet Knights' football team was the No. 12 ranked team in the country and finished with a 11-2 record and tied for second in the BIG EAST Conference. The women's basketball team was the country's No. 2 rated team after winning the BIG EAST Tournament, the NCAA's Greensboro Regional and advancing to the NCAA Championship Game. Both the men's and women's soccer teams earned NCAA Tournament berths, and the men's and women's lacrosse teams were both ranked in the Top 20 during the year. The Scarlet Knights' baseball team capped off an outstanding athletic season by winning the BIG EAST Regular Season and Tournament titles, and taking the Conference's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

The Scarlet Knights also played host to BIG EAST and NCAA Tournament contests in both men's and women's soccer. Rutgers hosted the 2007 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball East Regional at the sold-out Continental Airlines Arena.

During his tenure at Rutgers, Mulcahy has been a catalyst in leading the BIG EAST Conference. In 2003, Mulcahy spearheaded the development of the reconfigured BIG EAST Conference, which now stands as a powerful 16-team league, including eight institutions competing in Division I-A football as BCS members.

Mulcahy came to Rutgers on April 15, 1998, after an extraordinary 19-year tenure as President and CEO of the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority. Under Mulcahy's leadership, the NJSEA developed into the nation's premier sports and entertainment venue. Among his noteworthy achievements at the Meadowlands included establishing New Jersey as the home of the finest college athletic competition in the country, including the creation of the Kickoff Classic Football Game, attracting the Army-Navy game to the facility on three occasions, and hosting eight NCAA Men's Basketball Eastern Regionals and the last Final Four ever to be held in an Arena, in 1996. Mulcahy led the negotiations that resulted in the NHL's Devils, the NFL's Jets, and Major League Soccer's MetroStars calling the Meadowlands their home.

Mulcahy's leadership at the NJSEA helped develop legislation which led to it overseeing the reconstruction of Rutgers Stadium and building new soccer, lacrosse and track and field facilities in 1994. The Sports and Exposition Authority matured from primarily a horse racing and professional football business into a statewide engine for sports, entertainment and exposition development during Mulcahy's tenure. By the end of his tenure at the Meadowlands, the Sports Complex was hosting 600 events a year, drawing seven million visitors annually to such attractions as the Giants, Jets, Devils, Nets, and horse racing, as well as a broad variety of family shows and concerts.

Mulcahy's lifelong passion for scholastic and college athletics, and his undying commitment to public service, has not gone unnoticed. The New York Times described his tenure with the NJSEA as one of "quiet fervor and foresight, establishing the Meadowlands as one of the nation's leading sports and entertainment complexes." The Newark Star-Ledger hailed the holding of the NCAA Final Four, an event that was co-hosted by Rutgers, in New Jersey as "the miracle of the Meadowlands."

Among his many professional affiliations, Mulcahy serves on the Board of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame, is Chair of its Awards Committee, is an honorary member of the American Football Coaches' Association, and serves or has served on the Boards of several business and charitable corporations, including the Atlantic Health System.

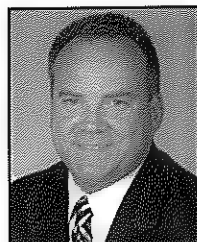

Mulcahy, a graduate of Villanova University (AB in History, 1958), has received several awards from his alma mater, including the Medal of Excellence from the College of Arts and Sciences, the Alumni Medal, and the James "Jumbo" Elliot Achievement Award. Among other honors, his most prized awards include the Knight of St. Gregory medal, received from Pope John Paul II, and the Ellis Island Medal of Honor.

After 37 years in Mendham, Bob and his wife Terry relocated to Basking Ridge. They are the parents of seven children, and also have 11 grandchildren.

"Our goal continues to be graduating well-rounded student-athletes who can use the lessons learned in the classroom and on the field to become leaders in society. To continue to achieve our vision, we must ensure that our student-athletes are afforded the best possible opportunities in their highly-competitive environments. Our strategic plan, a larger endowment, and expanded, state-of-the-art facilities are cornerstones of this vision of excellence." – Robert E. Mulcahy, III

In recognition of his years of service to the Garden State sports world, Bob Mulcahy was inducted into the prestigious New Jersey Sports Hall of Fame in 1999, joining such luminaries as Yogi Berra, Jerry Izenberg, Vince Lombardi, Bill Parcells, Willis Reed and Phil Simms

THE FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Rutgers and Princeton played the first game of intercollegiate football on Nov. 6, 1869, on a plot of ground where the present-day Rutgers gymnasium now stands in New Brunswick, N.J. Rutgers won that first game, 6-4.

The game was played with two teams of 25 men each under rugby-like rules, but like modern football, it was "replete with surprise, strategy, prodigies of determination and physical prowess," to use the words of one of the Rutgers players.

At 3 p.m. on that memorable afternoon, the 50 competitors and about 100 spectators gathered on the field. To distinguish themselves from the bareheaded visitors, 50 Rutgers students, including players, donned scarlet-colored scarves which they converted into turbans.

Events leading up to the game were described by John W. Herbert, Rutgers '72, who was one of the players: "To appreciate this game to the fullest you must know something of its background," Herbert wrote in 1933. "The two colleges were, and still are, of course, about 20 miles apart. The rivalry between them was intense. For years each had striven for possession of an old Revolutionary cannon, making night forays and lugging it back and forth time and again. Not long before the first football game, the canny Princetonians had settled this competition in their own favor by ignominiously sinking the gun in several feet of concrete. In addition to this, I regret to report, Princeton had beaten Rutgers in baseball by the harrowing score of 40-2. Rutgers longed for a chance to square things."

A challenge for the game was issued by Rutgers. Three games were to be played that year. The first, played at New Brunswick, was won by Rutgers. Princeton won the second game, but cries of "over-emphasis" prevented the third game in football's first year when faculties of both institutions protested on the grounds that the games were interfering with student studies.

An analytical account of the game appeared in the November, 1869 issue of the Targum, Rutgers' undergraduate newspaper.

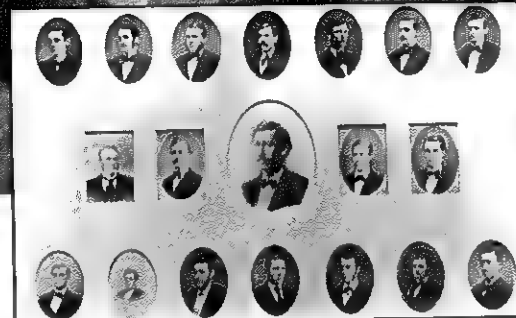

"To describe the varying fortunes of the match, game by game, would be a waste of labor for every game was like the one before," wrote the student reporter. "There was the same headlong running, wild shouting, and frantic kicking.

"To sum up, Princeton had the most muscle, but didn't kick very well, and wanted organization. They evidently don't like to kick the ball on the ground. Our men, on the other hand, though comparatively weak, ran well, and kicked well throughout. But their great point was the organization, for which great praise is due to the captain. The right men were always in the right place."

One of the Princeton players, William Preston Lane, in 1933 contended in a newspaper interview that Rutgers "ran us Princeton men out of town. I never found out why they did that," he related. "But we don't ask any questions. When we saw them coming after us, we ran to the outskirts of New Brunswick and got into our carriages and wagons and went away as fast as we could."

Lane's contention is refuted in the Targum account. "After the match the players had an amicable 'feed together,' the paper reported. "At 8 o'clock our guests went home, in high good spirits, thirsting to beat us next time, if they can."

Regardless of what actually happened after the first game, football was here to stay. Rutgers got Columbia University started in the grid sport the following season and in a few years most of the colleges and universities in the East were represented on the gridiron.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

The following is excerpted from an article that was written by John Bruns, former long-time sports writer for the Home News, and current sports writer for the Easton Times-Express.

When Rutgers defeated Princeton in the first intercollegiate football game ever played in 1869, the setting was quite different than it is today. The game was contested on a field along College Avenue in New Brunswick. There weren't tens of thousands of cheering fans in a multi-million dollar stadium. There was no manicured grass field or electronic scoreboard. There was no elaborate athletic equipment or television cameras. But on that fall day in 1869, those students established a tradition of quality football programs, competitiveness and school spirit that continues at Rutgers, the birthplace of intercollegiate football.

Rutgers won six of 10 games in 1882, but played only one game in 1885. Similarly, the Scarlet Knights went 8-6 in 1891, but two years later played only four games. By the early 1900's, scheduling had become more consistent and football became more popular across the country.

The eight wins of 1891 weren't matched until Rutgers went 8-1 in 1947 with one of the most successful teams of coach Harvey Harman in the Golden Era immediately following World War II. That team, quarterbacked by Frank Burns, who would later become Rutgers' most successful coach, lost its opener to Columbia and then swept through eight straight opponents.

In 1913, coach George Foster Sanford began a tradition of success among Rutgers coaches in their inaugural year by leading his team to a 6-3 mark. He then flirted with two perfect seasons, improving the team to 7-1 in 1915 and 7-1-1 in 1917. Those two seasons, which featured All-American Paul Robeson, were among Rutgers' best.

Sanford, a member of Rutgers' Hall of Fame, also helped to introduce Rutgers to the New York metropolitan area, playing games at the Polo Grounds against teams like Notre Dame, Nebraska, Louisiana State and West Virginia. A few years later, in 1924, two-time All-American end and fullback Homer Hazel helped coach John Wallace continue the tradition of first-year coaching success, as Rutgers posted a 7-1-1 mark.

Harvey Harman also had a successful first season, going 7-1 in 1938, the year Rutgers dedicated the original Rutgers Stadium. Rutgers won the dedication game, 20-18, over Princeton. Harman, however, was replaced by former coach Harry Rockafeller during World War II. His tenure included an 8-1 season in 1947 when Rutgers, dominated by WWII veterans, registered a combined record of 27-7 from 1945-48.

When John Stiegman coached Rutgers from 1956-59, he brought back the single-wing formation to the Scarlet Knight offense, and led Rutgers to an 8-1 mark in 1958. The only loss of that season, 13-12 to the Quantico Marines, came when All-American tailback Billy Austin had to miss a game due to a broken hand.

Another first-year coach got off to an impressive start when John Bateman went 8-1 in 1960. That campaign was followed by Rutgers' first undefeated season in 1961, when the team went 9-0, capping the season with a fourth-quarter, 25-point comeback win over Columbia. That team included All-American center Alex Kroll, and was ranked 15th nationally. In his 11 seasons, Bateman led Rutgers to 73 wins in 124 games.

In 1973, Frank Burns took the reins of Rutgers football and became the most successful Rutgers coach ever by building teams recognized for fundamentals and defense. Burns himself was also known as a fierce linebacker and won the Most Valuable Player Award in the 1949 College All-Star game, when he made 17 tackles against the New York Giants. The Burns defenses were led by linebackers Ed Steward, Jim Hughes, Jim Dumont and defensive end Nate Toran. Burns' first team went 6-5, while running back "JJ" Jennings set single-season records for rushing yardage (1,353) and touchdowns (21) that still stand.

Over the next five seasons, Burns' teams won at least seven games each season, including a five-season stretch from 1975-79 when Rutgers' winning percentage was .803 with a record of 45-11. The jewel in the crown of Burns' tenure as Rutgers' coach was the 1976 season, when the team was perfect at 11-0, establishing the best season ever at Rutgers. During Burns' 11 seasons at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights won nearly two-thirds of their games (78-44). He also took Rutgers to its first bowl appearance, the Garden State Bowl, at Giants Stadium against Arizona State in 1978.

Doubtless, the biggest win of the Burns era was the 13-7 upset of Tennessee on November 3, 1979 at Knoxville. Burns called it "the greatest of my coaching career."

The following year, 1980, Rutgers had one of its great "near-misses" of its long history when the Scarlet bowed, 17-13, to a highly-favored and No. 1-ranked Alabama team coached by Bear Bryant at Giants Stadium. In a post game comment, Bear Bryant said, "We didn't beat Rutgers. All I can say is we won."

In 1984 when Dick Anderson was named head coach, a renewed commitment to football at Rutgers was backed by a $3 million state-funded package. Those funds helped finance the artificial surface practice fields, the practice "Bubble" and the Hale Center, which includes lockerrooms, offices, a weight-training area and medical facilities for the football team.

Anderson won seven of 10 games in his inaugural season and his teams produced some of the most exciting players in Rutgers history, including record-breaking passer Scott Erney, career tackles leader Tyrone Stowe and career kickoff return leader Eric Young.

Doug Graber became the Scarlet Knights' 23rd coach in 1990 and placed an emphasis on recruiting the best talent in the state of New Jersey. His first recruiting class included three first-team All-State selections and two second-team All-State selections among the 12 recruits from New Jersey.

Another major boost for Rutgers came in 1991 when it joined the BIG EAST Football Conference. The team went 13-9 in its first two years in the BIG EAST, including a 4-2 BIG EAST mark in 1992, before slipping to 4-7 the following season.

The 1994 season celebrated not only the 125 years of college football, but also the return of the newly-renovated and expanded Rutgers Stadium.

A new stadium has been quite a different setting than that of the first college football game played over 130 years ago. The Scarlet Knights are playing for their own place in history as they continue the college football tradition that was born "On the Banks of the Old Raritan." After a less than stellar run through the mid-1990's under 1998 BIG EAST coach of the year Terry Shea, the Scarlet Knights opted to take the program in a different direction.

On December 1, 2000, Director of Athletics Bob Mulcahy introduced the newest coach in the storied history of Rutgers Football - Greg Schiano.

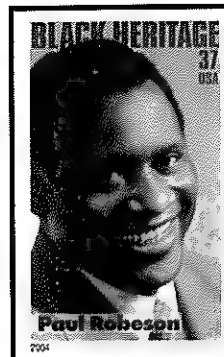

Under Schiano's leadership, 'it's time' for Rutgers Football to regain the nation's attention.

Hall Doors Finally Open For Robeson

The following is an excerpt from the inscription found on Robeson's plaque in the National College Football Hall of Fame in South Bend, Indiana.

Paul Robeson played four years for the famous coach, G. Foster Sanford. Rutgers had a 22-6-3 record in that time. In 31 games, Rutgers scored 941 points to opponents' 191. Robeson was a powerful contributor to that record...

Robeson was a two-time All-America end. Frank Menke named him All-

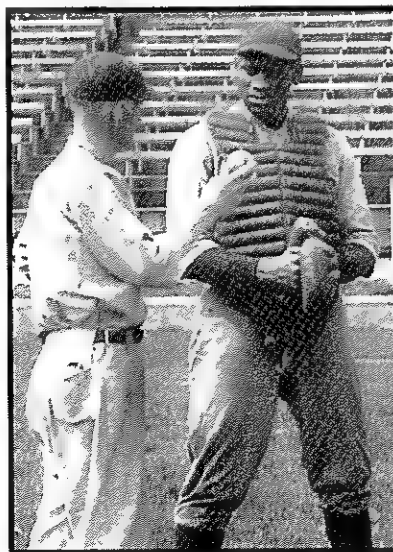

America in 1917 and 1918. Walter Camp picked him in 1918. (Camp did not name an All-America team in 1917.) Following college, Robeson played three years as a pro - 1920 with Hammond, 1921 with Akron and 1922 with Milwaukee - in the American Professional Football League...

He obtained his law degree in 1923. At Rutgers, Robeson was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was valedictorian of the class of 1919. He won the college oratorical contest four straight years and gave the commencement address at graduation.

Robeson won 12 letters in four sports - four in football, three each in basketball and baseball, and two in track. He stood 6-3 in height and his weight was listed at 191 in early years, at 215 his senior season. This man of many talents became an actor, singer and lecturer. He was on Broadway and in the movies. His rich basso made his signature song "Ol' Man River" a classic. He starred in plays, such as "The Emperor Jones", "Othello", "Showboat", as well as many others, in the U.S., Europe and Africa. In 1925 he made a recording that sold 55,000 copies in four months. In 1972 he received the Whitney Young Memorial Award. Ebony Magazine called him "one of the 10 most important black men in American history..."

Paul Robeson was born April 9, 1898, in Princeton, N.J. His father, Rev. William Robeson, had escaped slavery in 1860 in North Carolina at age 15. His mother, Maria Bustill, was a teacher. When Paul was a high school senior, he won the statewide academic test and received a scholarship to Rutgers. In 1915 he was the third black to enter Rutgers and the first to play football. He died January 23, 1976.

A true renaissance man, Robeson won 12 letters in four sports at Rutgers - four in football, three each in basketball and baseball, and two in track. After his tenure at Rutgers, he became an accomplished actor, singer and lecturer, and was recently commemorated on a US postal stamp.

Kroll is the 6th Rutgers Selection to College Football Hall of Fame

Alex Kroll, a consensus All-American center on Rutgers' first undefeated football team in 1961, is the Scarlet Knights' sixth inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame, as a part of the Class of 1997.

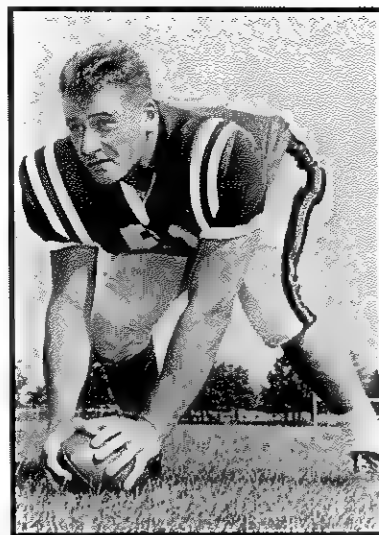

Kroll followed and Paul Robeson, halfback Homer Hazel and coaches George Foster Sanford and Harvey Harman into this most cherished of college football's honors. Former athletic director George Little is also among the all-time honorees.

Kroll, a 6-2, 228-pound center and linebacker, was a major force in Rutgers compiling a 17-1 record in his two years of play "On the Banks." In 1960, the Knights under coach John Bateman were 8-1 and followed up with the school's first undefeated campaign, going 9-0 in 1961. Team captain of the lauded 1961 squad, Kroll was a two-time first-team All-ECAC choice and won first-team All-American honors from Associated Press, United Press International, Newspaper Enterprise Association, Look, and the American Football Coaches Association. Known as a "coach on the field," he was credited with making the quarterback sneak an offensive weapon as Rutgers scored seven TDs on that play in 1961 with Kroll clearing the way into the endzone for the signal-caller.

He was also a first-team All-East choice by the AP in 1961 and played in the North-South game and the Senior Bowl. In 1960, he was an honorable mention All-American. Following his senior season, he was a second-round draft pick of the New York Titans, playing for one season in 1962.

Kroll earned a BA in English Literature in 1962 and was a Henry Rutgers Scholar with a perfect grade point average in his major. He received a National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1961. In 1986, he was awarded the Silver Anniversary Award from the National Collegiate Athletic Association for his collegiate achievements.

Immediately following his last game with the Titans, he joined the work force at Young & Rubicam, the world's largest independent advertising agency, as a copywriter. After a succession of writing and supervisory jobs in the creative department, he was named executive vice president and worldwide creative director in 1970. He was named president and chief operating officer in 1982 and, four years later, Kroll became chairman of Young & Rubicam. He is retired but still serves as Chairman Emeritus of Young & Rubicam. He resides in Charlotte, VT, with his wife, Phyllis. They have three children.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

HARVEY HARMAN

Few men loved the game with the fervor of Harvey Harman, a huge man with a grand smile and a fierce dedication to the sport.

A former president of the American Football Coaches Association, Harman received that group's Amos Alonzo Stagg Award, symbolic of outstanding service to the profession. It was not surprising that Harman achieved such acclaim, for he learned his football lessons from two of the game's mentors - Glenn "Pop" Warner and Jock Sutherland - while at Pittsburgh.

Harman was a starting tackle for the Panthers before taking his first coaching assignment at Haverford. From there he moved on to Sewanee (the University of the South), Pennsylvania and Rutgers.

It was at Rutgers that he had his greatest success, directing the Scarlet Knights to a 26-7-1 record before interrupting his career to serve in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Harman returned to Rutgers after the war and led the Scarlet Knights for another 10 seasons before accepting a position as Executive Director of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, Inc. In that capacity, Harman became known as the goodwill ambassador for football, continuing to serve the game until his death in 1969. His career record lists a slate of 140-104-7.

HOMER HAZEL

He parted his dark hair down the middle, in the fashion of the day, and his deep-set eyes glowed with a competitive fire. Homer Hazel, Rutgers' first Hall of Famer, was, without doubt, the most versatile player the Scarlet ever produced.

A natural athlete, Hazel excelled in various sports and was most successful as a track and field star. His speed and quickness served him well, for he once recovered his own kickoff in the enemy end zone for a touchdown.

Homer led Rutgers to identical 7-1-1 records in his final two seasons, earning All-America laurels in each. He was an end in 1923, when the only Scarlet loss was to West Virginia (27-7). He had Rutgers on the way to an unbeaten finish in 1924 - this time as a hard-hitting fullback - when Bucknell untracked the Scarlet in the final game of the season, 12-7. During the 1924 campaign, Homer Hazel established school records for most points after a touchdown and longest completed pass.

He could do it all. Carrying 226 pounds over a 5-foot-11 frame, Homer lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at Rutgers. He later served as Athletic Director, football and basketball coach at the University of Mississippi for more than five years. He was a golf pro for four years, and a labor relations manager for more than 20 years.

Hazel won his first letter in football at Rutgers in 1916. He left school because of a lack of funds. Hazel worked at various jobs and, at age 28, played football again at Rutgers. Walter Camp named him All-America end in 1923, All-America fullback in 1924. Hazel was born June 2, 1895, and died February 3, 1968.

GEORGE LITTLE

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, George Little opened his coaching career at the University of Cincinnati and produced a two-year record of 10-8-0 before moving up the road to Oxford, Ohio, home of the Miami Redskins, in 1916. There, Little brought the Redskins their first Conference Championship and a 7-0-1 mark.

After service in World War I, Little returned to Miami and directed the Red and White to yet another league crown and a three-year post-war record of 20-3-1. He also coached the Miami basketball and track teams, claiming a conference crown in the latter sport.

The 1922 and 1923 seasons found Little at Michigan under head coach Fielding Yost, the man he replaced in 1924. That year, Little's Wolverines were 6-2. The next season, Little was in Wisconsin as the new Athletic Director and head coach of the Badgers, and he led his charges to a two-year mark of 11-3-2. His teams displayed imagination and strength on offense, a unique ruggedness on defense.

Little wound up his collegiate career as the Athletic Director at Rutgers, and then served as executive secretary of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

George Little

GEORGE FOSTER SANFORD

At the entrance to Rutgers Stadium, inscribed upon a bronze plaque, is a tribute to George Sanford. It was financed and installed by his players, the men "...he inspired to deeds beyond themselves."

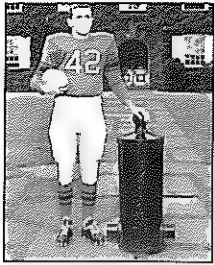

Undoubtedly, Sanford was an inspirational leader of men, a gentleman who excelled as both player and coach. Sanford played center on the 1891 and 1892 Yale teams which held each of their 26 opponents scoreless. Though he was never chosen to an All-America team, a 1927 poll named him the all-time Yale center.

Sanford began his coaching career at Columbia (1899-1901), called in to revive the football program which had been abandoned after the 1891 campaign. His 1899 team defeated Yale for the first time ever, and it was at Columbia that Sanford developed the famous "Flying Hurdle Play" which saw Harold Weekes catapulted over the scrimmage line. Moving to Rutgers (1913-23), Sanford had marked success as his club rolled to a 56-32-5 record. He was hailed as a "miracle worker" in 1917, after his Rutgers team beat the heavily-favored Newport Naval Reserve All-Stars, 14-0. Between his teams at Columbia and Rutgers, Sanford devoted his energy toward a successful insurance brokerage business.

ALL-AMERICANS

Bill Austin

HEISMAN CANDIDATE BILL AUSTIN

Bill Austin, a Farwood, N.J. native and graduate of nearby Scotch Plains-Farwood High School, captured the imagination of the college football community in the late 1950s. His twisting, elusive running style helped him lead the Scarlet Knights in rushing for three straight seasons and a sixth-place finish in the Heisman Trophy voting in 1958.

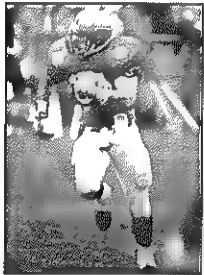

Not blessed with great size at 5-11, 170, the speedy Austin amassed 2,073 yards rushing and scored 204 points. He was a prototype single-wing tailback who, in his day, had few peers. His 32-touchdown career ranks second in the Rutgers annals among all-time scorers and he had 13 interceptions from his defensive back position, which is one short of the all-time mark.

A member of the inaugural Rutgers Football Hall of Fame Class in 1988, Austin was a First-Team AP All-American selection in 1958. The 1958 Rutgers football media guide referred to Austin as "a natural leader with an even temperament."

The Scarlet's team captain in 1958, Austin led Rutgers to an 8-1 record with the lone blemish being a 13-12 defeat at the hands of the Quantico Marines. Rutgers fans from this era will recall that Austin was forced to sit out the Quantico Marines game with a hand injury. The Scarlet's first undefeated season came in 1961 and the 1978 team also posted a perfect record. If not for an injury suffered by the team's best player, 1958 may have been Rutgers' first undefeated season.

An honorable mention All-American lacrosse player for two seasons, Austin was selected by the Washington Redskins in the 1959 NFL draft.

Marco Battaglia

ALL-AMERICAN MARCO BATTAGLIA

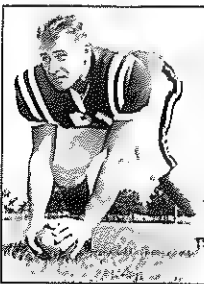

In 1993, Marco Battaglia caught 27 passes. In 1994, that number swelled to 58. By 1995, he was being hailed as the nation's best tight end. Following a 89-catch, 894-yard, 10-touchdown season in 1995, there was no longer a debate as to who was the nation's best.

He was a consensus First-Team All-America, having earned first-team honors by the Football Writer's Association, the Walter Camp Foundation, the Associated Press and the American College Football Coaches Association and appeared on the Bob Hope Christmas Special. Battaglia was also named the BIG EAST Offensive Player of the Year and he played in the prestigious East-West Shrine Game.

The signature game of his career came at Giants Stadium against Penn State. In a game televised nationally by ESPN, Battaglia showed the nation what he was all about. He grabbed a school-record tying 13 catches for 184 yards (third-best all-time at RU) and scored three touchdowns.

Combining speed, strength and the heart of a lion, this 6-3, 245-pounder was the second tight end taken in the 1996 NFL draft, a second-round draft choice of the Cincinnati Bengals.

For his career, Battaglia finished with a then-school record 171 receptions for 2,221 yards, a figure which places him second on the all-time list. His seven 100-yard plus receiving games is also a Rutgers record.

Alex Kroll

ALL-AMERICAN ALEX KROLL

The great Alex Kroll took a rather circuitous path on his way to Rutgers football stardom. The 6-2, 228-pound center excelled for two seasons at Yale before serving two years in the Army. After forming a friendship with 1957 Scarlet co-captain Art Robinson at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, Kroll transferred to Rutgers.

The Leechburg, Pa., native immediately gained the notice of the Rutgers coaching staff with his physical prowess, an asset that was only overshadowed by his keen intellect. The captain of the undefeated 1961 team, Kroll's senior biography in the 1961 Rutgers football media guide included the following anecdote: "his performance and leadership in 1960 helped Rutgers to a season which surpassed even the most optimistic of the previews. He has size, speed, hustle, and an uncanny ability to call defenses best equipped to stop the enemy."

It is no small coincidence that, in his two years "On the Banks," the Scarlet Knights amassed a 17-1 record.

An AP first-team All-American in 1961, Kroll, who was also a top-notch line-backer, was regarded as the finest center in the nation. A draft choice of the AFL's New York Titans, Kroll had a brief professional football career. However, his uncanny intelligence, leadership qualities and savvy, traits that he honed on the gridiron, have served him well in his long and prosperous business career.

A Henry Rutgers Scholar with a perfect grade-point average, Kroll served as the president and CEO of Young and Rubicam, the world's largest advertising company, and credits much of his success to his football days at Rutgers.

Kroll was a member of the inaugural Rutgers Football Hall of Fame Class of 1988, and was also selected to the College Football Hall of Fame.

Ray Rice

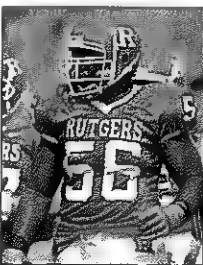

HEISMAN CANDIDATE RAY RICE

Ray Rice made an immediate impact on the Rutgers Football program upon his arrival "On the Banks" in 2005. A native of New Rochelle, N.Y., Rice completed his debut season as the fifth-leading true freshman runner in the nation on his way to earning Freshman All-America honors by The Sporting News. His team-leading 1,120 yards on the ground were also the most in school history by a true freshman.

In 2006, Rice carried the momentum from his outstanding freshman campaign into an even stellar sophomore season as the running back finished second in the country in rushing and was a finalist for the Maxwell Award, given to the nation's top player. Rice finished seventh in the voting for the Heisman Trophy.

He established a BIG EAST and Rutgers single-season record with 1,794 yards rushing in addition to ranking fifth nationally in scoring. Rice garnered numerous awards for his standout season including being named a Second Team All-American by the Walter Camp Foundation, Associated Press, Sporting News, Sports Illustrated.com, and Rivals.com. The second-year player also became the first Scarlet Knight to record four 200-yard games and only the third player to post back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons.

Eric Foster

ALL-AMERICAN ERIC FOSTER

After suffering a season-ending knee injury during what began as a bright redshirt-sophomore campaign, Eric Foster re-emerged in 2006 as one of the nation's top defensive linemen. Having tallied 30 tackles over his first two seasons, the Homestead, Fla. native, nearly doubled that figure as a junior, finishing the year with 51 tackles, including 6.0 sacks and a team-best 14 tackles-for-loss.

Foster ranked among the country's elite in both sacks and tackles-for-loss en route to earning First Team All-America honors by the Football Writers Association of America. The First Team All-BIG EAST selection was also a Third Team All-American by the Associated Press and received Honorable Mention All-America honors from Sports Illustrated.com. Named Defensive Tackle of the Year by the New Jersey Sports Writers, Foster was also the recipient of the David Bender Trophy, given annually to the top defensive lineman at Rutgers.

Foster became the first Rutgers defensive First Team All-America selection since 1976.

RUTGERS STADIUM

The following excerpt came from the game program of the first game played in the New Rutgers Stadium, on September 3, 1994. Written by former Sports Information Director Bob Smith, this story chronicles the history of Rutgers Football and the stadium(s) it called home.

Far removed from midwestern corn fields where Hollywood created a baseball dream, Rutgers realized a football dream when the new Rutgers Stadium opened for the 1994 season.

The completion of the stadium, expanded to accommodate 41,500 fans, coincided neatly with the celebration of the 125th year of the game which, Rutgers and Princeton inaugurated in 1869.

The new stadium, financed by a New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority bond issue proposal, which was approved by the legislature and then Governor Jim Florio in January of 1992, was kicked off officially on March 9, 1993.

The historic groundbreaking ceremony drew over 500 as a host of state dignitaries spoke glowingly of the meaning for the University and the state. The stadium project would include expansion to nearly 42,000 seats with all the amenities of a first-class facility. Permanent lights, lit to a level of 150 foot-candles, will make possible night games and television broadcast. A two-tiered press box seats over 200. The main concourse includes eight concession stands and the stadium will be equipped with a state-of-the-art sound system. A huge, new scoreboard towers over the south endzone.

At the groundbreaking ceremony, then-governor Jim Florio said "there is no doubt that what is good for Rutgers is good for New Jersey."

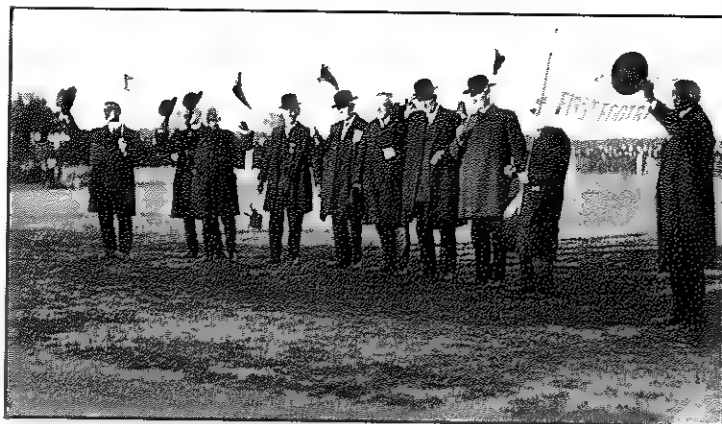

Rutgers president Francis L. Lawrence noted that "this grand old stadium...has been of great service to the people of New Jersey and this new project will provide 800 jobs in New Jersey. New Jersey is a great state that deserves the best in every aspect, in every area, including athletics." Athletic Director Fred Gruninger called the event a "real happening."

One hundred and twenty-five years ago on November 6, 1869, Rutgers and Princeton played the first intercollegiate football game in New Brunswick on College Field, which is now the site of the College Avenue Gymnasium and its parking lot. And, while Rutgers won that initial contest, 6-4, Princeton would dominate the early days of this intrastate rivalry.

The Tigers won the second game at home a week later and went on to win the next 24 games through 1897, holding the Scarlet Knights scoreless in 22 of the 25 victories. Getting together again in 1911, Princeton added five more wins before the series lapsed in 1915. A leap of 18 years, a tumultuous time in this country's history, elapsed before the next meeting, but the pattern did not change as Princeton took the 1933, 1935, 1936 and 1937 games, all on its home grounds, as were all but six of the 34 games.

Those six games had been played at the site of the original game, College Field, where contests were staged through 1891, after which Neilson Field became the home of the Scarlet until 1938.

The stage was set for "the game that would live forever" (according to Jimmie Fleming, sports editor of the New Brunswick Home News) and a game that a New York news commentator rated one of the four principal historical events of 1938, along with the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, the Munich agreement and the wars in China and Spain. But, the story began a few years earlier.

Through the presidency of John Martin Thomas (1925-30) and the brief 18-month tenure of Philip Milledoler Brett, Rutgers experienced a severe identity crisis. "For a quarter of a century," wrote historian Richard P. McCormick, "Rutgers had been in the throes of transformation from a small college to a multi-dimensional university, from an essentially private institution to an instrumentality of the state." That drama would continue even while the athletic picture began to improve. It would play itself out against a background generally called the Great Depression.

Robert C. Clothier was named president in December, 1931, and George E. Little became the athletic director in April, 1932. It is with these two visionaries that the story of Rutgers Stadium begins.

Both saw that the effectiveness of the instruction in physical education was being seriously hampered by lack of space and deteriorating facilities. Neilson Field, the football home site that had replaced College Field and the home of the Rutgers football since 1892, was in disrepair. Though indoor facilities were sufficient (College Avenue Gymnasium was completed in January 1932 and held athletic contests as well as a concert by Paul Robeson ('19) but if the overall program was to be strengthened, space had to be found.

Feeling that the University had weathered the initial phases of the Depression, Clothier dispatched Little on a survey of suitable land and on November 7, 1934, the determined athletic director recommended the purchase of a tract of land covering 256 acres across the Raritan River that included the disbanded New Brunswick Country Club golf course and the Adrian Vermeule properties. The Board of Trustees, noting that it was a daring move, nevertheless adopted the proposal and bought the land for less than $100,000.

Though the stadium area, a natural ravine, was included in the purchase, the original proposal did not include construction of a stadium. The development of the area would provide recreational areas for students and considerable acreage for future needs. The Federal government approved an initial grant of $320,000 on November 13, 1935, and work men began the enormous job of developing the River Road campus. The project was to carry a cost of $418,514 with the University contributing $98,390. It would provide work for 387 workers for one year.

A year later, November, 1936, a second Works Progress Administration grant of $143,841 was approved with Rutgers adding $107,530. In January, 1938, an additional grant of $237,000 was made by the WPA which brought the total of the three grants to $995,707 while Rutgers had appropriated $239,000, including the cost of the site.

All this played out against the background of the Depression. Franklin D. Roosevelt's Second New Deal had created the Works Progress Administration, a massive relief program that derived from the administration's belief that "human dignity was diminished under direct relief programs but enriched by programs that provided work in exchange for relief."

Though controversial, the WPA program was far more comprehensive than earlier relief efforts. The program would spend more than $411 billion before it was canceled in 1943. According to historian Edward Ellis, the WPA, employing more than 8.5 million people on nearly a million and a half projects, "built 651,087 miles of highways, roads and streets; constructed, repaired or improved 124,031 bridges; erected 124,110 public buildings; created 8,192 public parks; built or improved 853 airports."

RUTGERS STADIUM

The day deserved a storybook ending and that was to follow. Princeton penetrated to the Rutgers 15-yard line in the third period but the drive was stopped by the Scarlet. The game's golden moment came with five minutes remaining. Rutgers center Doug Hotchkiss recovered a Princeton fumble at the Tiger 12. But, in two plays, Rutgers had lost 10 yards. Gottlieb and Tranavitch combined on a nine-yard pass completion and, on fourth down, Gottlieb found Mullen at the goal line for the go-ahead score. The extra point by Walt Bruyere was good, Rutgers had taken a 20-18 lead.

The ensuing Princeton possession saw the Tigers take to the air, but Mullen shut down the drive at the Rutgers 30 with an interception. That left time for only a last line plunge and the game was over, the hex was gone. Rutgers had defeated Princeton for the first time in 69 years.

The 1938 Dedication game was certainly of storybook stature, but there have been many more that rival that first contest.

None more so, perhaps, than that on another Princeton visit. Never has there been such preparation for a game in Rutgers Stadium that there was for the Centennial contest in 1969. All the elements of great sports drama were there - proclamations were issued; a special commemorative stamp was issued; a reenactment of the first game drew 10,000 fans; pennants from some 350 football-playing colleges waved above the stands; an unscheduled protest march by Afro-Americans; introductions of celebrities, including the oldest living Rutgers football captain, William VB Van Dyck and Master of Ceremonies, Ozzie Nelson; the coin toss, or rather the three coin tosses, first with a 1869 silver dollar and then with a pair of Centennial medallions.

The game would be the first Rutgers home football contest ever televised as Chris Schenkel and Bud Wilkinson manned the ABC booth.

A crowd of 31,000 was on hand for the game, the largest in Scarlet history to that point, and later eclipsed only by the 31,219 for the Rutgers-Temple game in 1988, a Homecoming affair.

Princeton provided the game's opening salvo as Robinson Bordley returned the kickoff 63 yards to the Scarlet 24-yard line. Rutgers successfully repulsed the attack. Both teams missed field goal tries, but, after an interference call at mid-field, Rutgers took a 7-0 lead on Rich Policastro's rollout and Chris Stewart's PAT near the end of the first period. The Scarlet upped the lead to 21-0 by halftime on a Bruce Van Ness TD and Bob Stonebraker's reception from Policastro.

Rutgers scored again on a 27-yard Mike Yanceff-to-Joe Barone pass, and, because the goal posts had already been dismantled, the Scarlet scored on a two-point conversion by Yanceff. The 29 points were the highest ever recorded by a Rutgers team against Princeton. The victory was Rutgers 10th in the 60-game series. The teams would go into their second centuries, once again having made football history.

The "big mud hole," after three years of construction and an even longer period of research and planning, was a transformed marvel. The Class of 1939, dubbed "The Stadium Class," would honor Little by dedicating its year-book to him. The dedication reads, in part, "We acclaim all that George Little has done - Sponsored large-scale intramurals to provide 'athletics for all' - conceived and developed a vast athletic plant...traveled, dreamed, and fought for Rutgers...thoughtful, creative, impulsive, dynamic, generous - bubbling over with ideas and enthusiasm - unflagging in labor and effort - a champion of progress." A plaque in Little's honor would later adorn the stadium entrance beneath the press box.

The 1938 season would open not only with a new stadium but also with a new coach. Upon the resignation of J. Wilder Tasker, who had been the head coach since 1931, Harvey Harman took over the reins. Arriving from the University of Pennsylvania, one of his first efforts, in concert with President Clothier and athletic director Little, was to have Princeton agree to shift the game from Palmer Stadium. The Tigers had not visited the Rutgers campus since 1888 and a span of 17 games, but they agreed to make the short trip on November 5, the seventh game of the season for the Scarlet.

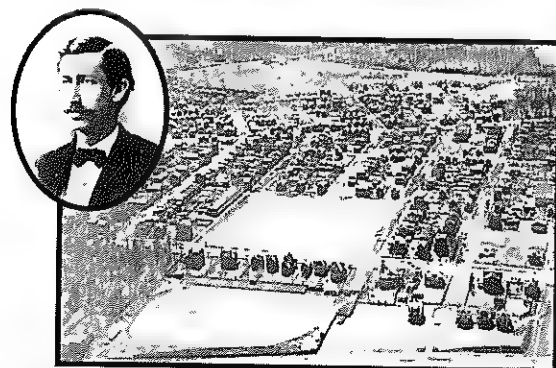

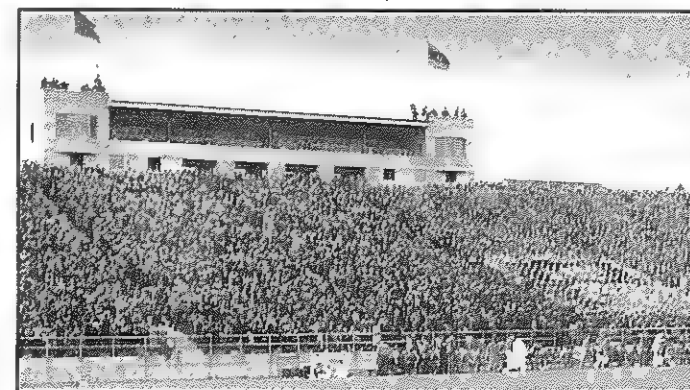

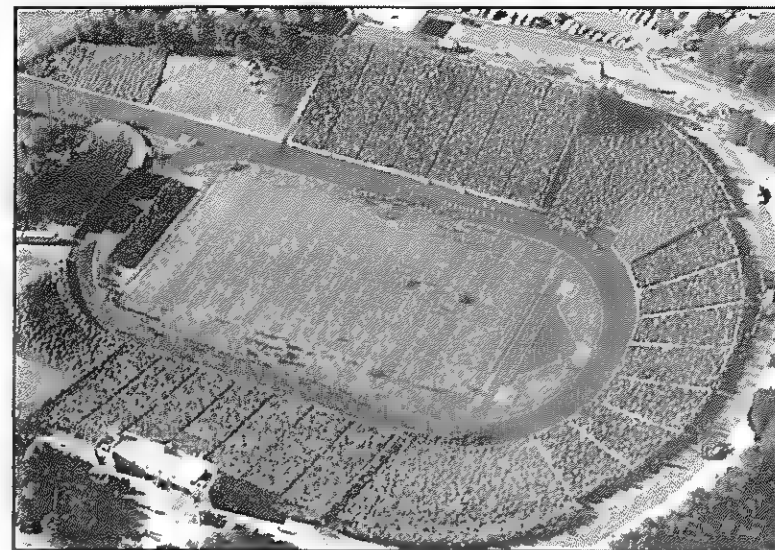

The Rutgers-Princeton clash would come one day short of the 69 years since the historic first intercollegiate game between the teams. It would fall also on Harman's 38th birthday.

Rutgers opened the season with four games on Neilson Field defeating Marietta (20-0) and Vermont (15-14) before losing to NYU (25-6) and then edging Springfield, 6-0. The first game in the new stadium was against Hampden-Sydney before an estimated crowd of 10,000. Rutgers took an early 7-0 lead on a Burt Hasbrouck two-yard run and Len Cooke added the extra point for the first scores in the stadium. The game's most exciting play came after the Scarlet took a 26-0 halftime lead. Art Gottlieb hit Moon Mullen on a short pass at the Rutgers 43-yard line and the senior end raced 57 yards for the game's final score. A Hampden-Sydney threat was turned away on a Gottlieb interception in the Scarlet end zone at the end of the third period and the final score was Rutgers 32, Hampden-Sydney 0.

At halftime of the Dedication game, Judge George H. Lane, the sole Rutgers survivor of the first contest in 1869, would be honored. On a sad note, William Preston Lane, the only Princeton survivor of the first game, passed away that very morning.

The first-half play, before a crowd of 22,500, had been as masterful as the words. But, in the half-time dressing room, the Scarlet squad, at an 18-13 deficit, wondered if the 69-year-old jinx would continue to hold. One writer's account of the game imagined that "Over them hung the most grotesque hoodoo in the history of football."

Down 18-7, Rutgers stormed back as Herrn Greif, who had worked on the WPA crew three years before, replaced Gottlieb and quickly completed a pass to Joe Varju who was tackled at the Princeton one-yard line with just 59 seconds remaining in the half. After three passes, Greif ran for the score to bring the Scarlet to within five points at halftime.

BOWL HISTORY

2006 TEXAS BOWL

Rutgers' most memorable season ended with another milestone victory.

Ray Rice rushed for 170 yards and a touchdown and Tim Brown caught two TD passes, and the 16th-ranked Scarlet Knights won a bowl game for the first time, beating Kansas State 37-10 in the Texas Bowl.

Linebacker Quinterio Frierson returned an interception 27 yards for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage of the second half and Rutgers (11-2) cruised from there, earning an 11th victory for the second time in 137 seasons.

Rice was named the game's Most Valuable Player after topping 100 yards for the 10th time this season and the 15th time in 26 career games. The 5-foot-9, 195-pound sophomore went over 150 yards for the fifth time in 2006.

The Scarlet Knights' seventh-ranked defense manhandled Kansas State's offense, holding the Wildcats to 160 total yards and six first downs. Freshman quarterback Josh Freeman finished 10 for 21 for 124 yards with two interceptions.

Kansas State (7-6) mustered only 94 yards after Frierson's return of Freeman's first interception put Rutgers up 24-10 only 33 seconds out of halftime. The Wildcats' only touchdown came on Yamon Figurs' 76-yard punt return with 9:37 left in the second quarter.

Brown caught a pass from Mike Teel down the line of scrimmage and weaved 25 yards to the end zone for the game's first score. Rice had a 24-yard run on Rutgers' next possession and Teel found Brown deep down the sideline for a 14-0 lead. Brown, a freshman from Miami, Fla., had only four catches and one TD reception coming into the game.

Rutgers outscored its opponents 103-28 in the first quarter on the year.

On the first play of the second quarter, Freeman found Jordy Nelson on a crossing route for a 33-yard gain to set up Jeff Snodgrass' 44-yard field goal. Four minutes later, Figurs took Joe Radigan's punt up the middle, sidestepped Radigan and scored Kansas State's seventh special-teams touchdown of the season.

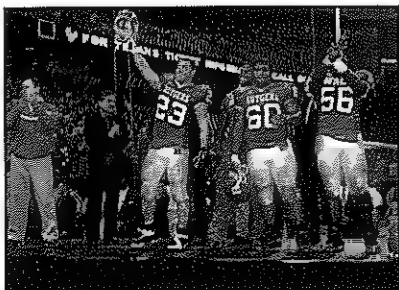

Rice, the nation's fourth-leading rusher, had 74 yards rushing at halftime to move into third place on the school's career list.

The Wildcats' offense had only one more yard at halftime (77) than Figurs gained on his punt return. And then it got worse for the Wildcats. Freeman was on the run when Frierson leaped to pick off his wobbly pass. Freeman's 14th interception of the season was his fifth in the Wildcats' last three games.

Rice burst through the line and ran untouched through the defense for 46 yards and his 20th touchdown of the season to make it 31-10 with 3:41 left in the third quarter, and that was more than enough for Rutgers.

The Wildcats' offense did nothing after that, failing to get a first down for the rest of the third quarter. Freshman Leon Patton, Kansas State's leading rusher, fumbled at the Wildcats' 22 near the end of the quarter, setting up the second of Jeremy Ito's three field goals.

Teel finished 16 for 28 for 268 yards without an interception. Brown had four catches for 101 yards and Clark Harris made seven catches for 120

2005 INSIGHT BOWL

In a Wild West shootout staged at Phoenix's Chase Field, Rutgers (7-5) fell just short, losing to Arizona State (7-5) 45-40 at the Insight Bowl Dec. 27.

Rutgers struck immediately with an eight-play, 80-yard drive after receiving the opening kickoff. Ryan Hart hooked up with Brian Leonard for a 12-yard completion up the right sideline, and then Hart found tight end Clark Harris in the back right corner of the end zone from one yard out. Jeremy Ito's extra point gave the Scarlet Knights a 7-0 lead 2:08 into the contest.

Arizona State would answer with a seven-play, 80-yard drive of its own, capped by a 43-yard completion from Rudy Carpenter to Matt Miller, evening the scoreboard at 7-7. Foster's 22-yard return of the ensuing kickoff set up Rutgers for its next scoring drive. Leonard turned a Hart screen into a 38-yard gain, and then took another Hart screen pass and dashed up the left sideline, scoring from 31 yards out to give Rutgers a 14-7 cushion six minutes into the first period.

During the Sun Devils' next possession, Courtney Greene jarred the ball loose from the ASU ball carrier at midfield and Ramel Meekins pounced on it, giving the Scarlet Knights possession at the Arizona State 46-yard line. Hart connected with Harris for a 23-yard completion, and Leonard fought through tackles for 13 yards over the left side, setting up a 25-yard field goal by Ito and a 17-7 lead with 5:22 to play in the opening stanza.

Rutgers pushed its advantage back to two touchdowns thanks to a nine-play, 80-yard drive during its next possession. Leonard bulled his way in from the three-yard line for his second touchdown of the game (24-10, 2:29).

Arizona State found the end zone one last time before the break, a one-yard completion from Carpenter to Zach Miller, pulling the Sun Devils back to within seven points at 24-17 just 39 seconds before the intermission.

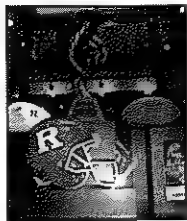

The Sun Devils received the opening kick of the second half and went for 70 yards in six plays, culminating in a one-yard touchdown by Rudy Burgess to even the score (24-24, 13:16) for the first time since five minutes into the contest.

Rutgers answered with a 23-yard field goal at the 6:53 mark to give RU a 27-24 edge midway through the third quarter. But, that lead was short-lived, as ASU's Carpenter found Terry Richardson for a 22-yard touchdown and a 31-27 bulge (4:33).

Ito boomed a 52-yard field goal, a career best for him as well as an Insight Bowl record, to make it a one-point game (31-30) with 2:05 to play in the third. Ito then blasted his fourth field goal of the game from 48 yards out, pushing Rutgers ahead 33-31 2:02 into the final period.

Later on second-and-25, Carpenter found Jamaal Lewis for a 42-yard touchdown. The two-point conversion made it a six-point affair (39-33, 10:00). Rutgers was unable to produce any points during its next possession, and ASU extended its lead while using a precious 4:25 of the clock during its next drive, finishing with a Burgess four-yard run and a failed two-point conversion (45-33, 4:26).

But the Scarlet Knights continued to fight, and in 51 seconds engineered a 63-yard scoring drive, capped by a 29-yard strike from Hart to Moses (45-40, 2:00).

1978 GARDEN STATE BOWL

Prior to the Garden State Bowl, there had been only a few attempts to stage a post-season bowl game in the Northeast because of unpredictable weather conditions in mid- or late-December. The Liberty Bowl was started in 1960 in Philadelphia and was staged there through 1964, then moved indoors in Atlantic City in 1965 before going to warmer climates in Memphis, Tenn., in 1966. The Gotham Bowl was held in the Polo Grounds in 1961, with Baylor defeating Utah State, 24-9, and, in its second try in 1962 in Yankee Stadium, Nebraska defeated Miami, 36-34, reportedly in 17-degree weather.

But, on Dec. 16, 1978, the thermometer in Giants Stadium read an unseasonable 40 degrees. And, despite the pre-game hope by the Rutgers squad that it would be much colder as it entertained an Arizona State team accustomed to playing in warm weather, Rutgers was hot at the start.

A two- or three-touchdown underdog to the 8-3 Sun Devils (who had defeated rival Arizona in the regular season finale and also owned a victory over the otherwise undefeated Southern Cal), Rutgers gained possession after an Arizona State punt at its own 32 and moved to the Sun Devil 47 in four plays. David Dorn then went off his right tackle, reversed his field and raced the distance down the left side for the game's first score. Kennen Startzell's extra point made it a 7-0 ball game early and the visitors were shocked further when Ed Steward recovered a fumble and Startzell booted his longest-ever field goal to that point in his career. The 46-yarder gave the Scarlet a 10-0 lead.

On the next Arizona State possession, Bob Hynoski intercepted a Mark Malone pass and raced 36 yards to the Sun Devil four-yard line. The count might have gone to 17-0 but Dorn fumbled at the two and the visitors took over.

Unable to add to the lead, Rutgers gave up the ball at the Scarlet 44 with 1:53 remaining in the half and the Sun Devils got on the scoreboard when Malone hit Bob Weathers in the end zone from the 14. A play earlier, Malone was trapped on a fourth and 10 play but shook loose to connect for a first down. Instead of 17-0 or 10-0, it was a 10-7 game at the half.

Malone tossed 26 and 47-yard touchdowns in the third period to MVP John Mistler and Chris DeFrance to give Arizona State a 21-10 lead in the third period and ran in from the one early in the final frame for a 28-10 lead.

Lethargic for a period and a half, Rutgers rebounded with 5:49 left in the game when Ted Blackwell scored on a five-yard run and then caught a two-point conversion pass from Ed McMichael.

"They were on their way to a nice, neat orderly finish," wrote syndicated columnist Jerry Izenberg. "And then, Kennen Startzell kicked the ball.

"Mechanically, it was the perfect squibbler. It had been done on a million football fields and when it works the kicking team recovers. The ball bounced off of Arizona State's Morris Williams...it bounced off of Rutgers' Mark Freeman...it skidded under the belly of Arizona State's Henry Pollard and came to rest underneath Rutgers' Craig Nielsen - in the Arizona State endzone. This is not unlike bunting for a home run.

"One official signalled touchdown - six points for Rutgers. A second apparently signalled touchback - Arizona's ball on its own 20. A third signalled toward the heavens with outstretched hands, which according to the annotated NCAA Hymnal and Prayer Book means: Why me, O Lord?

"But, back upfield lay a yellow flag. Rutgers was said to have been offside on the kickoff and that ruling held. Instead of a 28-24 count and a possible 28-26 ballgame, the score reverted to 28-18 with 4:44 to go. In the game's final minute, Malone scored on a four-yard run for the closing 34-18 score-board count.

The weather had cooperated, the 33,402 fans had had their fill, the ball had nearly bounced in Rutgers' favor and it was a devil of a day. The Garden State Bowl would continue for three more years and would give way to the current post-season classic format.

RUTGERS ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

The Rutgers Athletic Communications Office is available to assist you with coverage of the Rutgers football program. The primary media contact for the Rutgers football program is Jason Baum while Doug Drabik and Hasim Phillips will assist during the 2007 season.

The Athletic Communications Office is located in the Louis Brown Athletic Center. For information regarding credentials, interviews, statistics, press conferences, etc., please call the Athletic Communications Office at 732-445-4200, visit CollegePressBox.com or e-mail Baum at jbaum@scarletknights.com or Drabik at ddrabik@scarletknights.com.

To assist in your coverage throughout the year, please read the media information on this page. Briefly, all interviews must be arranged through the Athletic Communications Office at least one day in advance and all players, coaches and support staff will not take part in an interview unless scheduled by the Athletic Communications Office.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Rutgers will utilize an online credentialing system for the first time in 2007. For more information, please contact Kathy Larrabee in the Athletic Communications Office at 732-445-4200.

Admittance to the Rutgers Stadium Press Box is limited to working media members only. Credential requests must be made through Rutgers' online credentialing system.

Please request credentials at least three weeks in advance of the game to permit sufficient time for mailing. Media credentials which cannot be mailed will be left at Media Will Call (Media Entrance) beneath the press box at Rutgers Stadium at Gate A.

Working space in the Rutgers Press Box is allotted on the following basis: (1) daily newspaper writers covering for Sunday publication; (2) sports editors of newspapers in New Jersey, New York and Eastern Pennsylvania; (3) radio personnel for broadcast originations; (4) official school student daily newspaper, one seat and/or sideline only; (5) approved special coverage; (6) press and TV working photographers; (7) weekly press representatives; non-originating radio representatives of AM news stations; and Internet writers for sites affiliated with established, nationally-recognized media outlets will be considered on a game-by-game basis as space permits. Visiting freelance and amateur photographers are not eligible for media credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Sideline photographers and media members must follow NCAA guidelines, which prohibit entry to the bench areas.

PARKING

Parking is located next to the Bubble in the Green Lot, across the street from Rutgers Stadium. You should request your parking at the same time you request your game credential. If time permits, both will be mailed to you. There is no day-of-game media parking list and therefore members of the media must have a media parking credential in advance of the game.

PRESS BOX SERVICES

Complete NCAA statistics, play-by-play, and quote sheets from both teams are all regular services on game day. Upon your arrival, you will receive a press folder with game program, flip card, updated stats and game day notes.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

Coach Schiano and players, following the designated cooling off period, will be made available after each game to members of the media. Coach Schiano's press conference will take place in the team meeting room of the Hale Center, which is located opposite the playing field from the press box.

With approximately two minutes remaining in the game, members of the media will be escorted across the field towards the Hale Center.

Rutgers' locker room is open to the media following the cooling off period.

The visiting team's press conference will be held in the field hockey locker room, inside the Hale Center.

PHONES

A limited number of courtesy phones are available in the press box at Rutgers Stadium. The phones are all operator-assisted calls, or third-party billing calls can be made. Should you wish to have a phone installed at Rutgers Stadium, contact Verizon at 1-800-564-9911 or 9922.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All player interviews must be arranged through Jason Baum or Doug Drabik in the Athletic Communications Office at least one day in advance. Players are available in person on Mondays at the weekly Rutgers Football Luncheon, and following practice on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, pending class schedules/availability.

Please consult with Jason Baum or Doug Drabik regarding availability. Player availability at other times will vary from week to week. A time mutually convenient for the player and the member of the media can be set up by the Athletic Communications office. During a traditional game week, there will be no player interviews after Wednesday until following the game.

COACH SCHIANO INTERVIEWS

All interview requests must be arranged through Jason Baum. Coach Schiano will be available to the media every Monday on the BIG EAST Coaches Conference call at 12:20 p.m., Monday at the weekly Rutgers Football Luncheon and after practice on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

COVERING PRACTICE

Rutgers' preseason practices begin August 3. Throughout the season, practice will be open to the media for the final 25 minutes on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Practice is closed to the media on Sunday.

FILMING AT PRACTICE

On Tuesday and Wednesday only, video and photo access is available during individual periods of practice. Tripods are not permitted on the practice field and media members must stand at least five yards off the sideline.

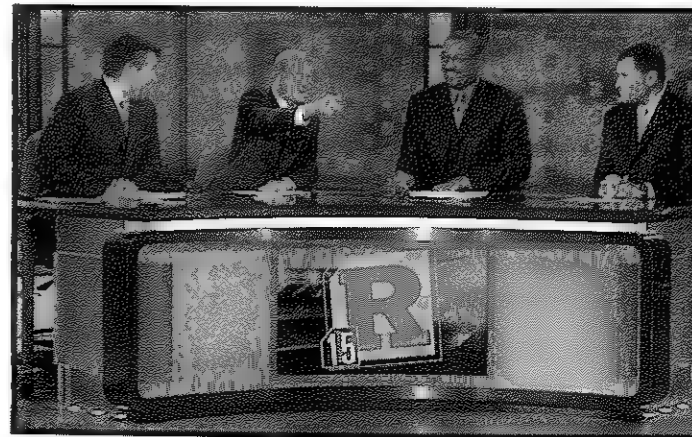

WEEKLY PRESS LUNCHEON

Coach Schiano and selected players will be available each Monday at the Rutgers Football Luncheon. Coach Schiano will address the media from 12:30-1:00 p.m. while the players are available from 1:30-2:15 p.m.

The luncheon will be held on the third floor of the Hale Center.

CollegePressBox.com

CollegePressBox.com is the official media website for BIG EAST Conference football. Access and download weekly game notes, quotes, statistics, media guides and more for the conference. Login information will be distributed to accredited media only.

MEDIA INFORMATION

RUTGERS RADIO NETWORK

All Rutgers football games will be broadcast over the Rutgers Radio Network to 50,000 watt WOR 710-AM in New York City and Central Jersey's WCTC 1450-AM.

Rutgers Football Radio Network play-by-play announcer Chris Carlin is well known to sports radio fans throughout the State of Rutgers. The 34-year-old Carlin is in his seventh year with the Rutgers Radio Network, including his fourth as the play-by-play voice of Rutgers Football. Carlin is also a sportscaster on WFAN radio in New York and serves as a reporter on CNB's Television Show "Out of Bounds." Carlin has also done play-by-play for the New York Giants for the previous three seasons.

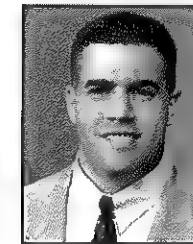

Tim Perneti is entering his seventh season as the color commentator for the Rutgers Football Radio Network. Perneti attended Rutgers on football scholarship and was a four-year letterwinner (90-93) as a tight end, and also played one year in high school (Ramapo Regional) under current Rutgers head coach Greg Schiano. He graduated in 1993 with a BA in Journalism and Television, and in 1994 with an MA in Communications.

Perneti also serves as Executive Vice President, Content, at CSTV, the first-ever 24 hour college sports network.

Anthony Fucilli returns for his fourth season as the Rutgers Football Radio Network sideline reporter. Fucilli is also a field producer and reporter for MSG Network since 1989.

SCARLET R CLUB

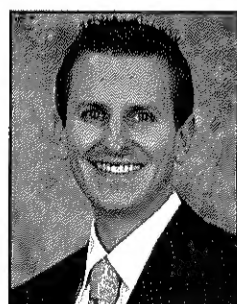

SUPPORTING RUTGERS STUDENT-ATHLETES

When you make a financial contribution in support of Rutgers Athletics you automatically become a member of the Scarlet R Club - an ever-growing team that is widely considered Rutgers' most passionate and loyal supporters. Composed of alumni, fans, parents, and students, membership in the Scarlet R Club provides every Rutgers fan with an opportunity to become a valuable part of the team.

Individually and collectively, Scarlet R members are powerful. Our student-athletes benefit annually from their generosity. Scarlet R members play a crucial role in the overall development of the athletic department. Last year over 175 scholarships, funded by members of the Scarlet R Club, were awarded. Today, Rutgers student-athletes benefit on the field from significant improvements in training facilities and in the classroom from enhanced academic support. Scarlet R members can take pride in knowing their unwavering belief and dedication to Rutgers Athletics makes them each team's MVP.

You can direct your support based upon your interest. You can begin your own scholarship. You can choose to support one or more specific sports programs or the entire athletic department. And, you can give to a fund that provides scholarships to student-athletes, enhances academic support services, or upgrades facilities.

If you are interested in learning more about the ways you can become a member or renew your membership in the Scarlet R Club please contact the Department of Athletic Development. One of the staff members pictured below would be happy to provide you with all the information you need to make the best decision for you and for Rutgers.

JASON KROLL

Senior Associate Athletic Director for Development and Marketing

jkroll@winants.rutgers.edu

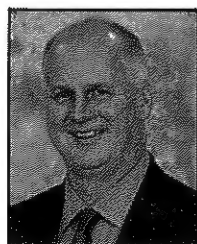

For the second consecutive year, donors to Rutgers Athletics have set new records in giving and participation. The athletic development team has worked with many generous and committed individuals to raise over $17,000,000 since the 2004-2005 academic year - the greatest three-year cumulative total in Rutgers history.

The athletic development operation is overseen by Jason Kroll. He proudly collaborates with energetic and passionate colleagues to deliver a comprehensive fundraising effort in support of Rutgers Athletics. The Scarlet R Club is directed by Lisa Gonzalez with assistance from Jen Richardson. Together they responsible for an array of functions designed to provide Scarlet R Club members with a fulfilling giving experience.

Doug Dolan, a Rutgers alumnus and former president of the Touchdown Club, was recently hired to direct special major gift fundraising initiatives and campaigns. The athletic development staff is capably assisted by Eileen Maiello and Monique Jackson.

Over 175 privately funded scholarships were awarded in 2006-07. The on-going foresight and generosity of Scarlet R members allows our student-athletes competing on Rutgers' athletic teams the opportunity of a lifetime. All of us who study and work at Rutgers extend our thanks to each of our generous scholarship donors. Thank you!

RUTGERS ON TELEVISION

Rutgers has caught the nation's attention in recent years, appearing on television in 35 of the last 36 games, including national television coverage for all 13 games in 2006.

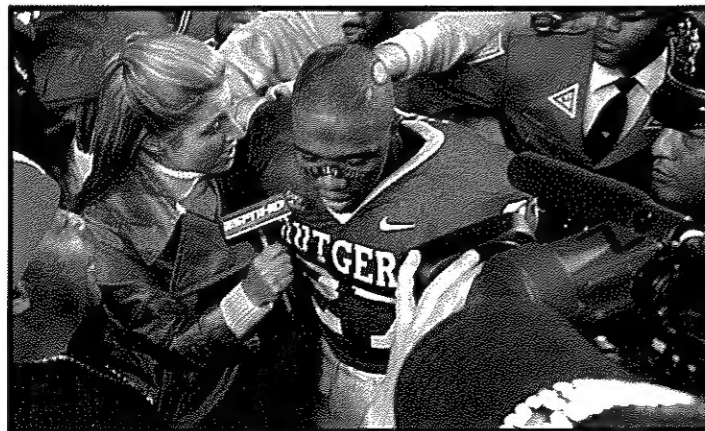

Last season's game vs. Louisville was the second-highest rated college football game in ESPN history and the highest-rated ESPN college sporting event in the New York metropolitan viewing area. In addition, the game was the sixth-highest rated event on cable (sports or non-sports) in New York last year.

Below is a list of the Rutgers football team's appearances on television.

WHY SCARLET?

Rutgers was a pioneer in establishing a college color, and a pioneer in using a color on the sporting field. The color scarlet was first proposed in the campus newspaper, The Targum, in May of 1869. It was adopted shortly thereafter. This color was chosen because it is a striking color and because good scarlet ribbon could be easily obtained. From the time of its choice by the students, scarlet has been the Rutgers color. College and university colors and coats of arms were not unusual in the Old World, but had been little-used in the New World. They came into large and vivid use only when athletics began to take rigorous hold in this country.

In the historic first college football game Nov. 6, 1869, the Princeton team members watched the Rutgers men don turbans and kerchiefs as close to scarlet as possible for team identification. Even without scarlet shirts, the headgear alone had added another "first" – the custom of wearing caps of a team's college, one long-copied over the years of football uniform development.

Sports lore at Rutgers has also known such terms as "Scarlet Scourge" and the lasting "Upstream Rutgers!" from the first big-time grid venture under George Foster Sanford. Through the years, scarlet has become embodied in the literature and songs of the college. Scarlet is identified with its sons and daughters, and is highly emblematic of the school itself.

WHY KNIGHTS?

Since the days when the school was officially known as Queens College, the athletic teams were referred to as the Queensmen. Officially serving as the mascot figure for several football seasons beginning in 1925 was a giant, colorfully felt-covered, costumed representation of an earlier campus symbol, the Chanticleer. Though a fighting bird of the kind other schools have found success with, to some the Chanticleer bore the connotation of "chicken." The Chanticleer remained as the mascot, and Queensmen as the nickname, for some 30 years.

In the early 1950s, in the hope of spurring both the all-around good athletic promise and fighting spirit of Rutgers' teams, a campus-wide selection process changed the mascot to that of a Knight.

By 1955, the Scarlet Knights had become the new Rutgers mascot. The Scarlet-garbed knight, riding a spirited white charger, came to represent a new era – the rejuvenation of first-class football "On the Banks."
